Former Resident Marries

Mrs. Kenneth Randall Harvey Jr.

The wedding of Miss Sandra Lee Smith and Kenneth Randall Harvey Jr. took place Sunday, Dec. 22, at four o'clock in the afternoon at Aldersgate Methodist Church, Savannah, Ga.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Smith of Savannah, formerly of Morehead City. Mr. Harvey Sr. of Savannah, and Mrs. Harvey Sr. of Savannah.

The Rev. William Harry Moore performed the double ring ceremony. Nuptial music was presented by Mrs. S. M. Goleman, organist, aunt of the bridegroom, and Miss Helen Guillott of Charleston, S. C., cousin of the bridegroom.

Standards of white gladiolas and white pom poms flanked by palms and seven branch candelabras decorated the sanctuary.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of chantilly lace and tulle. The lace bodice featured a sweetheart neckline, scattered with sequins and seed pearls. The long sleeves tapering to a point, extended over the hands.

The floor length ruffled tulle skirt had an overskirt of lace and tulle panels. Her two tiered veil of French illusion was attached to a tiara of seed pearls and sequins.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid and showered with white satin ribbons. Her only accessory was a single-strand of pearls given to her by the groom.

Miss Doris Jordan, maid of honor, wore a dress of turquoise blue taffeta with a net overskirt and matching sash forming a bow in back with long streamers that extended to the hem line.

Her matching hat was satin trimmed and she carried a cresent bouquet of better times carnations.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Charles P. Mann, aunt of the bride, and Miss Juliann Levison. They were dressed identical to the maid of honor, in shell pink taffeta and carried cresent bouquets of pink carnations.

Ruth Marie Smith, sister of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a turquoise blue taffeta dress with white net overskirt and carried a turquoise blue lined basket.

Mr. Kenneth R. Harvey Sr. was best man. Ushers were Freddie Oglesby cousin of the bride, of Morehead City, N. C., Richard Coleman, cousin of the groom, Hershel L. Harrell and Lehman W. Godbee.

Mrs. James H. Smith, mother of the bride, chose a dress of silk lace over shimmering taffeta in soft rose pink. The dress with a moderately scooped-scalloped neckline, had three quarter length sleeves, pinch pleated at the cuff line, fitted in the bodice, and flowing wide to a billowing skirt. She wore matching satin accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Harvey, mother of the groom, chose a pink silk lace over taffeta and net which featured a round neckline that came to a point in the back. The skirt was flared with a matching taffeta hip bow. Her accessories were of winter white satin and a deep purple orchid corsage.

Mrs. Fred Sanders, grandmother of the bride, wore a teal blue crepe dress with black accessories and a white carantion corsage. Mrs. Ollie Smith, grandmother of the bride, wore a slate blue silk organza dress with black accessories.

Mrs. Sebastian Ramano, grandmother of the groom, wore a navy blue crepe dress with black accessories and pink carnations. Mrs. James Harvey, grandmother of the groom, wore a sapphire blue crepe dress with navy accessories and pink carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church social hall. The bride's table was covered with a white satin cloth with a tulle overskirt. The table was centered with a four tiered cake, flanked by silver candelabras, white carnations and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Pauline Shannon cut the cake. Mrs. Joseph Quadrella and Mrs. Joseph Carano served punch. Assisting in serving were Miss Frances Quadrella, Miss Sylvia Davis, Miss Margaret Westberry and Miss Jane Salter. Miss Judy Carter registered the guests.

For their wedding trip to Florida, Mrs. Harvey chose a turquoise soft wool suit with black accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Ollie Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Oglesby and children, Patty and Donald of Morehead City, N. C.

Medical Profession Hopes To Number Usual Ailments

(Editor's Note: This column is sponsored by the Carteret County Tuberculosis Association).

The doctor tells you that you can tell quickly that "dermatitis venenata" is poison ivy, or 110-3001. The number system is similar to the Dewey Decimal System used in almost all libraries. By a series of numbers it narrows a term down from a broad category to a specific part of the body, tells just what's wrong there and what caused it.

You'll notice that poison ivy starts with the same combination of numbers as athlete's foot because they're both skin troubles, but from there on they separate in no uncertain terms.

One of the big jobs was to cut down the number of terms used by physicians to describe specific ailments. There are more than 2,000 terms in use referring to tumors. Many are inaccurate or misleading. Another problem was the number of diseases named after men discovering them, such as Addison's disease, Parkinson's disease. There might be six different diseases bearing the same name in one form or another.

Suppose you move to a new town, and take your medical records to a new doctor. He might find them confusing if he couldn't rely on the Standard Nomenclature of Diseases and Operations.

The nomenclature contains more than 16,000 medical terms in good

Wed at Cherry Point

Mrs. Lewis Slepia

In a ceremony Friday evening at seven o'clock at the Base Chapel, Cherry Point, Mrs. Swannano Westbrook of Havelock, formerly of this city, and M/Sgt. Lewis Slepia, USMC, were united in marriage.

Chaplain Honeycutt performed the double ring ceremony against a background of gladiolas, poinsettias and greenery. Mrs. Theodore Phillips of Morehead City, organist, and Mrs. Ida Reynolds of Newport, soloist, provided wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by Mr. D. H. Mansfield. She wore a street length dress of light blue lace and taffeta with matching accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with pastel carnations.

Mrs. Lillie Martin was the bride's only attendant. She wore an aqua taffeta dress with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

T/Sgt. Wilbert Martin was best man and ushers were T/Sgt. Don Beck and S/Sgt. Ronnie Mead. All are in the Marine Corps stationed at Cherry Point.

A small reception was held at the bride's home immediately following the ceremony.
