Junior-Senior Prom Tonight; Annual Proofs, Cards Arrive

By BUNNY MOORE
"Tonight is the big night!" The long-awaited event will begin tonight at 7:30. If you happen to be on hand in Morehead City tonight and you see full-tailed dresses and white coats you'll know that the junior-senior prom is taking place.

Last Thursday the home economics girls put on a fashion show for the high school chapel program. Prizes were given to two girls for the two best garments. These prizes were awarded to Paula Williams and Brenda Dice.

Also as part of the program the freshmen girls gave a devotional program. Another award was received by Pauline Woodard; this was the Betty Crocker award.

On Tuesday of this week the seniors found another surprise waiting for them. The proofs of the Annual for 1958-59 had arrived. Now for the day to come when everyone will find out whom the seniors thought so much of that they dedicated their annual to them.

Also the seniors had another treat this week. Their calling cards arrived after months of waiting. It seems like there are always a few that have to be different.

Everyone ordered white cards with black printing on them; but not Sammy Merrill and Frank Potter. Their cards look as if they have turned yellow with age. All joking aside, their cards are really very pretty.

Prize winning rooms in the paint-up, clean-up contest were awarded last week. These rooms are Mrs. Rhoder, Mrs. Bonner, Miss Green, Mrs. Brooks, and Mrs. Bever.

A prize of one dollar was awarded each room. The Woman's Club wishes to thank everyone who helped in the campaign to clean things up.
