Three-Year-Old Figures Good Way to Get Candy

Spokane, Wash. (AP)—When 3-year-old Curtis Hahn disappeared from his home the fifth time in a month police began to catch on.

Previously, a motorcycle patrolman and patrol cars took him to the police station when he was found. Each time he headed straight for the station's candy machine.

They decided to keep him away from the police station the fifth time. He likes candy too well.

Beaufort Students Begin Party Rounds; Pupils Give Program

By JEAN CHADWICK

Allo everybody! Here we are bringing you our last school column for the year of 1956. It seems that the older you get; the faster the years fly by.

The first of this school year surely has flown by, but it was fun. We had quite a few things given or presented during our last week of this year.

Some of our home ec girls selected "decorating the home" or "cooking the Christmas cakes and pies" as their home project.

The Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y held their monthly meeting Wednesday during activity period.

We decided to hold our annual Christmas party the coming Friday.

We held it at the Beaufort American Legion Building. The party started at 8 p.m. and ended at 11 p.m. We had music, refreshments and our band director, Mr. Jones, was our photographer for the night.

Friday Santa Claus visited our school. Shirley Pittman, Dickie Moore, and Jean Chadwick carried Santa to the grammar grades.

I believe some of them were a little scared or shy, but they all enjoyed it. Later our senior class gave their Christmas program. It was divided into four acts.

Jane Safrit, as the old grandmother, was telling her two grandchildren, Donna Lewis and Charles Smith, about her different Christmas years before.

The first act, consisting of three songs, was put on by Rita Mason singing You Better Watch Out, Cathryn Potter singing I Saw Mama Kissing Santa Claus, and Rae Frances Hassell singing All I Want For Christmas Is My Two Front Teeth.

The next act was telling about her second special Christmas, when all of the gang was down by the pond. Betty Whitehurst had a solo, singing White Christmas. Then Barbara Downum, Mona House, Winki Willis, and Barbara Taylor did a dance routine.

Following the dance routine,

Margaret Springle did a very cute number called I'm Getting Nothing For Christmas.

The third act told about the Christmas when they started falling in love. Ruby Chadwick sang Blue Christmas; of course she was singing at Vernon. In our program Vernon played by Dan Ricks came home. What an exciting time there was. Our last act was a chorus.

After the program we had the letter to Santa Claus. Santa was brought up the aisle by Jean Chadwick. After getting on the stage Jean read her letter to Santa.

This letter consisted of all of the things that our seniors wanted. Then the program ended when Jean sang Santa Baby, telling Santa what she wanted. Fruit and candy were given to all of the students.
