

L. G. Dunn Withdraws As President Candidate

With the election of officers slated for this coming Monday evening, L. G. Dunn, candidate for president, dropped a bombshell at Monday night's meeting of the Morehead City Jaycees when he announced that he was withdrawing from the race.

Mr. Dunn remains a candidate for the office of external vice-president.

Dr. Bob Barnum spoke on behalf of the candidacy of Bob McLean and Bob Davis spoke on behalf of Herbert Phillips for the presidency.

Luther Lewis spoke on his own behalf for internal vice-president and on behalf of Jerry Willis for director.

Mr. Phillips spoke on behalf of Mr. Davis for external vice-president and James Kennedy and Floyd Chadwick each spoke on their own behalf for the office of treasurer.

District Meeting
Plans for the district meeting have been completed, according to Mr. Dunn. Registration will take place April 14 at Bud Dixon's Motel, with the cocktail party and dance to be held at the Blue Ribbon Club. The business meeting will be at the City Theatre Sunday morning, April 15.

President Russell Outlaw reported that approximately 20 Jaycees attended the Chamber of Commerce dinner last Thursday.

Russ Willan reported that the Little League fence is ready to be put up. He announced that an additional 10 signs have been ordered, as have booster banners which will be sold in Morehead City.

Insurance Obtained
It was also reported that insurance for all players, managers, and league officials has been obtained and the league is ready to start the season.

Dr. Outlaw announced that the civic committee will investigate the cleaning up of Morehead City. This followed reading of a letter from a tourist who commented on the trash along Arendell Street.

Former Governor Sets Record for Announcement

Albuquerque, N. M. (AP)—Former Gov. Edwin L. Mechem may have set some sort of record for brevity in announcing he would be a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

Asked if he would make the race, Mechem replied: "Yup." Asked if he would make any other comments, he replied: "Nope."

Former Army Officer Speaks To Rotary Club

A former Yugoslavian Army officer, Col. Spasoje Lozokovich, who is making his home in this county, was the speaker Tuesday night at the meeting of the Beaufort Rotary Club at the Inlet Inn.

He was introduced by Mrs. H. D. MacFarlane, Gloucester.

The speaker told of communism in his homeland, stating that the majority of the people weren't members of the Communist party but had to abide by party policy in order to exist.

He commented that Radio Free Europe was not reaching many of his people since they couldn't afford to purchase radios. He said that prior to World War II a radio in Yugoslavia cost about $14 to $20 and now one would cost about $280 to $350.

As for clothing, he remarked that a man's suit, which cost about $21 to $30 before the war, now costs between $140 and $200.

If a person in his country were found to have democratic leanings, the government took away that person's ration cards, the speaker declared.

As for food packages sent to Yugoslavia, it was mentioned that those sent to individuals probably got through, but those that went through organizations usually wound up in the possession of the Communists.

People who believe that packages have been sent them, inquire for them and are told that they may have a package but to return in two or three weeks, the speaker said.

This time-lapse enables the authorities to check up on the "allegiance" of the person to whom the package is addressed.

Colonel Lozokovich was captured by the Germans early in the second World War. He spent several years in a German prison camp, where he learned to read and write English. He was in a camp for displaced persons, following the war, for four years because he could not return to his homeland. Yugoslavia had fallen into the communist orbit.

The former Army officer said that he was fortunate to be employed by Mr. and Mrs. MacFarlane at Chicago when he came to

This is not a commercial contest. It is sponsored by civic organizations. Deadline for entry April 14, 1956, 6 p.m.

Morehead City civic organizations have undertaken an intensive campaign to get street markers placed at every intersection throughout town.

Just to show how difficult it is in Morehead City to find places and streets, the street marker committee, headed by Owens Frederick, has come up with a contest. Above are listed 10 addresses. Contestants have to fill in the name of the person who lives at that address and then take his completed blank to the last address. There he will receive a prize if the names he has filled in are correct.

Folks are given until 6 p.m. next Saturday, April 14, to try for a prize.

Rotarian Jack Oakley was in charge of the program.

Guests at the meeting were Morehead City Rotarian Tom Noe and Mr. and Mrs. MacFarlane.

Clifford Faglie Will Preside At Lodge Session

Clifford Faglie, Morehead City, president of the Bright Belt Log Rolling Association, will preside at the semi-annual meeting of the association Friday, April 20, at Rock Ridge.

The Rock Ridge and Lucama lodges will be host. The afternoon business session will start at 4:30 p.m. in the Rock Ridge School Auditorium.

Mr. Faglie announces that the supper for all Morehead City Woodmen will be paid for by their camp. Those planning to attend should inform R. L. Turnage, financial secretary, 6-5234, by Monday night. Supper tickets bought now will cost less than if purchased at Rock Ridge.

The Bright Belt Log Rolling Association is made up of 50 Woodmen Lodges located in Beaufort, Carteret, Craven, Edgecombe, Greene, Halifax, Jones, Lenoir, Nash, Onslow, Pamlico, Pitt, Wayne, and Wilson Counties. Over 400 delegates from these counties are expected.

The afternoon session will feature an address by State Manager Nick T. Newberry of Charlotte. The night session will start at 7 p.m. with a supper in the Rock Ridge School Cafeteria. The highlight of this session will be the address of national president of the Woodmen of the World, Howard M. Lundgren of Omaha, Neb.

Officers of the Bright Belt Log Rolling Association in addition to Mr. Faglie, are J. W. Hodges of New Bern, first vice-president; Willie Dunning of Bethel, second vice-president; and Robert E. Simmons of Kinston, secretary.

Woodmen of this area are invited to attend.

That Dog Is Not An Ornament

Beaver, Utah (AP)—That dog poised atop Frank Gentry's car isn't a radiator ornament—it's a dog. Gentry says the dog, "Tex," got used to riding in the open when the Gentrys had a pickup truck. Tex started riding on the roof when Gentry switched to a car.

"When I tried to put him in the trunk of the car," says Gentry, "he refused to go. He was too used to riding on the outside."

Gentry says the six-year-old Labrador-German Shepherd has ridden on top at speeds of 70 miles an hour—certainly a startling sight to other motorists. But Tex is cautious: He won't ride outside if it's raining or snowing, or if the metal roof is the least bit slippery.

Judge Charges Grand Jury Tuesday Morning

Judge W. H. S. Burgwyn, presiding at a one-week term of Superior Court, which got underway Tuesday morning, told the grand jurors it is their duty to see that proper respect is paid to the law. He told the jurors that they were to make presentments where they found evidence that a crime had been committed.

He named the four capital offenses in this state, murder, rape, first degree burglary and arson, and stated that all members of the jury had to return to the court room when they had a presentment on a capital offense.

Among the other duties of the grand jury, according to Judge Burgwyn, is investigation of the county jail and prison camp.

He promised the grand jurors that the solicitor and he himself would assist them in any way possible.

Speaking of this county, he mentioned that Carteret was one of two counties named after the same man.

Judge Burgwyn remarked that George Carteret was also known as the Earl of Granville, and Granville was the name of the second county in North Carolina named for the earl.

Lesta N. Willis was named foreman of the grand jury, and Capt. Charlie Thomas was appointed as officer.

Members of the grand jury were C. E. Willis, the Rev. Alton Mason, Cecil Gilgo, James W. Morton, Mrs. Vivian Gillikin, Lloyd N. Garner, Wren Lawrence, Blanchard Davis, Charles Merrill, Joseph H. Willis.

Roy E. Willis, Mrs. Betty Williams Tarpey, Marvin H. Powers, J. J. Keel, Leslie Styron, Ivey Gillikin Sr., and Woodrow Bright.

Brownies Make Big Cookie Sales

Two Morehead City Brownie troops sold 1,032 boxes of cookies during the Girl Scout two-week cookie sale last month. Mrs. John James, Morehead City, a director of the Coastal Carolina Girl Scout Council, said she was thrilled with the results.

Each Brownie sold at least 12 boxes which entitled her to a pin. Reports from troops at Newport, Beaufort, and Atlantic were not complete by press time yesterday.

Names of Morehead City Brownies who participated in the sale follow:

Mrs. Marge Todd's third grade troop: Linda Brewer, Sue Bullock, Sharon Cannon, Susan Davis, Frances Davis, Yvonne Dyson, Johnnie Galantis, Linda LaSpava.

Lutie McClain, Sandy Mentschikoff, Janice Morton, Mary Lou Parker, Jane Prest, Janice Sewell, Kandice Smith, Tana Lee Smith.

Gale Swan, Cheryl Todd, Kathleen Wach, Connie Willis, Dottie Willis, Phyllis Simmons, Betty Jo Wood, Carolina Blomberg.

Mrs. Mabel Graham's fourth grade troop: Betty Bortz, Linda Day, Ava Glynn, Jeanette Graham, Frances Hyman, Marie Joyner, Joyce Raper, Dianee Roberts, Jean Stiles, Sherry Wetherington.

Little Shop Specializes In Hero Sandwiches

New York (AP)—A little shop specializes in hero sandwiches—king-sized buns split down the middle for filling. The proprietor found a printed story quoting a dentist who said hero sandwiches are good for the teeth. He had it enlarged, and before hanging it on the wall of his shop, showed it to a customer who had just purchased one of the big sandwiches.

The proprietor turned to hang up his new sign. The customer took his first bite and began to yell. He had broken his lower plate. The hanging of the sign was delayed until the customer left.
