share of acquiring the right-of-way for the new bridge highway "and we don't know where that money is coming from."

Engineer Reports Gray Hassell, town engineer, reported on the cost of paving Broad Street from Gordon to Fullford. The estimated cost, including grading, would be $1,495, he said. Cost to each property owner would be about $100.

Paving would extend 700 feet, 16 feet wide, consisting of a 2-inch depth of asphalt.

Mr. Walker reported that he conferred with John Morrissey, general counsel of the League of Municipalities, relative to the petition for paving streets in the north part of town. Mr. Morrissey said he could see no way in which the paving could be paid for. Mr. Walker said, however, that the proposal will be investigated further.

Gene Smith, town attorney, said the petition for paving should be re-drafted and each signer should indicate his front footage on the street.

Mr. Walker said that the street department is working on the town garage but has no idea when it will be finished.

Mayor Clifford Lewis presided at the meeting. Present, in addition to those mentioned, were Commissioners William Roy Hamilton, James Rumley, Otis Mades and Math Chaplain.

To the Man Who is Hesitating...

There are many motorists in this community who have given serious consideration to the purchase of a new Cadillac car this year—and yet, for one reason or another, have not made the move.

If you are among them, we hope that you will pause to read the little message that follows.

Ordinarily, when a man hesitates to make the move to Cadillac, he does so because he is not familiar with the many practical aspects of Cadillac ownership.

Insofar as original cost is concerned, a Cadillac is eminently practical. Several models, in fact, are actually priced competitively with the so-called "medium-priced" makes.

Operating and maintenance costs are also remarkably low. We have heard it said by new owners that Cadillac is the most economical automobile they have ever owned.

And as for resale value—well, Cadillac traditionally retains a greater share of its original worth through the years than any other motor car built in the land. In short, the great Cadillac car represents one of the soundest automotive investments on the highway today.

The moral of our message is this: It is still not too late to set things right in a 1956 Cadillac of your own!

We have a selection of new Cadillacs on hand—and we can promise you both prompt delivery and a generous trade-in allowance.

Why not come in today?
