Beautician Also Conducts Fishing Classes Weekends at Lake Texoma

By BRUCE HENDERSON

Dallas, Tex. (AP)—Meet Henrietta Tracy, who'll trim your gails week days and teach you how to fish on Sunday.

Miss Tracy, a red-haired woman of 42, may be the only manicurist who doubles as fishing expert.

During the week she spruces up hands at the swank Hotel Adolphus barbershop here—smiling, polite and urbane in white uniform.

Weekends she turns into outdoorswoman extraordinary. Henrietta heads for shimmering, 142,700-acre Lake Texoma and teaches people—mostly wives and young boys—how to fish and pilot boats.

She has been doing this three years, and the barbershop regulars think she's quite a gal. "Hi, Tug-boat Annie!" one chided the other day as his face was lathered. She laughed and shot back, "Don't you wish YOU' could go fishing every weekend?"

"I've always loved fishin'," says Henrietta, "ever since I was a little girl."

Born on Louisiana's Cane River, near Natchitoches, she cast her first line at 6. She went to beautician school and began manicuring here in the 1930s. But weekends usually found her drifting across a lake, rod and reel in hand.

Three years ago she decided lots of folks want to learn about fishing but don't know how. Henrietta began weekend classes, aimed mainly at wives tired of feeling like outcasts on hubby's fishing trips—and youngsters getting their first taste of the outdoors.

She started by renting a metal boat and running it with a three-horsepower engine she owned. Since then, she estimates, some 100 persons have taken her course. She has bought a 22-foot cruiser (Miss Henri) with a 40-horsepower engine. It cost $3,000.

Friday nights after work Henrietta drives in her 1950 sedan and gives the 60 miles or so to Lake Texoma, which straddles the Texas-Oklahoma border north of Dallas. She has no lodge or building there, just the cruiser. She stocks it with tackle, bait, ice and water.

Henrietta meets two groups each weekend—the first for 12 hours Saturday, the second for 12 hours Sunday. She furnishes everything except food.

She says she can teach you the fundamentals of boating and fishing in three 12-hour stretches. Her charge: $15 for 12 hours, a total of $45 for the course.

"The first thing I teach 'em is how to handle a boat safely. I show how to start the engine, steer and row. Then we go into fishing. I show 'em how to put a minnow on a hook... how to still fish, cast, troll, put out trotlines.

Miss Henrietta Tracy

"Fishing is hard work, and the secret is patience. Keep your line over the side, and don't dabble it up and down. The minnow will do the dabbler. The best time to fish is 6-8 a.m. and 5-7 p.m. I don't know why, but they seem to bite best then. Sometimes it's good fishing at night, between midnight and 2 a.m. The best night fishing is July and August."

Coast Guard Suggests Boaters Notify Relatives

Seaford, Va. (AP)—The Coast Guard suggests that persons who will be delayed on boating trips notify relatives.

W. A. Mitchell's boat developed engine trouble enroute here and he put in at Hampton and spent the night. Next day when he arrived here he was surprised to find the Coast Guard, commercial vessels and private craft scouring the York river and Chesapeake Bay for him. His family had become alarmed.

For 25 years, Mrs. Blanche Elton of Dormont, Pa., has worked every Wednesday as a volunteer for the American Red Cross, making about 400 surgeons' masks every year.

Parking Meters Installed Early

Jacksonville Beach, Fla. (AP)—This town's first parking meters were installed last year before the ordinance authorizing them became effective.

By the time the law took effect, conscientious parkers had poured over $300 into the machines. Since the money was collected without authorization of law, the city donated it to the March of Dimes.

Now the situation has been repeated with 200 more meters. On the date they were supposed to go into operation, officials found they already had collected $164.35.

Mosquitoes were very little known, scientifically, until the end of the last century when their role in spreading human disease began to be noted.
