Fire Departments Called

The Parakeet, a restaurant owned by Stanley Lockhart on High-way 70 cast of the Ocean Park drive in theatre, burned to the ground early Sunday morning. Mr. Lockhart estimated his loss at $28,000. Insurance, he said, covered less than a quarter of the loss. Equipment from four fire de-partments answered the alarm. The alarm was sounded at 5 a.m. Morehead City had two trucks on the scene, Atlantic Beach, one, Beaufort, two, and Newport, one. E. Cleveland, Greensboro

Daily News circulation manager in this area, is credited by firemen with discovery of the fire. Nolan McCabe, of the Morehead City West End station, said Cleveland saw smoke coming from the place and gave the alarm.

The restaurant had not been in operation. Until a few months ago Mr. Lockhart said he had rented it as a furniture storage place. The equipment in it included two gas ranges, two large counters, a walkin cooler, deep freeze and other restaurant furniture.

Mr. Lockhart believes the fire may have started from defective wiring. He said he has no imme-diate plans to rebuild.

Other fire stations were called to protect the homes and business property surrounding the restau-
