Everyone wishes the Juniors a great big success with this drive. They're not asking for donations. It's a fair exchange—your money and their magazines.

was the "spookiest" of all spook houses ever. All persons with weak hearts were warned not to enter. The brave ones are still recovering. As a result of their visit, many students have a new hair do. The curly locks are now drastically straight; black hair—gray, and some have no hair at all. You will have to imagine how a crew cut looks!

Stealing a quotation from some man, I say, "Orchids to the Beaufort Sea Dogs for their recent victory, and hope they have many more in the future."

The president, Ada Sue Owens used the opening ritual at the meeting of the FHA Monday in the school auditorium. The following new officers, President Jackie Young, vice-president Julia Owens, secretary Nancy Mason, treasurer Annie Fay Taylor, reporter Frances Willis, parliamentary Nancy Longest, historian Barbara Fulcher, song leader Eloise Dudley and pianist Bunny Moore, were installed by the outgoing officers.

City Has Hard Time with Bees

Port Huron, Mich. (AP)—A swarm of bees lit at a busy intersection, diving on pedestrians and swarming into cars before surprised motorists rolled up windows.

Their queen took a liking to a traffic light. The swarm followed. Soon nobody could tell whether the light was green or red and there was a traffic jam.

Then the bees left for the Elk's Temple and someone called a cop. He called the dog warden. He called conservation officers. They all passed. Then a wise guy dragged a no parking sign near them, but they didn't bite.

Henry Johnson drove up, plucked the queen bee into a hive and the rest followed.

Polio Foundation Sets Goal for '56

The goal, announced by the foundation this week is lower than the previous one for the second year in a row. In 1954 the foundation asked for 75 million dollars, the highest goal it ever set. For this year it dropped its sights to 64 million dollars.

The foundation predicted that Polio cases this year would total 30,000 throughout the country and it expected a similar total in 1956. These nationwide totals would be about 25 per cent less than the average number of cases over the past five years.

Postoffices Use New Type Orders

A new money order form is now being used by postoffices.

"To curb the raising of postal money orders, the postoffice department has redesigned the money order form at first and second class post offices, including the stations and branches." Postmaster Harold Webb, Morehead City, announced today.

The purchaser's application has been discontinued. In the new form the amount requested by the purchaser is written in the money blocks on the order, the purchaser's receipt and the post office stamp, and then a rubber stamp impression is inserted in the proper space to indicate the next higher amount in multiples of $10.

For example, Mr. Webb pointed out, a money order showing the figure 6 in the dollar block bears a rubber stamp impression showing TEN in the proper space. An order written for any sum between $10.01 and $20 would bear a rubber stamp impression of the word TWENTY, etc.

After detaching the post office stub and partially separating the purchaser's receipt, the order is handed to the patron. It is the purchaser's responsibility for entering his name and address as well as the name of the payee. The money orders are the same as cash until the payee's name is written thereon, according to the postmaster.

Lecture Series At St. Egbert's To Begin Monday

The third annual series of lectures on the teachings of the Catholic Church will be given in St. Egbert's Church, Morehead City, on the Monday nights of October, according to the Rev. J. Paul Byron, Pastor.

The lectures are sponsored by the Catholics of North Carolina, and a similar series is offered this month in cities throughout the state.

Interest in the Catholic Church, said Father Byron, has been growing in recent years. This is true, he pointed out, even in states like North Carolina where Catholics form only a very small segment of the population. For those who would like further information about the Catholic Church, the lectures are being offered, he said.

The general topics of the lectures will be: The History of the Catholic Church (first two lectures); the Catholic Church and the Bible (third and fourth lectures).

The lectures will begin at 8 p.m. Oct. 10, 17, 24, and 31. "The public is warmly invited," Father Byron said.

Catholics of Morehead City and Beaufort will issue house-to-house invitations to all the homes in the area during the coming week. This will consist of a letter of invitation and welcome from Father Byron, who will deliver the lectures.
