Two Hurt When Car Hits Ditch

Mrs. Tressa Vickers and Floyd Lewis, both of Morehead City, were injured at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday in an automobile accident at Crab Point.

According to State Highway Patrolman J. W. Sykes, who investigated, they were coming out a side road from Charlie Rose's where they had taken laundry, and the brakes failed to hold when they got to the main road.

Lewis, who was driving, said the brake pedal was in to the floor and the car still kept going, he tried to turn onto the hard-surface road but the car landed in a ditch.

Both were taken to the Morehead City Hospital. Mrs. Vickers had cuts on her legs, both eyes were blackened and she had brush burns on her head. Lewis had cuts about his face.

They were in a 1952 Studebaker.

Mayor Comments On Rusty Water

Mayor Clifford Lewis, Beaufort, yesterday assured water users who are contending with "rusty water" that every effort is being made to correct the trouble. The discolored water has been reported only in certain neighborhoods.

M. O. Canton of the State Health Department and A. D. Fulford, county sanitarian, on Wednesday took samples of the water for further analysis. An analysis last month proved the water to be pure, despite its orange-brown appearance.

Dan Walker, town clerk, said complaints on the water have been coming from the west end of Ann and Broad Streets and the 200 block of Queen Street.

C. W. Williams, manager of the Carolina Water Co. supplier of water to Beaufort, said that calgon probably will have to be used in the mains to flush them out.

He said the trouble started after the fire at the Colonial Store the middle of May. A tremendous amount of water was poured through the mains and this probably caused the iron to break down and flush out into the system, he said.

He added that the water company will take steps to correct the situation.

Car Skids into Ditch East of Beaufort Tuesday

Mrs. Abercrombie was driving a 1956 Ford and was headed toward Beaufort. Damage to the car was estimated at $300. No charges were preferred.

County Soil Bank Acres Total 39.91

Carteret acres in the nation's soil bank now total 39.91, according to B. J. May, ASC manager.

Sixteen cotton farmers and nine tobacco farmers are taking part in the program. As a result, Uncle Sam will pay them a total of $4,598.26 for taking their land (almost 40 acres) out of production.

The cotton farm acreage is 21.3 and the tobacco acreage is 18.61. Tobacco farmers have until 5 p.m. today to sign up as soil bankers. They are eligible if they are within their allotment and have not yet begun to harvest the crop.

Cotton farmers have until July 20 to sign up.

The soil bank program was approved by Congress in May. It provides incentives to farmers to take land out of production, thus reducing surpluses and keeping up farm prices.

Beaufort Chamber Drive For New Members Starts

The membership drive of the Beaufort Chamber of Commerce was started Wednesday morning, following a special meeting of the board of directors Tuesday night.

It was reported that pre-drive pledges, made at the recent chamber dinner, amounted to $685. All members and potential members of the chamber will be contacted either in letter or person.

The drive is being supervised by Glenn Adair, chamber president.

The chamber program for the coming year was partially outlined. The new pamphlet on Beaufort is scheduled for distribution this week and the board decided to publish a similar promotion piece during the coming year, depicting a Carteret map and points of interest.

A sign will be placed at the small boat-launching ramp and on it will be a map showing other small boat launching points on Front Street.

The chamber will again sponsor the Christmas shopping promotion. It will also work on a better parking system for vehicles at the rear of Front Street stores between Craven and Turner Streets.

Ronald Earl Mason was named chairman of the annual rodeo which will be staged Oct. 7. The annual speedboat race will be sponsored by the chamber next June.

The directors decided to continue their program to interest local capital in building a modern hotel or motel in Beaufort.

Also planned for the coming year is a weekly radio forum on which chamber projects will be discussed by town residents and chamber officials.

The chamber also plans to put out weekly news releases.

President Adair stressed the importance of directors' attending all board meetings.

Constable Charges Driver With Failing to Stop

Jerome E. Barvitskie, Cherry Point, will appear in Morehead City Recorder's Court Monday on a charge of failing to stop for a stop sign at 24th and Arendell Streets on Tuesday.

Wednesday Catches Brighten Scene for Tar Heel Shrimpers

For the first time this summer, it looked Wednesday as though shrimpers might be able to make a dollar this season.

Catches of ocean shrimp were reported anywhere from 400 pounds to 1,200 pounds a boat. Average catch per boat was in the neighborhood of 500 pounds.

The size was small, about 60 to the pound. Normally at this time of year the shrimp are running 30 to 35 count, but the season is about six weeks late.

Nation Needs Shrimp
Price to the shrimper per pound is running 15 cents or a few cents more. In a normal season price would be about 12 cents a pound, but the market is hungry for shrimp.

Charles Davis of Davis Seafood Co., Beaufort, reported Wednesday as "the best day this season." The shrimp are small, he added, but "we're not complaining about the size. At this point we're glad to be getting anything."

A large portion of the catch is going south to breeding plants.

In New York shrimp is selling to the wholesaler at 28 to 30 cents a pound. Prior to the middle of the week prices were 35 to 37 cents a pound, but South Carolina shrimpers have done extremely well this week and that has helped send the price down.

Big Catches
Some South Carolina shrimpers reported catches as high as 1,500 pounds.

Locally, the shrimpers were making big catches off Emerald Isle. Shrimp running 60 to 63 per pound require 165 pounds to head out to 100 pound box, one dealer commented.

Capt. Otis Purifoy, Morehead City, said yesterday that if the weather holds, things will brighten considerably for the shrimper who has been waiting ever since the middle of May for some business.

Red Cross, Civil Defense Officials Discuss Shelters

Shelters for storm refugees were discussed Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of Civil Defense and Red Cross officials. The group met at the home of Mrs. W. J. Ipeck, Beaufort-Morehead Causeway. Mrs. Ipeck is Civil Defense director for Beaufort.

Persons who may be required to leave their homes should hurricanes threaten, will take food for themselves and at least one blanket per person, the group decided.

It was pointed out that in past storms some people went to the shelters for a "picnic," expecting to be fed and bedded down in fine fashion.

Communities throughout the county were discussed. Civil Defense chairmen for each community were suggested and shelters tentatively designated. Chairmen nominated will be contacted by Civil Defense relative to their responsibility.

Attending the meeting were Mayor Clifford Lewis, Glenn Adair, Mrs. James Rumley, Miss George Hughes, the Rev. C. Edward Sharp, all of Beaufort; Irvin W. Davis, of Davis, James B. Willis and Miss Ruth Peeling, Morehead City, and Frank Hollowell, Goldsboro.

FIFTY-Two Acres!

The town of Morehead City has acquired a plot of ground consisting of 52 acres for its new cemetery and not two acres as reported in Tuesday's paper.

The Morehead City town commissioners have been in a state of shock ever since Tuesday's paper appeared, fearing the taxpayers would rise up in wrath since the price of the land was $15,000. That's a bit high for two acres.

We're sorry the mistake occurred and hope that this is the last cemetery Morehead City will have to buy for a mighty long time!

Gillikin Funeral Rites Conducted At 2 Wednesday

The funeral service for Paul Gillikin, 34, was conducted at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the Free Grace Tabernacle, Harkers Island.

Mr. Gillikin was electrocuted at 2:30 p.m. Monday at the Gillikin Boat Works, Harkers Island, when he started to operate an electric drill. He was part owner of the boatworks.

According to Coroner Leslie D. Springler, Mr. Gillikin was at the marine railways, helping to get ready for a boat launching. He was a short distance from the water and about 40 feet from the boat shed.

The coroner said that before Mr. Gillikin picked up the drill, it had been tried twice and found to be in working order, but Mr. Gillikin was standing in wet ground when he turned it on. Coroner Springler said that evidently there was a short circuit and the current, 110 volts, was grounded through Mr. Gillikin's feet.

He was rushed to the Morehead City Hospital by one of his brothers, but was dead on arrival. When his wife was told of her husband's death, she collapsed and was taken to the Sea Level Hospital.

Mr. Gillikin was buried in the community cemetery on Harkers Island. He was active in the church and occasionally preached.

In addition to his wife, Ethel Faye, he is survived by two sons, Dana Lavell, 7, and Timothy Paul, 15 months; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Gillikin, Otway, a sister, Hallie, Otway; and three brothers, Wheeler and Vance, both of Otway, and James, Harkers Island.

County Mosquito Spray Program Gets Underway

The county mosquito spraying program is underway, A. D. Fulford, county sanitarian, reported yesterday.

The program is being financed at present with the $3,000 appropriated by the county commissioners in the 1956-57 budget. Mr. Fulford is awaiting word on whether the county's application for $9,000 in Civil Defense funds has been approved.

The money was requested for mosquito control.

Mr. Fulford expressed his appreciation to the Sea Level Chamber of Commerce for a donation of $80 to pay for labor in the spraying program prior to July 1 when county fund became available.

The $80 helped finance spraying in the Cedar Island section.

The county has one truck equipped with two fogging machines. Sprayed thus far have been the Mill Creek section, Harlowe, Highway 101, North River, Bonham Heights, Mansfield Park, Broad Creek, and Atlantic Beach.

On the schedule tonight are Bogue, the Nine-Foot Road area and outlying Newport sections.

The sanitarian said that burlap bags will be filled with sawdust, soaked in oil and DDT and placed in standing water. This work is expected to get underway in about a week.

Cooperation from the various communities has been fine, Mr. Fulford added. A delegation from Cedar Point called on the sanitarian this week and offered to provide the labor for getting the saw-

Large Crowd Attends Concert

A highly successful outdoor band concert was presented by the Morehead City School Band Tuesday night at the recreation building, under the direction of Ralph Wade.

Mr. Wade was very pleased with the turnout. The crowd was larger than the group of listeners at the initial summer concert July 3.

The final concert will be given Tuesday night, July 24, at the Recreation Building.

Among the numbers played Tuesday night were Londonderry Air, The Lonesome Road and Prairie Lament. The majorettes presented one of their routines and they will be present at the final concert, Mr. Wade announced.

No Summer Meetings

The County Ministers' Association has called off its meetings for July and August. The next meeting will be the second Monday in September.

Defendant Files Appeal Following Ruling by Judge

Charlie Rose Files Counter Suit Against Charlie Sloan Yesterday

Charlie Rose has been fined $25 and costs for assault on Charlie Sloan at Charlie's Bar, Atlantic Beach, Monday night. Rose appeared before Judge Lambert R. Morris in County Recorder's Court yesterday.

Rose noted an appeal to Superior Court and bond was set at $200. On advice of counsel, Claud Wheatly Jr., Rose then swore out a warrant for Sloan, operator of Charlie's Bar, on charges of assault and using profane language.

Sloan stated that Rose was in his place at the beach Monday night at 6 or 6:30 p.m. He said that Rose commented, "The bartender we had didn't look too hot and this one doesn't look any better," referring to Sloan.

Sloan said that he invited Rose to leave his place, and that Rose offered him his hand to shake and he refused whereupon Rose "threw a beer can" at him.

Tussle Ensues

Sloan said further that the beer can missed him, and struck above his head on a chimney. He said that he and Rose then had a tussle which resulted in damage to two bar stools, the breaking of a plate glass window and two window sills.

Sloan also said he was knocked through the window.

Rose and his witnesses, Dolan Goodwin, Dorothy Harris, and Clifford Allen Smith stated that they saw Sloan throw the bar stool at Rose as Rose was leaving the place.

Rose, Mr. Goodwin and Miss Harris, all said that Sloan called the defendant "an s.o.b.," and that the beer can was "swept off the counter" by Rose after the use of profanity.

Rose said he didn't recollect making any statements about the bartender and that he offered his hand to Sloan for a handshake and then was called an "s.o.b."

He said that he was mad when he slapped the beer can but that it went away from Sloan instead of towards him.

Stool Thrown

He said that he was heading out of the place when Sloan threw a stool at him and the stool went through the window. Rose said that he picked up a broom and threw it at Sloan after the stool went outside.

Rose said further that the broom missed Sloan and that Sloan grabbed him and he pushed him off.
