This is Posture Week

Jimmy Owens, left, and Sylvia Harrell, seniors at Beaufort School, represented Carteret in the Correct Posture Contest at Dunn recently. Mr. Owens won second place and a $25 savings bond.

This week, May 1-7 is Correct Posture Week. It is being observed by chiropractors throughout the nation. Emphasis this week has been on correct posture for America's school children.

"Instilling the necessity of good posture in the young child is a practice which will pay great dividends later in the child's life," says Dr. R. O. Barnum, Morehead City chiropractor.

He said the health of 53 per cent of the adults in this country is affected by poor posture, and that 76 per cent of the school children in the United States have some form of postural defect.

Such a high rate of postural distortion in children is due, to a great extent, to the influence the parent has on the child, he continued.

In many instances, one or both parents have poor posture, thus setting a bad example which may be followed by the child. Parents should check on themselves in this respect, Dr. Barnum said.
