Dr. R. L. Humber Emphasizes Need For World Court

Dr. Robert Lee Humber, Greenville, founder of the World Federalists, challenged the United States to take the lead in forming a world court of law to have jurisdiction over international problems at the First Baptist Church, Beaufort, Thursday afternoon. — Dr. Humber was speaking at the 16th anniversary of his founding of the federalist movement. Each year he returns to Carteret County, the birthplace of World Federation, and gives a report on its progress. — He said that nothing on earth at this hour would prevent World War III if Russia wanted it. — "The policies we are now following are inadequate," he said, "we haven't a policy for our own survival. The great need, which is shown oddly enough in this week of the observance of the centennial of the birth of Woodrow Wilson, was the same thing which caused the downfall of the League of Nations, Wilson's dream." — "We created the United Nations, but did not give the U.N. authority. There must be power with sanctions behind it. Law on a world level must be provided," emphasized Dr. Humber. — He pointed out that five nations — France, Italy, West Germany, Japan and Holland — have written into their constitutions their approval of joining a world court of law, should one be created. — Dr. Humber and Mrs. Humber served refreshments to the 30 persons who gathered in the church recreation room to hear his report. He and his family visit relatives here and each Christmas season spend some time at their home on Davis Island.

10 Per Cent Penalty Set For Late Tax Listings

Tax listers will begin listing personal property tomorrow morning. They will continue through Jan. 31. After Feb. 1, a 10 per cent penalty will be added to all who did not list during January. — In addition to personal property, which includes automobiles, TV sets, furniture, jewelry, and similar items, citizens will be required to list "new" real estate such as new buildings and improvements to existing buildings. — Names of the persons on duty in each township as list-takers is given below. — "Old" real estate need not be listed this year because a complete survey of real property was made during 1955 under the revaluation program, according to E. O. Moore, tax collector. — Because of the revaluation, the county's tax rate was lowered from $1.80 to $1.35 per $100 value. The revaluation was authorized in an effort to place county property on tax books at equitable values and bring all properties in line. — Rate Not Fixed — This year's tax rate will be set after the county commissioners adopt a budget. The amount of money they think must come from taxes will then be "prorated" among the various county departments. The tax statements will be sent out June 15, and a 2 per cent discount will be given to everyone paying in June. — City taxes in Beaufort, Morehead City, and other incorporated towns in the county will be based on the listings on the county books. Last year Morehead City residents paid $1.60 per $100, and Beaufort citizens paid $1.75 in town taxes. — No listings can be accepted over the telephone because the listing blank must be signed by the property owner. All men subject to poll taxes must register with the list-taker.

Norma Farrar Overcame Loss Of Sight by Courage, Hope

By ELINORE COWAN STONE

For the Midnight Christmas Mass, Saint Egbert's Catholic Church had as guest organist a holiday visitor to Morehead City who is something of a national celebrity. She is a celebrity not only as an organist, but because of her many more notable accomplishments; and because she plays without sight. — Of course blind musicians are no new phenomena. But Norma Farrar is much more than a competent musician. Although she is barely twenty-seven years old, she is head resident or house director of a women's residence hall at the University of Illinois. And her life history is one of indomitable courage and initiative which might shame many of us who have two sound eyes. — Norma was not born blind, but with such defective vision that her doctor told her mother she would be blind before she reached the age of twenty. During her junior year in high school, Norma, who had already begun to study Braille, finding herself unable to read her text-books, decided on her own responsibility that she should go to the Perkins School for the Blind. She says that Perkins taught her to use her memory — which is amazing — and accustomed her to appear in public, and play the organ. — Attends University — After graduation from Perkins and from high school, Norma went to the University of New Hampshire. Since it was impossible to have all text books in Braille, she found it necessary to have readers for her courses. Miss Farrar's father, Charles Farrar, took a course in Braille to help Norma with her studies. — At the University of New Hampshire, Norma was outstanding in student activities. Within three years, she was an outstanding campus leader. She was elected to Mortar Board and was president of the Women's Student Government. And since she was interested in out-door activities, she

Norma Farrar walks with her companion, Patty.

Baby Smothers In Crib Saturday

Cindy Lou Bennett, 23-day-old daughter of Cpl. and Mrs. Caleb James Bennett, Morehead City, was pronounced dead at the Morehead City hospital Saturday morning. The child was found smothered in its crib by the parents. They rushed her to the hospital. — Sheriff Hugh Salter, Deputies Marshall Ayscue and Bruce Edwards and Miss Georgie Hughes, superintendent of the welfare department, were called to the hospital. The sheriff's department helped with first aid. — Corporal Bennett, a Cherry Point Marine, and his wife, Vicki Louise, live in an upstairs apartment at 2302 Arendell St. Mr. Bennett is 19, and his wife is 17. — Coroner Leslie Springle says that no inquest will be conducted. The child had pulled a blanket over its face and had become so entangled that it was unable to breathe, he said. — Graveside services were conducted in Bay View Cemetery Saturday. The Rev. Samuel Moore, pastor of Franklin Memorial Methodist Church, Morehead City, officiated. The baby had no brothers or sisters.
