Asked if the state has any program for supplying the nee funds to put Negro and white schools on an equal basis, Mr. Bell said that he would be in favor of the state's floating ano-ther school bond issue to provide more funds to counties on a matching basis. Discussing who controls where school funds are spent, the question was raised whether the state might provide extra money to counties for schools, specifying that it must be divided "equally between the colored and schools. The legislator said he doubted that such strings would be necessary since "more emphasis is being placed on improving Negro schools." Judge Phillips said that even though the education system is in a state of flux, bonds for segregated schools can be sold. Dr. Bunn asked Mr. Bell what would happen if the plan is de-feated. "If it is defeated, it will be because of lack of interest, the legislator replied. Mr. Bell said that it was important to get the matter settled early in the school year, and that the school issue was be serious enough to be voted on without being clouded by normal political fights such as those ex-cted in November. A member of the audience asked what law will prevail if the Pearsail Plan is defeated. Mr. Bell replied that the consti-tution will remain as is. Under the present laws, any school board, without a vote of the people, can close a school for as long as 60 days. "But this situation is believed so important that the Pearsall Plan will let the people decide, not the school board, whether a school should be closed," Mr. Bell
