ated, an additional hospital wing and the out-patient clinic, will be open to the public after lunch. State, county and town dignitaries have been invited to the ceremony. The dedication comes on the fourth anniversary of the construction of the Sea Level Community Hospital. Since that time a nurses' home has also been added. With the new wing, the hospital will have a capacity of approximately 50 beds.

Farm-City Leaders Hope Special Week Will Foster Closer Cooperation

By R. M. WILLIAMS
County Agent

Both the rural and urban people here in Carteret County are asked to cooperate with the people throughout the nation and Canada in observance of Farm-City Week beginning today and continuing through Thanksgiving Day.

W. C. Carlton, Carteret County chairman of Farm-City Week, has emphasized the extreme importance of a better understanding and closer cooperation of the rural and urban people.

The purpose of this observance is to focus attention on the interdependence of farm and city people and to bring about better rural-urban relations.

We must all admit that agriculture is passing through a stage of internal revolution. Many rapid changes are taking place. Towns and cities are growing with thousands of their people finding their way into the country to live. The long distance relationship that once existed between the city and country people is rapidly fading away.

Improved roads, automobiles, radios, television, electric lights, telephones, improved educational facilities and the many other modern conveniences have been an important factor in bringing about closer cooperation and better understanding of each other's problems.

Even though the nation's agricultural population is growing smaller all the time, the non-farm population should never discount the economic importance of agriculture to the nation's economy. We must ever be mindful of the fact that the grass roots farmer is still playing an important part in feeding and clothing all the people of the world.

Even though the answers are not always simple, as farm and town people become better acquainted personally, and as they view each other's problems with mutual good will, the answers themselves will become more clear.

TB Seal Leaders Will Appeal To Civic Groups

R. M. Williams, county TB seal chairman, reported this week that special appeals will be made to civic organizations to support the TB Christmas seal sale.

A movie will be shown tonight at the Carteret Business and Professional Women's Club meeting. The movie is also scheduled to be shown to Rotary Clubs in the county, Lions, Parent-Teacher Associations and women's clubs.

A short film will also be shown at movies. The County Ministers' Association will be asked next month to set aside one Sunday as Christmas seal Sunday, Mr. Williams said.

Home economics teachers in Atlantic, Beaufort, Morehead City and Newport have been asked to have their students put window displays in their respective towns. FHA girls have also been asked to sell the stamps from booths in the downtown areas Dec. 7, 14 and 21.

Letters containing seals were mailed to 4,250 persons Friday. On the first day of returns the total received was $40.05.

Mr. Williams states that it is important that everyone help fight TB. In Carteret in the past five years there have been 54 cases and 22 deaths due to TB.

Mayor George Dill, Morehead City, Mayor Leon Mann, Newport, and Mayor Clifford Lewis, Beaufort, discuss the current TB Christmas seal drive and request citizens to cooperate in the fight against tuberculosis by purchasing the seals.

Morehead City to Greet Christmas Season with Parade Monday, Dec. 2

Car Hits Stopped Pickup Monday

The rear of a 1957 Ford pickup truck was knocked in at 9:15 Monday night on the Beaufort draw bridge.

Driver and owner of the truck was Haywood Snell, Beaufort, who had his two children, Joanne and Phil, with him. The 1953 Dodge which struck the pickup was driven by William Bilbo, who has been charged with driving drunk and careless and reckless driving.

Patrolman J. W. Sykes, who investigated, said Snell was headed east, stopped, waiting for the drawbridge to close when Bilbo came up from the rear.

Snell suffered a rib injury and his daughter got a bump on the head. Damage to the pickup was estimated at $200.

Morehead City businessmen, at a meeting yesterday noon, set Monday night, Dec. 2, as the date for the Christmas parade. The parade will start at 7 p. m.

From 6:30 to 7, Mrs. Austin Williams will direct a choir composed of members of all churches. They will sing Christmas carols in front of the Wallace home at 8th and Arendell Streets.

Santa Claus will be in the parade, as well as members of the football team, representatives of 4-H Clubs, Boy and Girl Scouts and Cub Scouts. Car dealers will be invited to enter their new model cars in the parade.

The Christmas lights will be turned on Dec. 2 and if the weather is bad on that day, the parade will be held the following day. Beginning the first week in December, the stores will stay open Friday, Saturday and Monday nights until 9 p. m. Tickets in the town's give away program will be given tomorrow for the first time. Each dollar purchase entitles the shopper to a chance to win cash prizes.

SPA Announces Dec. 3 Session

Members of the State Ports Authority have scheduled a meeting for Tuesday, Dec. 3, at Pinehurst. Meanwhile, prospects for the port director's job are being interviewed, some of the interviews being conducted in New York.

Members of the authority toured the Morehead City port Tuesday morning. Col. Richard S. Marr, retiring ports director, appeared and made the tour with the SPA, accompanied by Mayor George Dill, Morehead City, and J. D. Holt, port manager.

The authority seemed favorably impressed with the facilities and were shown locations for new warehousing and the new water tank to be constructed at the port. SPA members visited Morehead City following a tour of the port facilities at Wilmington, the waterfront at Southport and the Army installation at Sunny Point.

They stayed at the Morehead Biltmore and were entertained at dinner Monday night at the Blue Ribbon Club.

Instructor Says Square Dancing Proves Popular

Fred Parrish, instructor of folk and square dancing, reports that Tuesday night's first session of dancing at the recreation building, Morehead City, was most successful.

Twenty-five persons attended. The dances, a new addition to the adult recreation program, will be held every Tuesday night, beginning at 8 o'clock.

During the dance course this coming Tuesday another Russian dance, the hopak, will be taught, as well as new western quadrilles and more figures for the circle dance.

Music is provided by records and a public address system. Women should wear low heels and wide skirts and men may wear sports shirts.

Mrs. Milton Roush, who attended the dance Tuesday night, said everyone "had a grand time and the teacher is just wonderful."

Dr. Jerry Norris Returns Home to Start Practice

Dr. Louis Jerome Norris Jr., who this month started medical practice in Morehead City, is the first doctor to return to Morehead City, his birthplace, to practice since Dr. Ben Royal came back home in 1910.

Dr. Norris, better known as Dr. Jerry Norris, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Norris, 806 Arendell St. Born in 1928, he attended Morehead City schools and was salutatorian of his graduating class in 1945.

After four years at the University of North Carolina, he went to the UNC medical school for two years, then transferred to New York University College of Medicine where he graduated in 1954.

He interned at the Naval Hospital, Portsmouth, Va. From there he went to the School of Aviation Medicine, Pensacola, Fla. He served as Naval flight surgeon after his graduation there in December 1955 and was stationed at Cherry Point until Nov. 1 of this year.

Opens Office
On that day he formally opened his office on N. 7th Street, Morehead City.

The menhaden fleet operating out of Carteret ports reaches a new milestone this season with use of refrigerated boats in this area for the first time.

Six boats of the fleet have refrigeration equipment — the Tiny Tim and Li'l Abner, fishing for the Fish Meal Co., the Lois C, Moss Point, and Lois Kaye, fishing for Standard Products; and the Al-garvio, fishing for Wallace.

Harvey Smith of the Fish Meal Co., Beaufort, reports that his boats proved highly satisfactory in the Gulf, allowing catches to be made farther offshore and permitting the boats to stay out until they got a full load.

The fish are held in water below 40 degrees. This prevents deterioration and subsequent loss of valuable oil.

Although the boats are expensive to operate, they have proved economical in the long run. With refrigerated holds, many of the tons of fish lost last season because the factories were overloaded, could have been saved.

The Tiny Tim and Li'l Abner are 200 feet long, 36-foot beam, and can carry close to 800 tons of fish. Captain of the Tiny Tim is Marvin Lewis, Morehead City, and Elmo Murphy, Beaufort, captains the Li'l Abner.

Master of the Moss Point is Capt. Ashton Willis and captain of the Algarvio is Bartlett Haynie.

The Lois C's captain is Romie Willis, Salter Path, and captain of the Lois Kaye is Elmer Dudley, Lennoxville.

The fleet this season will number between 60 and 75 boats.

Menhaden crews started fishing the middle of last week. Some boats made good catches Monday, others were plagued by sharks in the nets.

Bad weather forced most of the boats to stay at docks Tuesday and Wednesday, but Thursday dawned bright and calm and the whole fleet was out.

The early catches were made north of Hatteras, but boats were working yesterday both north and south of Hatteras shoals. If the weather is good, there are prospects of a good season.

The menhaden fishermen were pleased that the Coast Guard moved the buoys last week marking the new channel at Ocracoke. If they hadn't done that, the boats couldn't have made port at Ocracoke Monday night.

Contracts Let For Kitchen, Beaufort School

Contracts let for the new kitchen for the Beaufort School cafeteria total $25,392. The County Board of Education opened bids at a special meeting Monday afternoon at the education office, Beaufort.

Wilton and Morton, Newport, was awarded the general contract, $15,053. Plumbing will be installed by Beaufort Plumbing, $7,210; the heating contract went to Syron Plumbing and Heating, Morehead City, $1,870, and Blanchard's Electric Service, Morehead City, received the electrical contract, $1,259.

The new kitchen will be built adjacent to the metal building at the rear of the school. The metal building will serve as the dining area. The dining area will be 24 by 90 feet and will probably seat 300, which will mean that all the children can be served in approximately three shifts.

The present kitchen and dining hall will be converted to classrooms. Usable equipment in the present kitchen will be placed in the new one.

New equipment will include a walk-in refrigerator. The Beaufort PTA is planning to meet a large share of the cost of equipping the new kitchen.

Officers Locate Harlowe Still

A seven-box still was blown up at Harlowe in Craven County yesterday morning after Carteret ABC Officer Marshall Ayscue, Sheriff Hugh Salter, Deputy Bruce Edwards and two federal officers located it soon after midnight Wednesday.

Officers received information that the still was in operation and got to the site, in a swamp, early yesterday morning. The still was in operation; only some spent mash was there.

As the sheriff was leaving, driving over pine logs laid to make a road across the swamp, his car slipped off and went into the muck.

To get it back on the "road", the officers had to jack it up. The sheriff was behind, lifting his car, with the trunk lid up. A jolt knocked the lid down, broke his glasses and cut him across his right temple.

The officers got home about 5 o'clock yesterday morning and at 8:30 the ABC officer, sheriff and Deputy Edwards picked up Alf Anderson Sr. and Alf Anderson Jr. on highway 101 and charged them with transporting non-taxpaid whiskey.

The Andersons were in county court yesterday to be tried on their third charge of violation of whiskey laws.

State Home Demonstration Officer Will Speak to Club Women Tonight

Home Demonstration Club women will hear a report tonight on the recent triennial meeting of the Associated Countrywomen of the World. The report will be given by Mrs. L. B. Pate, chairman of the State Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs.

Mrs. Pate will speak at the Home Demonstration achievement program which begins at 7:30 at the American Legion building, Beaufort.

Mrs. Pate, who attended the triennial meeting at Ceylon, India, will illustrate her talk with slides. The Home Demonstration Club woman of the year will be chosen. Nominations for the honor have been made by club women. She will receive electrical appliances and other gifts. Announcement of the winner will be made by Miss Ruth Wilson, CP&L home economist.

Mrs. Floy Garner will present other awards. She will also install county council officers for 1958 and 1959. They are Mrs. Dyon Simpson, president; Mrs. R. L. Searle, vice-president; Mrs. Stanley Gillikin, secretary, and Mrs. D. R. Arnold, treasurer.

The Gloucester Chorus, Mrs. Richard Whitehurst, director, will sing three numbers. Mrs. W. G. Simpson, county council secretary, will give the welcome and Mrs. Charles Webb Davis, president of the Beaufort Woman's Club, will extend greetings.

Mrs. Monroe Whitehurst, president of the county council, will preside and Mrs. Billy Smith will review accomplishments of the past year.

The dress revue originally planned for the achievement program has been incorporated in the report of 1957 achievements.

Emeritus Club Discusses State Park Overlook

At a meeting of the Emeritus Club Monday night at the civic center, N. L. Walker spoke on the importance of the club's working to obtain an overlook off the highway on Port Macon Road.

Mr. Walker said that an overlook and similar projects should be completed by 1958. President George Huntley named a committee to confer on the matter with the state park superintendent, Ray Pature.

The club will have its annual Christmas party Dec. 16.

An expression of sympathy was extended to the family of Charles A. Farrar, who died recently. He had been a member of the club for about a year.

Shriners to Meet

The Carteret County Shrine Club will meet at 7 p. m. Saturday at Captain Bill's Waterfront Restaurant.
