

Power Company to Put Up 1,200 See Rarin' Buckin' Second Morehead Substation Rodeo at Beaufort Sunday

Carolina Power and Light Co. was given permission to erect an additional substation at a new Morehead City location by the town commissioners Thursday night.

The town board voted to rezone as "industrial" the entire block between 24th and 25th Streets between Bay and Avery Streets, next to the town trash dump.

George Stovall, manager of CP&L here, said that with the erection of the substation his company would be able to offer sufficient power to any new industry which might decide to locate in Morehead City.

The recommendation for rezoning was made in a letter sent the board by Marvin Mills, zoning board chairman. One substation is already located at 5th and Bridges.

In reply to another request by Theodore Economon for the rezoning of his property in block 170 at the spur track north of Arendell Street, the clerk of the board was requested to write the zoning board and find out from them a description of Mr. Economon's property and the zoning board's recommendations in regard to the request.

Permit Requested

George Ball appeared on behalf of Floyd Kenneth Bratcher to obtain a permit to operate a taxi. The board requested that Mr. Bratcher submit several character references before they act on the matter.

The board voted to evict the tenants from the town-owned house on the corner of 23rd and Fisher Streets since the town expects to dispose of the property. It was noted that the tenants of this house have never paid any rent.

On the matter of street lights for Yaupon Terrace in the Bruce Goodwin Development, the clerk was directed to find out exactly what was wanted and the cost of the lights.

A light request for west alley on the north side of the 400 block of Fisher Street was approved.

College Approved

The commissioners voted to make a resolution and send it to Charles McCullers in Kinston giving their approval of Kinston as the site for the proposed new four-year co-ed Presbyterian college.

Mayor George Dill gave a report on the water rate increase hearing that he attended in Raleigh, and he stated that he was more confused after leaving the meeting than when it began.

The mayor noted that he would write to the State Highway Department concerning a bill for $4,200 owed by the town. He said that the hurricanes played havoc with the town and that he was certain that he could explain the matter to the highway department.

Stanley Woodland was granted permission to build a concrete seawall on his property at 408 South 15th St.

Franchise Corrected

The board corrected the taxi franchise of Melissa Monroe, listing it in her name instead of James Monroe.

"No parking" signs west of 24th Street on the north side of Evans Street were ordered removed by the board. It was voted to set up a "No Parking Here to Corner" sign at the southwest corner of 16th and Bridges Streets.

Signs ruling it illegal to park 25 feet from the crosswalk on the west side of Evans Street and 25 feet from the crosswalk southward on 12th Street were ordered put up.

In reply to a letter from Clyde Douglass the commissioners stated all trash that has been dumped on the land adjacent to the city dump will be removed and placed on the dump.

The residents of Homes Drive, Park Drive, and Arvon Avenue, reported through Commissioner Jasper Bell that they had the $1,500 for the sewer installation in that area. The commissioners stated that the work will be done.

Attending the meeting were Mayor Dill, Commissioners Jasper Bell, D. J. Hall, Ted Garner, G. E. Sanderson, and Sam Holloway, Town Clerk John Lashley and Town Attorney George McNeill.

All fall down and go boom! That's exactly what was happening to the contestants in the bucking events at the second annual Banks Pony Rodeo at Legion Field in Beaufort Sunday afternoon. Over 1,200 persons attended the colorful show. The sun was bright and the sky the blue that only autumn brings to the coast.

Events that had the contestants hitting the turf were the bareback yearling ride, the roped yearling ride, bareback pony ride and the bareback steer riding.

Don Styron, Cedar Island, was the winner of two events in the boys' division. He won the potato race for the second straight year, and also stayed on the roped yearling for 8 seconds to win that event.

Goodwin Hangs On

Perry Goodwin, Cherry Island, was the winner of the bareback yearling event when he stayed aboard for 5 seconds. Two of the contestants in this event both hit the dirt in the amazingly quick time of 2 seconds.

Maxwell Simpson, Atlantic, won the run-off of the big saddle race from Alfred Morris, Atlantic. Each of the men had won their first heats from three other contestants.

In Simpson's first heat, he was trailing Royce Goodwin, Cedar Island, on the fourth lap of the five-lap race when Goodwin was unseated and had the wind knocked out of him.

Decision Awarded

H. F. Fairless, Cherry Point, and originally from Illinois, was awarded the judges' decision over L. E. Nordman, Cherry Point and Oklahoma, in the bareback pony ride.

A special event had Linwood Fulcher's bulldog showing how a dog would catch a steer. The dog kept leaping off the ground and nipping at the steer's ear until he had him cornered.

The final event on the program was to have been the riding of the bucking saddled ponies, but the ponies just weren't briefed, and they refused to buck.

Music between events was offered by Happy Jack Smith and his Southern Pals, with Ray Cummins acting as master of ceremonies.

Judges were Dick Parker and Grover Munden, Morehead City, and Mayor C. T. Lewis of Beaufort. Timekeeper was Hal Shapiro, sports editor of THE NEWS-TIMES.
