Down East Firemen Save Stacy Home

Down East firemen used water from their truck Friday night to put out a fire in the attic of the home of Homer Fulcher, Stacy. It is not known how the fire started, but damage was slight. The truck is shown at right. Soon after the fire, about 11 p.m., the chief, Walter Mason, who was suffering from heart trouble, was rushed to Sea Level Hospital where he died. It was not known yesterday who replaced Chief Mason. Friday night's fire was the first call to Stacy answered by Down East firemen.

Hodges, Barden Get Big Vote

Carteret voters responded better than expected Saturday. A vote of about 2,500 was predicted and unofficial returns show that at least 3,500 turned out to register their desire that Gov. Luther Hodges and Congressman Graham A. Barden return to office.

Voters also approved borrowing funds for a county health center. Incumbents in state office received overwhelming majorities in this county, as they did throughout the state. Alonzo Edwards, one of five candidates for lieutenant governor carried this county, but statewide he was outdistanced by Luther Barnhardt, president of the state senate.

Edwards, strongly supported by the farm element in the state and closely connected with the old J. Melville Broughton political group, has the right to call for a second primary. But he said he will not request one until he has an opportunity to study official returns.

Carteret's Board of Elections, headed by F. R. Seeley, will meet at 11 a.m. today to make the official canvass of votes.

In Morehead township, Constable George Smith won out over the challenger, Charlie Krouse, for constable.

Congressman Barden overwhelmingly defeated his opponent, James O. Simpkins, in the third district. Barden failed to carry two Carteret precincts. Smyrna by a vote of 8-7 and Merrimon by a vote of 35-21 went for Simpkins.

The county vote — total for each candidate with 24 out of the 27 precincts reported — follows. The winning candidate is listed first.

For governor: Hodges 3,245, Harry P. Stokely 56, C. E. Earle Jr. 37, and Tom Sawyer 144.

For lieutenant governor: Edwards 2,171, Barnhardt 350, Gurney Hood 378, Kidd Brewer 209 and J. V. Whitfield 110.

For congressman, third district: Barden 2,648 and Simpkins 864.

For U. S. senator: Sam J. Ervin Jr. 2,927 and Marshall Kurfoe 205.

For commissioner of agriculture: L. Y. Ballentine 2,756 and Kermit U. Gray 361.

For commissioner of insurance: Charles F. Gold 2,649 and John N. Frederick 393.

For commissioner of labor: Frank Crane 2,004, H. D. Lambeth Jr. 512, and James R. Farlow 422.

Morehead township constable: Smith 814, Krouse, 352.

In favor of a county health center 2,967 and against, 276.

Precincts not included in the above tabulation are Bogue, Harlowe and Portsmouth.

Polls were open from 6:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. The day was a mixture of sun and clouds, but no rain fell to discourage folks from going to the polls.

Funds Seem Assured

The Senate Appropriations Committee on Thursday approved six million dollars in disaster relief funds. Although not earmarked for North Carolina, the additional appropriation was requested by the North Carolina Congressional delegation and it is anticipated that the six million will be coming to this state.

Cap'n Sam Adler, Morehead City, Puts Golden Rule into Practice

By HAL SHAPIRO

Several times during the past few years "Cap'n" Sam Adler, Morehead City, has been asked to run for public office, and each time he has retorted, "I can't run because if I did I'd make enemies out of my friends and the number is few enough as is!"

This is far from the truth. Cap'n Sam is a firm believer in offering a helping hand to one and all, and his friends in Carteret County are legion.

Morehead Resident Since 1918
A resident of Morehead City since June 15, 1918, Cap'n Sam was born Oct. 14, 1892 to Max Adler and Toby Levine Adler.

He lived most of his life in North Carolina and originally on a farm near Dover. It was on this farm that young Sam learned to pick cotton, and often, when he was stung by cotton worms, a Negro mammy on the farm would spit snuff on his hands to get rid of the sting.

New Bernians Visit at Newport

Foreman J. D. Reece, and former Chief Albert Stocks of the New Bern Fire Department conducted the monthly fire drill at Newport last Monday.

Foreman Reece gave instruction on the use of ladders. Chief Stocks demonstrated the "Rogers Rope Tool" while Newport firemen manned the ladders and hose.

The department tried out the new light weight magnesium ladder at the school house. Using the water tanker fire truck, they gained access to the school roof.

Following the drill, Chief Stocks told of injuries to New Bern firemen and explained a new type of insurance coverage used by the New Bern Fire Department. The new plan provides for "salary payments" during periods up to two years, following injury to a fireman. The policies are based on the number of trucks operated by the department rather than the number of members. A death benefit is part of the plan.

Hospitalization is available but firemen pointed out that workmen's compensation would pay hospitalization costs.

Twenty-three Newport firemen attended the drill.

Chamber Cancels 1956 Booklet

Lack of advertising to support publication of a Morehead City vacation booklet has caused cancellation of a new booklet this year.

J. A. DuBois, manager of the chamber, said that 3,000 of last year's brochures are on hand. The board of directors decided that since 1950 had not been paid by those who contracted for ads in the 1956 booklet, the booklet would not be printed.

Advertisers who had pre-paid their bill will be refunded the money or may have it credited on their 1956 dues.

A bulletin setting forth the brochure decision will be sent to chamber members this week. The bulletin will also include a statement on finances. Total amount needed for chamber operation this year is $11,373.19.

Received by the chamber up to May 7 was $5,053. Expenditures from Jan. 1 to May 7 totaled $4,308.29, leaving a balance of $744.74.

The bulletin also comments on hurricane rehabilitation, mosquito control and the seashore highway. Listed as "essential chamber projects" are an industrial survey, industrial contacts, resort advertising, sportsfishing promotion, brochure, 1957 Morehead Centennial, Christmas street lighting, beach and town special events and community improvement.

Members are also asked to rate the above in order of importance and make any comments on chamber proposals.

7th-8th Grade Students Complete Special Project

Pupils in Miss Gertrude Styron's seventh-eighth grade combination class at Beaufort School learned a lot about adapting to conditions of today's world this year. One of their projects was the study of Civil Defense.

Highlight of the program was construction of a model house. The large model, about 4 by 6 feet, was constructed with the thought of accommodating a family of five.

It was completely furnished, including one room without windows which would be used by the family in case of radioactive fallout in the area. In this room was the emergency food supply and other items necessary to maintain family existence for several days.

The children worked out the amount of food needed to feed the family for that length of time and then made model containers to represent the food and water.

The pupils spent only $1.33 in actual cash to construct their model. They used lumber scraps, scrap shingle siding, cardboard, and balsa wood. The girls did the furnishing of the house, braiding tiny rugs and carrying out other decorations. They got scraps of material from Mrs. David Beveridge, teacher in the home economics department.

Telephone Firm Official Speaks Here Saturday

Telephone growth in North Carolina has been on the upgrade for the past 13 years, according to L. W. Hill, president of the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Mr. Hill, speaking before 100 members and guests of the Pioneers Club of the company Saturday morning at the recreation building, Morehead City, said, "In 1943 there were 44,000 telephones in operation in the state and today there are 137,000 telephone users."

He said the number of users today in North Carolina alone far surpasses the total in both North and South Carolina under Southern Bell Co. in 1934.

He announced that the company would spend $12,000,000 this year; $15,000,000 in 1957 and $50,000,000 in 1958, and explained that the number of employees of the company would increase.

Describing the workings of the company, growing in leaps and bounds, Mr. Hill stated that schools are being conducted for employees, many of them are being sent to colleges and universities for business administration courses. The company is steadily improving conditions to benefit employees.

Mr. Hill remarked that the company ranked ninth in the nation in 1943 among the states that have independent telephone companies, and today ranks fifth. The ranking is based on total operating revenues.

Concluding his talk, Mr. Hill commented that eastern North Carolina is just in its infancy, and that any locale which has the greatest agricultural area in the world, coupled with more and more industry, couldn't help but grow.

Mrs. Margaret Conc, Fayetteville, chairman, presided at the meeting. Reports were given on ways and means, visiting and fellowship, membership, participation, hobby, historical, recreation and entertainment.

Concluding the meeting, W. D. Grimmer, Smithfield, newly-elected president was introduced. He commented on Mrs. Conc's fine work.

The other new officer introduced was Mrs. Rosalie Thompson, Tarboro, vice-president. The secretary-treasurer's post is still held by A. B. Campbell, Fayetteville.
