

Sea Level Resident Tells Of Her Storm Experience

By EUNICE ROSE PAUL
Sea Level, N. C.

Hurricane Hazel proved to be an exciting experience for me. I was heading shrimp on Thursday night when my husband rushed in the fish house and said, "Hurry and get out of this place. I'm leaving here, you can go or stay."

I changed my clothes rather hurriedly, getting just a part of the shrimp juice off and we got started. He said, "I'm going to Kinston or Beaufort."

I finally persuaded him to go to Atlantic. When we arrived at the school building, the principal, Mr. Johnson, told us Cecil Morris had just been there, saying he had a message from Wilmington advising people who lived in modern houses to move to houses of stronger structure. Then I felt glad we had left home.

I had taken a blanket and pillow with me and my husband, Norwood, took bread and cheese. Even this was a big help. I tried to sleep in the car but couldn't do much of that. Later I ventured in the school building. Lots of people were in there. Children in bright red pajamas and other colors were racing up and down the halls. I found a floor with the word "Ladies" written on it and I went inside. Several small children were stretched out on a bed and mothers and older people were in there. They were very friendly but the light was dim, so I went back to the car and brought in my blanket and pillow and placed it on the floor, thinking I might get a nap, but I couldn't sleep.

I told Norwood when I went back we had to go home and get our dog, which we left upstairs. He said, "You just want me to lose this parking place," but he immediately left and we brought the dog back with us.

About four o'clock Friday, the day of the storm, we went back home again, fixed breakfast and went back to the school. This time I went to sleep for a while.

Later on that day folks from Sea Level came in droves. Mrs. George Golden, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gaskill and family, Vernon Mason and family, Abbott Salter and his family and several others.

Everyone had a frightened expression on his face, except Rosa Belle Elliott was smiling. She said, "Eunice this is the only time I ever get a chance to come to Atlantic and I've been wanting to come down here a long time."

That smile sort of cheered me up. Although I couldn't feel scared during any of this I was like Belle. I enjoyed meeting some of the folks. I talked with a young mother and two small children, whose home was in Wilmington, Delaware. Her little boy asked me to make him a fly boat out of paper, which I did.

News soon spread that Hazel would strike in seven hours, then one half an hour. I still wondered why I wasn't scared. I couldn't see that it looked too bad outside. We left for home about 2 o'clock. The wind was blowing fairly hard then and when we arrived in Sea Level, we found the tide was on the road so we couldn't get near our home. People told us the tide was in our house and the blocks under it had washed away, shingles blown off, etc.

We waited a while and drove the car at least a hundred yards from the house. I put my boots on, but the tide was too high for them, so I had to take them off.

Norwood rolled up his pants and the dog swam. Finally we reached there and several boys went with us to see the tide in the house, but to my surprise when I looked in the window, I found it perfectly dry. But I don't understand why the drift had washed up on the porch several inches.

Mr. and Mrs. Moody Rose and Billie went to Kinston and Lester Gaskill and his family went to New Bern to get out of the storm. Thanks to Norwood for changing his mind that time and going to Atlantic.

Three Women Wear Same 'Exclusive' Dinner Dress

Norman, Okla. (AP) — Three women were the talk of the University of Oklahoma president's reception, but not for the reason they had hoped.

Mrs. Horace B. Brown, wife of the dean of the College of Business Administration, Mrs. Charlyce King, acting counselor of women, and Miss Helen Gregory, teacher at the dance, appeared in identical black velvet dinner dresses.

They had patronized the same "exclusive" shop.

Million Dollar Bridge Originated Back in 1884

St. James, Mich. (AP) — They are building a 100 million dollar bridge across the Straits of Mackinac. The idea is certainly not new as evidenced by a newspaper advertisement hanging in the St. Ignace, Mich. highway ferry house at St. Ignace, Mich.

In the header of the advertisement for an old general store is an illustration of a proposed five-mile-long suspension bridge across the Straits of Mackinac.

Toastmasters Hear Ted Davis

Ted Davis, manager of the Morehead City Chamber of Commerce, was the principal speaker at Wednesday's meeting of the county chapter of Toastmasters International. Mr. Davis' theme was "Traps and Deceptive Devices," and consisted chiefly of humorous entertainment.

The meeting was held in Holden's Restaurant, Beaufort. J. P. Harris, Beaufort, president, and the town's Mayor, C. T. Lewis, served as toastmaster.

Other speakers on the program included P. H. Geer Jr., of Morehead City, who charged that the citizens of this County are "guilty of neglect . . . neglect to the youth of this county." Norwood Young, Beaufort, spoke on "Why I Don't Journalize." Gerald Hill, also of Beaufort, chose "Raising Funds for Civic Organizations" as his subject.

Gene C. Smith, Beaufort attorney, served as general critic. Individual critics included Dr. W. L. Woodard, Beaufort, who evaluated Mr. Geer's speech; Jasper Bell, Morehead City, critic for Mr. Young; Walt Hamilton, Morehead City, critic for Mr. Hill; and Theodore Phillips of Morehead City, as well as Gordon Hardesty of Beaufort, both of whom were evaluators for Mr. Davis.

Dan Walker, Beaufort, served as topic master, and distributed sealed topics for two-minute, temporary talks to Mr. Bell, Mr. Hamilton, Mr. Hardesty, E. G. Phillips, all of Morehead City, and Elmer R. Willis, Davis.

Toastmasters International is a club to train its members to speak fluently at public gatherings. The club voted Wednesday to meet once a week, instead of twice monthly, as has been the custom heretofore. The change was made in order for its members, now numbering approximately 30, to have the chance to participate more often in the programs.

Hereafter the club will meet in Beaufort on alternate Wednesdays. Next week's meet will be held at 7 a.m., in the dining room of the Hotel Fort Macon, Morehead City, and every other Wednesday thereafter.

French to Build Atomic Machine

Paris (AP) — France will start building a synchrotron (atomic energy accelerator) next spring, according to Prof. Francis Perrin, French High Commissioner of Atomic Power.

The big accelerator, part of a five-year plan for the development of atomic energy for non-military purposes in France, is expected to develop two billion electron-volts and be the most powerful in Europe until completion of that planned by the European Center of Nuclear Research at Geneva, which will develop 25 billion electron-volts. The Geneva accelerator is not expected to be completed until 1960.

The French machine will take three years to build.

Re-Styling Marks Chevrolets

A styling advance from any point of view is claimed by the company for 1955 Chevrolets. The latest lineup of 14 models has been completely restyled and in addition incorporates the widest array of chassis improvements ever offered by Chevrolet on a new model. The Bel Air 4-door sedan is pictured above.

Social Security Now Applies To Farm Workers

"Farm people in Carteret County should be assured that the social security office is prepared and qualified to serve them with complete information about the new changes in the social security law," R. M. Williams, county agent, reports.

Mr. Williams pointed out that the 1954 amendments to social security give insurance protection to both farm operators and farm workers. "The costs are low, and the benefits are great," he said.

Beginning January 1955, persons who farm for themselves will be included in social security if they make as much as $400 a year profit from their farming operations. Farm workers are included if they are paid cash wages of $100 a year or more from any one farmer.

The first thing these people should do, the county agent explained, is get social security cards if they don't already have them. The farm operator will report his own earnings at the end of each year — at the time he files his income tax return. The social security law provides a very simple way of doing this — farmers won't have to do any complicated book-keeping. Wages of farm employees will be reported to the government by the person they work for.

Details about these things can be had from the social security office. Persons in that office will be glad to explain to persons who call at the office; or to send informational booklets to those requesting them. A social security representative has office hours at the courthouse, Beaufort, and the postoffice in Morehead City every other week. The time of his visits appears in THE NEWS-TIMES calendar of events.

In 1953, she reports, only 960 persons were killed by cars turning left while 2,200 were killed by those turning right. But for middle-of-the-roaders, she has this solemn fact: over 30,000 were killed by cars going straight ahead.

Recent research indicates that the common impression that athletes develop enlarged hearts and die young of heart disease is false.

Heads Drive

Palmer Laughridge Jr., Salisbury insurance executive, has been named chairman of the 1955 March of Dimes campaign in North Carolina, succeeding Secretary of State Thad Eure, who headed the drives in 1953-54.

San Pedro, Calif. (AP) — Mechanic Jerry I. Jackson told police that the only thing that wasn't stolen from him in a tour of waterfront bars was his dog. The dog followed him from bar to bar and was still with him when Jackson discovered he'd lost his wrist watch, a diamond ring, wallet, cigarette lighter, and $80 in cash.

Old Money Order Reaches Soldier

Richlands, Va. (AP) — A money order for $27.50 has finally caught up with Douglas Mullins after almost 10 years.

The order, dated Dec. 7, 1944, was mailed to Mullins at Company I, 14th Infantry, Ft. Benning, Ga. It arrived here almost 10 years later in a letter to Postmaster B. P. Lambert from the American consulate in Florence, Italy.

The consulate said it got the money order by mail with no explanation except that it was found in the lining of an old army uniform. Postmaster Lambert forwarded it to Mullins, who now lives at Fort Pierce, Fla., and also notified the sender, Marie Buckles.

Dog Remains

San Pedro, Calif. (AP) — Mechanic Jerry I. Jackson told police that the only thing that wasn't stolen from him in a tour of waterfront bars was his dog. The dog followed him from bar to bar and was still with him when Jackson discovered he'd lost his wrist watch, a diamond ring, wallet, cigarette lighter, and $80 in cash.

Shriners to See Movie Nov. 12

Carteret County Shriners will view a movie depicting the story of the Grand Canyon at the next meeting of the Carteret County Shrine Club Friday, Nov. 12. It was announced today by N. L. Walker, Beaufort, president of the club.

The movie, recently released by an oil company, is entitled "In the Beginning," and is billed as "a motion picture without a cast, without an actor, without a single living being," with Father Time as its motive force.

It is geological time as written on the walls of the canyon, and reveals the Earth's crust laid bare, so that all who can read the rocks can know the story of the canyon, Mr. Walker said. The picture opens with views of the earth in the days when it was a molten mass of fire, and traces its geological ages through billions of years to the present time.

The film requires 28 minutes to be shown, and was over two years in the making. It was directed by John J. Hennessy, independent Hollywood film consultant. Camera-men traveled on foot, by mule, by boat, and in the air, flying as low as 4,000 feet below the canyon rim to shoot the walls of Inner Gorge, where the rocks are the oldest known to man.

The movie will climax a general meeting of the Shriners, scheduled to be held at 8 p.m. in the Recreation Center, Morehead City. All Carteret Shriners are urged to attend the showing, and are advised also to wear their fezzes.

Des Moines (AP) — A parolee is not eligible for medical treatment at a penal institution hospital says an Iowa attorney general's ruling. If the parole is revoked, the person involved then would become eligible for hospital aid, the opinion added.

ELECTION NOTICE

"Eternal Vigilance is the Price of Liberty" THIS WAS TRUE 2200 YEARS AGO AND IT IS TRUE TODAY

The Roman Republic endured for 300 years as a virile, thriving nation. Then the voters, the so-called thinking voters, quit going to the polls and left the voting to the rabble. Unscrupulous generals soon controlled the votes of the rabble and the generals, a succession of them, declared themselves Emperors. And, as Emperors they enslaved the people, taxed them to near starvation. And the Roman empire fell.

In more recent times Germany was a confederation of states ruled by kings who followed the will of the people as expressed at the polls. But, by 1860, the peoples of the various German states had fallen into the errors of the Romans of another era, and quit voting.

Thus it became easy for imperialistic-minded William I of Prussia to coerce all the German states into a single nation dominated by him alone as dictator king. Through threat, reprisal and economic pressure William I raised vast armies from his satellite German states.

There was no one to say him NAY. THE PEOPLE HAD FORFEITED THEIR RIGHTS. They forfeited them because they were too lazy, too stupid to vote when they had the privilege to vote.

William I stole the two best provinces of Denmark, subjugated Austria by war, marched into France in 1870 and in 90 days prostrated that nation. From France he collected $600,000,000 in GOLD. And to this day France has never recovered. After those "triumphs" King William I declared himself EMPEROR WILLIAM I.

William II, unchecked by the will of his people who no longer could vote, and convinced by his generals that he could conquer all of Europe embarked on World War I.

Failing in his conquest he was succeeded by a Republic, which like the Roman empire of old, was directed by the generals of the army.

The Republic was succeeded by Hitler, tool of the generals. All of you know the story. But are all of you aware that the downfall of Germany can be traced to but one fault? The German peoples long ago failed to vote when they had the privilege to vote!
