4-H Offers Opportunity to Adults To Serve as Leaders in Club Work

By MRS. JOHN B. KELLY
County Adult 4-H Leader

There are many opportunities awaiting the rural adults of Carteret County, which would enrich the lives of both the young and old. It is up to each of us to recognize these opportunities and contribute by volunteering to assist in every way we can, in the training of our young boys and girls, who will be tomorrow's leaders in our community, county, state and nation.

Our interest in the youth, and our willingness to help them will be an inspiration to our boys and girls to do their best.

Our greatest opportunity, and the need is great today, in Carteret County, is to work with our 4-H club boys and girls as adult leaders. Every 4-H Club should have one or more adult leaders in the community to help and encourage them in their work.

We, as conscientious parents and adults should awaken to the call and strive to help them uphold their 4-H motto: "To Make the Best Better," with our mutual goal being to make this a better world.

Each of us who accepts leadership in our local clubs counts it a great privilege to be able to serve in "the largest rural youth organization in the world," a worthwhile organization that has grown from a small club of 12 members in 1909 to over two million 4-H club members today.

The 4-H Club originated in North Carolina and our state still leads all the others in enrollment.

If there is any question as to what we could do to help this organization, may I suggest first of all, that we study and learn all we can about the 4-H program. We may work with a small group of boys, or girls, or both, who live within a short distance of our home.

Each member will be enrolled in an agricultural project (such as corn, pig, garden, dairy calf or in a homemaking project (such as home improvement, clothing, frozen foods, canning, food preparation, and home management). Also, every 4-H Club member is expected to carry the health project in addition to his or her project in agriculture or homemaking.

There are 44 projects from which a club member may choose. Information concerning all these projects is available through our county extension agents. Our job is to help these boys and girls to choose and carry out their project and assist them in difficulties that may arise between the times of their regular meetings with their agents.

Organization of a neighborhood or community club is a great asset to any community. We can obtain the names from our home or county agent, of all the boys and girls of 4-H age in our community, and call a meeting of these children and their parents to organize a club. This would stimulate interest in 4-H work and be lots of fun and recreation as well.

It is a part of every 4-H Club member's job to keep a record of his or her project. We can assist them in keeping these record books. Impress upon them the need of having it up to date at all times.

We should use every means to stimulate their interest in special county events. Encourage each member to exhibit his project work on such occasions as County 4-H Achievement Day and county and state fairs. Help to provide ways of transportation in order that more may attend these events.

There are numerous opportunities for adult leadership in helping plan and present their annual 4-H Church Sunday programs. The County 4-H Camp, held annually, needs leaders to serve as counselors.

Let's put our shoulder to the wheel, folks, and start the 4-H wagon rolling in Carteret County. We have the boys and girls who have the talent and ambition to work. We also have very efficient farm and home agents to work with them, so let's do our part.

Our own lives will be greatly enriched as a result of our experiences with them. We will learn as we serve, but most of our reward will come in the satisfaction we feel in having had a part in helping boys and girls become better citizens, and making our community a better place.

Then we can join them in saying:

I Pledge:

My Head to clearer thinking,
My Heart to greater loyalty,
My Hands to larger service and
My Health to better living for My Club, my Community and my Country.

Income

Eligible self employed pay a compromise percentage — 3 per cent — but on the same amount of earnings — up to $4,200. No social security tax need be paid if your applicable net earnings in the year were under $400, however.

If you were partly self employed, and partly an employe in 1955, earning some wages from which social security taxes were withheld, deduct from $4,200 the amount of wages from which taxes were withheld.

You pay the 3 per cent social security tax of the self employed on the balance, up to $4,200. Your maximum social security tax if you were self employed, is $126 for 1955.

You figure out your social security tax for self employment on page 3 of Schedule C (Schedule F for farmers), which has instructions on the back.

You may have to file a social security tax return (including Form 1040) even though you owe no income tax.

At the bottom of this page is Schedule SE, for reporting your social security tax. Both husband and wife must fill out separate Schedules SE (even if they are filing jointly) if both are reporting for social security.

Occupations excluded from social security are those of public officials, physician, lawyer, dentist, osteopath, veterinarian, chiropractor, naturopath, optometrist, and (unless they specifically ask to be covered) ministers of the gospel including Christian Science practitioners.

Types of income excluded are set out in the instructions on page 4 of Schedule C.

Get Behind The 4-H CLUB

HERE'S WHY . . .

The fine training provided the young citizens better prepares them for all phases of rural life.

Through 4-H projects they acquire skills and knowledge of better methods for better living.

By demonstration they gain experience in public speaking and learn better ways to serve their community by informing others of improved methods.

The 4-H Club members point the way to better citizenship and happier ways of life.
