Superliner Gets Shipshape for Voyage

Night scene shows superliner United States, holder of eastbound and westbound trans-Atlantic speed records, during annual drydock at Newport News, Va.

'Slow Down' Campaign Pays

Raleigh — Slow Down and Live, the northeastern and southern states' summer crusade for safer highway travel ended with a 12.2 per cent reduction in motor deaths or a saving of 594 lives.

A summary of the drive was released today from the office of Major C. A. Speed, director of the Motor Vehicles Department's Highway Safety Division and coordinator of North Carolina's part in the slow down project.

The anti-speed program co-sponsored by Gov. William B. Umstead and the governors of 23 other states from Maine to Texas, started during the Memorial Day weekend and closed with the Labor Day weekend. Highway fatalities throughout the region dropped from 4,856 during the summer of 1953 to 4,262 for this year.

Greatest reduction reported by any one state was Louisiana's 40.1 per cent cut according to Major Speed. Records of other states ranged from a 72.3 per cent decrease for Mississippi to a 9.9 per cent decrease in deaths for Maine.

North Carolina reported a 16.0 per cent decrease.

In all, 15 states showed death reductions this year. They were Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Rhode Island, and Vermont.
