Strange Cargo: Plane Rides Home in Boat

The airplane owned by Earl Noe, Beaufort, and damaged at Ocracoke last week, was brought back to Beaufort Saturday by Capt. David Beveridge in his boat, Jerry.

The plane landed at Ocracoke and a gust of wind caught it and turned it over before it could be anchored. The plane was moved by skiff to the Jerry and then put aboard. It was unloaded at the Beaufort postoffice dock by use of a block and tackle.

It is now being repaired.

Symphony Officer Says Concerts Were Success

Frank Cassiano, chairman of the North Carolina Symphony Society in this county, reports that the concerts last week were a financial success.

He also reports that the number of children who attended the afternoon concert Friday at the Morehead City School exceeded last year's number by several hundred.

Memberships sold to the adult concert financed the concert for children.

Mr. Cassiano has expressed his appreciation to all who made the symphony's appearance here a success.

Offering a fine view of Bogue Sound, the newly-erected Capt. Bill's Waterfront Restaurant will have its grand opening tomorrow, following a gala Shrine party and dance tonight.

The restaurant, built at a cost of $50,000, is 30 feet wide and 140 feet long with seating capacity for approximately 400 people.

Capt. Bill Ballou, owner and operator of the restaurant, said that the new building will have all of the new and modern innovations, including an all-electric kitchen. Specialties of the house will be seafood, steaks, chops and chicken.

Capt. Bill's will be open daily and Sundays from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Captain Bill, a native of Morehead City, has been in the restaurant business on the waterfront since 1943, after having been a restaurateur on Arendell Street and operator of a sports fishing fleet.

The original Capt. Bill's Restaurant was opened in 1943 and had previously been the location of the Morehead City Yacht Club.

As Captain Bill said, "In 1941 and 1942 our location was used as an Officers Club and we originally used the same building for our restaurant. This building we have today is brand new."

For visitors to Morehead City and the county this summer and in years to come, the new restaurant with its expanded facilities will offer a fine eating, greeting and meeting place, the owner concluded.
