

New Pier at Money Island

The Atlantic Beach Fishing pier is the newest on Bogue Banks. It is located at Money Island, a short distance east of Atlantic Beach and has been the scene of excellent catches of blues, sheepshead and sea mullets so far this season. This picture was taken as it was nearing completion. Other ocean fishing piers are the Triple-Ess east of this one and another now being built at Emerald Isle.

Teen-Agers' Sleepiness Called Normal Process

(This column is sponsored in the interest of better health by the Carteret County Tuberculosis Association.)

Does your teen-ager sleep till noon on Saturday to the tune of the vacuum cleaner and other assorted bedlam? Does he (including she, of course) do his geometry stretched out on his bed? Does he carry on his telephoning sprawled on the floor? Is he always too tired to help with the dishes?

He may be ill, but he's more likely to be normal. And he isn't faking either. Teen-agers tire easily for one or more of a dozen reasons, doctors tell us. It's just natural for them to need extra rest and sleep. Fortunately, it's one of those periods of life about which parents can say hopefully, "They'll grow out of it." Wise parents can help them get through this period with the least fatigue. First, of course, it is important to be sure that there is no illness causing your teen-ager's tiredness. He should have a thorough physical examination and chest X-ray as often as the doctor advises. Unhappiness and worry also can cause fatigue. It isn't always easy for parents to get to the bottom of the anxieties from which adolescents sometimes suffer seriously. The family doctor can often be of great assistance.

The major reasons for normal fatigue are rapid growth, too little sunshine and outdoor exercise, an overloaded schedule of social and school activities, poor diet, and overweight. You can't slow up your teen-ager's growth, but you can make sure that he gets plenty of outdoor exercise and a proper diet with the extra protein he needs.

You can help him budget his time so that he can get his work done, have fun, and still get to bed at a reasonable hour.

Army's Last Saddle Maker to Retire Soon

Ft. Carson, Colo. (AP)—M/Sgt. Vaughn E. Jones, probably the last master saddle maker in the Army, is due for retirement soon after almost 20 years work for the cavalry.

In 1950 the Army closed the last saddle-making school at Ft. Riley, Kan., and Jones started caring for modern machine guns and recoilless rifles.

But the 40-year-old soldier says he will open a saddle shop as soon as he's a civilian.

St. Louis Kids Will Know Farm as Well as Jungle

St. Louis (AP)—Most St. Louis children are experts on polar bears, gorillas and the like, but not enough of them know about such critters as pigs, chickens and cows.

That's why city officials are considering a barnyard display at the St. Louis zoo, possibly in the form of a miniature farm. "This facility will give thousands of city children their first look at a collection of farm animals," said Mayor Raymond R. Tucker.

Judge Insists on His Case Being Taken into Court

Tampa, Fla. (AP)—Damage was insignificant, but Bob Johnson insisted upon being charged with careless driving when his car bumped into another.

In traffic court two days later, Municipal Judge Johnson stepped down from his bench, pleaded guilty to the charge, was fined $10. Then he went back to work, listening with sympathetic ear to other people's troubles.
