

Fisheries Group Hears Request For Ban on Dumping Shrimp Heads

C&D Board Meeting Begins With Optimistic Reports

By WADE LUCAS

The change made by the 1957 General Assembly in the State's corporate tax laws, together with other advantages offered by North Carolina, may result in a $300,000,000 growth in new and expanded industries in the State within the next year.

The State Board of Conservation and Development, with its chairman Governor Luther H. Hodges, presiding, got this word in a report submitted by Director William P. Saunders of the Department of Conservation and Development as it opened its two-day summer meeting yesterday at the Morehead Biltmore Hotel.

For the first six months of this year, Saunders said, investments for new and expanded industries in North Carolina, excluding the $40,000,000 titanium plant for Wilmington and a new plant and expansions for the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company at Winston-Salem, amounted to approximately $59,000,000.

"It is our belief," Saunders added "with the change in the allocation formula, coupled with a real working program on the local level by the communities themselves, and the many other advantages North Carolina offers — in water available productive employees, attractive sites, highways, railroads, recreational, educational and cultural facilities—that within the next year a $300,000,000 growth in new and expanded industries is entirely possible."

The Rev. E. Guthrie Brown, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church here, gave the invocation as the board convened at 9 a.m. in the ballroom of the Morehead Biltmore Hotel.

W. B. Chalk, president of the Morehead City Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the board to Morehead City and board member Robert M. Hanes of Winston-Salem responded.

H. C. Kennett of Durham, Walker Martin of Raleigh and Voit Gilmore of Southern Pines, recently appointed to the C&D Board by Governor Hodges under an act passed by the 1957 General Assembly increasing membership of the board from 15 to 18, were sworn in by Associate Justice William B. Rodman Jr., of the State Supreme Court.

Miles J. Smith of Salisbury, W. J. Dantoft of Canton, Charles H. Jenkins of Ahoskie, Scoop W. Enloe Jr. of Spruce Pine and W. Eugene Simmons of Tarboro, who were reappointed to the board, also received oaths of office from Justice Rodman.

The opening session was featured also by reports on activities for the past six months and plans for future programs by the C&D Department's divisional heads, including one by Col. Harry E. Brown, State Hurricane Rehabilitation director.

Charles Parker submitted the report on State Advertising; A. H. Grant for Commerce and Industry; C. G. Holland for Commercial Fisheries (Holland's report is found elsewhere in today's News-Times); F. H. Claridge for Forestry; Thomas W. Morse for State Parks; Dr. J. L. Stuckey for Mineral Resources; and Col. B. C. Snow for Water Resources, Inlets and Coastal Waterways.

The Governor and Mrs. Hodges, C&D Board members, their wives, C&D Director Saunders, divisional heads, and Carteret Representative D. G. Bell were taken on a two-hour cruise Sunday aboard the Coast Guard Cutter Chilula by the ship's master, R. M. Hutchins.

Carteret Communities Plan for July Fourth

Centennial Boat Show is Slated

Boat dealers in North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, and Tennessee will be given an opportunity to show off their products to the marine-minded folks in Morehead City during the Centennial Jubilee, Aug. 4-10.

A giant boat show has been planned as a part of the Centennial celebration and dealers in these states have been invited to participate.

Space will be provided for up to 75 displays of boats, trailers, and outboards on the lawn of the Morehead City Yacht Basin. Reservations for space are to be made directly with Adam Mayer, Morehead City Yacht Basin, Inc.

A $10 for the first, $7.50 for the second, and $5.00 for each additional display space will be charged any one firm.

All dealers will also be given a place in the water pageant scheduled for Aug. 7 at 8 p.m. by contacting Thurlow Wheaton at Sears in Morehead City.

Newport FFA Boys Return from State Convention Friday

The Newport delegates to the state FFA convention in Raleigh last week returned home Friday. They spent the week attending business sessions, various contests, and social functions, according to C. S. Long, FFA advisor. Mr. Long accompanied the boys to Raleigh.

Newport's tool identification team scored 1370 of a possible 1500 in the tool identification contest. Members of the team were Ganes Chapman, Terry Garner and Edward Corbett.

Tommy Howard, president-elect of the Newport FFA Chapter, attended as a voting delegate to the business sessions.

Allen Ray Garner, who was unable to attend the convention, still got his State Farmer Degree. This is one of the highest awards made by the FFA.

Policeman Promoted

Sgt. Bill Condie, Morehead City Police Force, was promoted from patrolman effective yesterday. He "celebrated" his promotion by chasing a monkey through town. The monkey belonged to Gordon Lewis. Sergeant Condie said that he finally caught the monkey at Sound Appliance Co. where a dog had cornered it.

A request for a regulation prohibiting the dumping of shrimp heads into North Carolina sounds where there is insufficient tidal waters to clear them to the ocean has been put before the commercial fisheries committee of the State Board of Conservation and Development.

The request was put before the committee, which is headed by Cecil Morris of Atlantic, at a special meeting Saturday of the group at the Section Base.

It was offered in the form of a resolution by the North Carolina Fisheries Association's president, Garland Fulcher of Oriental.

Mr. Fulcher asserted that the dumping of shrimp heads into slow moving sound waters not only tend to pollute them because of "a more violent chemical reaction" than with other species of dead finfish or shellfish tossed over the side.

This chemical reaction, Mr. Fulcher noted in the resolution, serves to kill off or seriously impair fishing grounds and cause threats to public health.

W. W. Hudnell, Jack Mason and Randolph Hardy, commercial fishermen of Oriental, disputed their fellow townsman's contentions that the shrimp heads are as dangerous as Mr. Fulcher claimed.

"If you're going to do this, why not prohibit the throwing over the side of all dead finfish and shellfish?" Mr. Hudnell asked.

State Fisheries Commissioner Gehrmann Holland intimated that adoption of such a regulation as required by the Fisheries Association would serve to greatly increase the duties of the patrol

Lions Install New Officers, Make Three Awards

New officers for the Morehead City Lions Club were installed at the club meeting at the Hotel Fort Macon Thursday night. Installing officer was Carni Winters of New Bern, deputy district governor.

Officers installed were J. B. Eubanks, president; O. J. Morrow, first vice-president; E. C. Watson, second vice-president; Lewis Hinson, third vice-president; David Munden, secretary; H. K. Moore, treasurer; Owens Frederick, tail twister; and S. K. Hedgecock, lion tamer.

Outstanding Lions

Outstanding Lions awards were presented by outgoing president J. E. Crowe to O. N. Allred and O. J. Morrow.

Perfect attendance pins were awarded to Mr. Allred, Mr. Eubanks, Mr. Hedgecock, A. N. Willis, Frank Moran, C. W. Williams, Mr. Frederick, John T. Willis, Mr. Crowe, Mr. Bennett, Mr. Morrow and Victor Wickizer.

Mr. Crowe presented awards to Lions who had done outstanding jobs during the past year. Those awards were: Jack Morgan, programs; Mr. Moran, finance; A. N. Willis, official greeter; E. C. Watson, treasurer; and Mr. Frederick, presidential advisor. He gave Mr. Winters an inscribed ash tray for taking part in the installation ceremonies.

Ladies Night

There were 41 Lions and guests present. Ladies night door prizes were won by Mrs. Elmer Watson and Mrs. J. G. Bennett.

Three out-of-town visitors, in addition to Mr. Winters, were present. They were John H. Kalte of High Point, I. D. Bradham of Rocky Mount and F. L. Edwards of Kinston.

Mr. Morrow reported that the Lions had completed fourteen projects during the year. They included two broom sales, a light bulb sale, sending a boy to Boys' State, organizing a Boy Scout troop, sending a blind boy to camp.

Present Trophy

Giving a trophy to the Coastal Archers Association, furnishing a record player for the Boy Scouts, paying $50 on the Morehead City High School band's trip to Washington, helping pay the salary of a blind cane worker.

Conducting a "Be Thankful You Can See" campaign, distributing 20 gum ball machines, giving $25 to the chime fund at Franklin Memorial Methodist Church, and turning in $200 to the state White Cane Drive.

The Morehead City Lions were twelfth in per capita collections for the white cane drive. There are 300 Lions Clubs in the state.

Three Men Drafted

Three men have been ordered to report to the county draft board today. They will be forwarded to Raleigh for induction into the Army. They are Frank E. Wickizer, Morehead City, Alvah H. Willis, Harkers Island, and Henry E. Parker, Beaufort.

First Survivors of Hurricane Arrive, One Man Reported Dead

The first survivors of Hurricane Audrey arrived in Beaufort yesterday at 10:30 a.m. Twenty-six persons were on the first bus to arrive at the Beaufort bus depot. Most of them were wearing clothes given them by welfare organizations and individuals who managed to save something before the storm hit. Several Beaufort citizens showed up at the station to provide transportation for the travel-weary survivors.

Survivors of Hurricane Audrey began arriving in Beaufort yesterday. Most of them were connected with Harvey Smith's Cameron, La., fish plant. The first bus load arrived at 10:30 a.m. with 26 persons aboard. A chartered bus was due to arrive in the afternoon.

To date, only one county resident has been reported missing. Alonzo Bell Jr., 44, colored, of Morehead City is presumed dead, announces deputy civil defense director Mrs. W. J. Ippock, Beaufort.

Survivors Listed

Bell was employed by Wallace Fisheries in Cameron. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Rachel Bell, Morehead City, two sisters, Mrs. Bertha Dudley and Mrs. Viola White, Morehead City, two brothers, John Bell, Beaufort, and James Bell, Washington, D. C. and a six-year-old son, Thomas Earl.

Persons aboard the first bus brought stories of complete ruin. Very few have managed to save more than the clothes on their backs. Some even had to accept clothes from individuals and charity organizations.

Isolated 29 Hours

They told how fifty persons sat out the storm atop the boiler room of Harvey Smith's factory. They were isolated for 29 hours during the peak of the storm. When they were picked up by an oil barge, every person was accounted for.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rose of Beaufort were picked up from the roof of a house. The house had gone under, but the roof was still floating. They tied themselves and their son Larry together with rope. They were hospitalized for treatment for rope burns.

The survivors said that many of the men were staying in Cameron to take part in clean-up and salvage operations. They said that all of Mr. Smith's boats were taken to Moss Point and were saved.

No Boats Lost

W. E. Baughman, manager of the Morehead City plant of Wallace Fisheries said that none of the Wallace boats were lost. He said that George Roberts Wallace was presumed to be in Cameron now. He left New Orleans Sunday by plane.

Neither of the companies have released plans for rebuilding plants at Cameron.

County Accepts Deed to Harbor At Sea Level

Carteret County became the owner of new docks and landing area constructed at Sea Level for community use when the county commissioners formally accepted the deed in the county's name at their regular monthly meeting yesterday.

Land for the building of the docks was given by one of the commissioners, Harrell Taylor, and $1,000 of the cost of dock construction was donated by Tilghman Taylor. Both are Sea Level residents. Part of the dock cost was given by the government.

The commissioners passed a resolution directed to the State Highway Department recommending that Waterfront Avenue at Broad Creek be hard surfaced and maintained by the department.

The commissioners also directed that an investigation be instituted to determine why the State Highway Department has done nothing about maintaining the Ray Davis Road at Marshallberg. This matter was first brought to the attention of the department more than a year ago.

A request from the County Board of Education for the old fence around the county jail for use around the Harkers Island school, was tabled.

Direct Shipment Arrives Saturday

Machine and Supply Co., located on the Morehead City-Beaufort causeway, received a shipment of wire rope from Antwerp Saturday. This marked the first time that the company had been able to have the cables shipped direct from Antwerp to Morehead City.

The shipments have previously come via Norfolk. This, of course, meant an inland freight bill. This shipment consisted of 6,000 pounds of wire rope.

Heide and Co., agents for the Holland-American line, made arrangements for the shipment to come to Morehead City aboard the Kinderdyk.

Two Defendants Draw 30-Day Jail Sentences

Two defendants drew jail terms in county recorder's court Thursday morning at the courthouse, Beaufort. Willie Mosley and John Taylor, both convicted of public drunkenness, began serving their time immediately.

Mosley will spend 30 days working on the courthouse lawn. Taylor was sentenced to 30 days on the roads.

John H. Lee, originally charged with driving drunk, was fined $200 and costs for careless and reckless driving.

Charles H. Tolin, who was apprehended by the Highway Patrol the week before, was not tried for larceny of an automobile or driving without a license. He was fined $100 for driving drunk.

Tolin was picked up when Highway Patrolmen R. H. Brown and William Sykes noticed that someone was driving Constable George Smith's car along the shoulder of the road. They returned Mr. Smith's car before he knew that it was missing.

William P. McKenney and Robert W. Smith were ordered to pay $25 and costs for cutting the mooring lines of a boat. They were also ordered to pay the owner of the boat $15.

McKenney was in court on a second charge, damaging personal property. He was ordered to pay $75 to the prosecuting witness.

Pay $800 and Costs
William E. Pittman and Jerry Lee Jones were found guilty of breaking, entering and larceny. They were ordered to pay court costs and pay $80 to Douglas Hoffman.

Leonard West was put on five years good behavior by Judge Lambert Morris. A two-year sentence was suspended on payment of costs, staying on good behavior and supporting his minor children. West was charged with assault.

Three defendants were fined $25 and costs. James Lebingston was fined for public drunkenness and breaking jail. Albert T. Johnson and William E. Franks were found guilty of using loud and profane language in public.

Albert B. McLaughlin was fined $15 and costs for careless and reckless driving.

Two Bad Check Cases
Two defendants were ordered to pay court costs and honor bad checks they had passed. They were Mrs. Gerneal Coleman and M. A. Edwards.

Defendants paying $10 and costs were: Earl Taylor, James Forbes, Ida Mae James, Elinor Johnson, Stanley Woodland, chairman of

Closed for Fourth

Public buildings, including post-offices, town halls in Morehead City, Beaufort and Newport, the courthouse, and governmental agencies will be closed Thursday, July Fourth.

THE NEWS-TIMES office will be closed the Fourth, but Friday's paper will appear as usual.

Businesses that will be closed for the day are listed on page four, section two.

Tax Collections Hit 20 Per Cent

Nearly 20 per cent of the 1957 tax levy has already been collected, E. O. Moore, county tax collector, reported to the board of county commissioners yesterday.

The amount is $99,465.71 and the exact percentage of collection is 19.44.

The 1956 tax levy has been collected by 92.25 per cent, collections in June on the 1956 levy being $3,412.87.

During June Mr. Moore also collected $1,518.71 on 1955 and prior taxes and $1,991.50 on Schedule B taxes.

He also showed the county commissioners the following letter received from A. D. Capehart of Oxford, a Carteret County landowner, which was enclosed with Mr. Capehart's 1957 tax payment:

"Gentlemen: I think your county is one of the best, if not the best run county in North Carolina. Sincerely, A. D. Capehart."

County Commissioners Hear Budget Requests

Carteret County's Commissioners sweated through the annual budget session yesterday from middle morning until late afternoon.

The first petitioning department heard was the Welfare Department which dips heavily into the county till.

The Welfare Department needs $79,803 of the county funds. Federal and State funds will augment the sum by $376,116. The commissioners OK'd the request.

Stanley Woodland, chairman of

Board Takes Time to Give Vote of Thanks

Carteret County commissioners took time out during their busy annual budget session yesterday to commend all law enforcement officers working in the county, the U. S. Coast Guard and Sanitarian A. B. Fulford.

The first of the three commendatory resolutions was proposed by Chairman Moses Howard. That praised all law enforcement officers from constables through the ranks of municipal, county and state highway patrol officers.

The second resolution, proposed by Commissioner Odell Merrill, praises the U. S. Coast Guard for its vigilance in inspecting private boats, especially those from out-of-county whose owners are not generally aware of the perils of the sea.

The third, proposed by Commissioner Skinner Chalk, commended Sanitarian Fulford and pledged him the full support of the commissioners in the fulfillment of his duties.

Decorator Announces List Of Water Parade Floats

Eight Morehead City organizations have contracted to enter floats in the Centennial water parade, announces decorator Jack Finch. The Centennial committee has made arrangements to enter floats in both the street and water parades.

Other organizations entering floats are Morehead City Garment Co., Sears, Fry Roofing Co., Parker Motor Co., Sanitary Fish Market and Restaurant and the Town of Morehead City. The Town of Beaufort has also entered a float.

the department, announced his resignation and stated that the State Welfare Board has appointed Mason Garner of Newport to take his place. The other two members of the board are Mrs. Mildred Holland, Beaufort, and Corbett H. Davis, Marshallberg. Mr. Woodland commended Miss Georgia Hughes, welfare head, for the work she does. The commissioners, in turn commended Mr. Woodland for the work he has done.
