Tourists Queried on Their Interest in Proposed Ferry between Manteo and Southport are asking tourists to sign petitions.

The tourists are shown a map of the coast. In red is the 20-mile route a car ferry would travel between Ocracoke and Cedar Is-land. In blue is the 300-mile route from Ocracoke north through Man little Washington and south to Cartéret. The 300-mile route is the on that has to be taken to reach the central North Carolina coast again, after outer banks travelers go as far south as they can, to Ocracoke

The petitions are being supplied by the All Seashore Highway Asso A. DuBois, Morehead ciation, J. City, secretary.

As soon as one page is filled, the hotel or motel operator is asked to date it and mail it di rectly to the governor.

The governor requested a repor on how many persons might be expected to use a state-operated ferry between Ocracoke and Cedar Island. A survey firm was con-tacted but it wanted $10,000 for the job, so the petition idea was decided upon.

Also indicated on the map is the proposed ferry route, another coas-tal highway link at Fort Fisher, south of Wilmington.

Board Promises Help on Request For Telephones

In response to requests from Bogue Banks residents at Salter Path and Emerald Isle, county commissioners agreed yesterday to Bettie. write to Carolina Telephone and Telegraph to ask that phones be installed in those communities.

Sheriff Hugh Salter, who passed the request to the board in behalf of the Salter Path and Emerald of the Saiter Path and Emeraid Isle residents, said those residents would like to know whether the phone company plans to put phones in soon. If not, they want to make other arrangements to get phone service.

The board also authorized forwarding of petitions for a mosquito control district to the State Board of Health. Appearing before the board relative to the matter were F, C. Noyes and Ed Willard, Sea. Level, and Lt. Cdr. John McCormack, Atlantic.

Water Accidents Occur

In Carteret

RTERET COUNTY NEWS

Other than a few minor auto accidents, the Fourth of July week-end passed quietly in Carteret. There were no fatalities on the highways or in the water.

Duane Harvey, Davis, suffered a scrious neck injury, however, when he dived into shallow water. Harvey was with a group of persons who were coming from the banks in a boat.

They stopped to go swimming and Harvey, instead of making a shallow dive, dove deep. The water was about 3 feet deep.

He floated to the surface, was pulled aboard the boat and rushed to Sea Level Hospital.
