

C&D Board to Meet Monday At Morehead Biltmore Hotel

Morehead City will be host to the summer meeting of the Board of Conservation and Development Sunday through Tuesday. The board returns after two years, having held its summer meeting last year at Wilmington.

Business will actually get under way Monday. The social portion of the meeting will start with a social hour and buffet dinner at the Dunes Club at 5:30 p.m. Sunday, July 12. Hosts will be D. G. Bell, chairman of the state commercial fisheries committee and the town of Morehead City.

Miles J. Smith, first vice-chairman of the board, will preside at the business sessions. At 8:30 a.m. Monday in the Sea Level room of the Morehead Biltmore hotel the Rev. Charles L. Kirby, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Morehead City, will give the invocation.

Dr. Ben F. Royal, Morehead City, will welcome the board. W. Eugene Simmons will respond. Among the guests to be recognized will be John Reeves, chairman of the State Ports Authority, which also will meet later at the commercial fisheries building.

During the general business session, scheduled to begin at 8:45, reports will be given by the following: William P. Saunders, director; J. Edgar Kirk, assistant director; Charles Parker, advertising; Walter W. Harper, commerce and industry; C. G. Holland, commercial fisheries.

Col. Harry E. Brown, hurricane rehabilitation; F. H. Claridge, forestry; Jasper L. Stuckey, mineral resources; Thomas W. Morse, parks, and Col. B. C. Snow, water resources, inlets and coastal waterways.

The board will lend its ears to the public at 9:45, hearing any matter within its jurisdiction.

The meeting will end at 10 and the following committees will meet at 10:15: advertising, in the Sea Level room; subcommittee for processing and packaging food, products, east mezzanine; and water resources, inlets and coastal waterways, east room next to the dining room.

The board will lunch Monday aboard the USCG training ship, Unimak, which will be in local waters next week.

Committees which will meet Monday afternoon will be commercial fisheries, mineral resources, parks, and forestry.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Barris, Kinston, will entertain the board at a social hour and buffet dinner at the Coral Bay Club at 6:30 Monday night.

The commerce and industry and community planning committees will meet Tuesday morning. The Morehead City chamber of commerce will be host at lunch at 12:30 at the Morehead City Country Club.

At the final business session Tuesday afternoon, reports will be heard from the following committees: advertising, commerce and industry, commercial fisheries, community planning, forestry, mineral resources, parks, and water resources, inlets and coastal waterways.

Members of the board are Gov. Luther Hodges, chairman; Mr. Smith, Salisbury, first vice-chairman; W. J. Damtoft, Asheville, second vice-chairman; Charles S. Allen, Durham; W. B. Austin, Jefferson, Mr. Bell, Morehead City; F. J. Boling, Siler City; H. C. Buchan Jr., North Wilkesboro; Scoop W. Enloe Jr., Spruce Pine; Voit Gilmore, Southern Pines; Amos R. Kearns, High Point; H. C. Kennett, Durham; R. W. Martin, Raleigh.

Lorimer W. Midgett, Elizabeth City; Hugh M. Morton, Wilmington; Mr. Simmons, Tarboro, and Max Watson, Spindale.

Board Selects Pupil Insuror

The county board of education, in session Monday, voted to continue carrying school pupil insurance with the Walker Insurance Agency of Charlotte.

The fee will be $1.75 per pupil, if the parents wish to carry the insurance, an increase of 50 cents over last year. The maximum payable under the new policy is $3,500, as compared with a $2,500 maximum last year.

According to H. L. Joslyn, county superintendent of schools the C. R. Wheatly family of Beaufort collected the full amount on the insurance policy this year, when Edward Wheatly was injured by a car on his way home from school.

The education board fixed the pay date for teachers during 1958-59 on the 20th of each month with the exception of the last month when teachers are paid only after their work is completed.

This sketch by J. A. DuBos, Morehead City chamber of commerce manager, shows where the proposed Atlantic-Ocracoke car-passenger ferry will land at Atlantic. Dan Taylor, who with his three brothers will operate the ferry, said Saturday that the first run of the ferry will be Labor Day, Sept. 7.

The arrow shows the entrance to Silver Lake at Ocracoke. The ferry will enter the lake and proceed to its dock in front of the Silver Lake Inn.

Citizens Appear at Board Meeting to Protect Library

A large number of people appeared before the Beaufort town board Monday night to request that the county library be given $600 in 1959-60. In the proposed budget, this item had been eliminated.

Mrs. W. L. Woodard, a member of the library board, remarked that a library is most essential if the town is interested in attracting people and new industry. (The library board says that elimination of the $600 item would mean that the library would have to close because there would be no money available to pay personnel).

Others speaking in favor of funds for the library were Mrs. Charles W. Davis, Dr. John Verberg, and Mrs. John Brooks.

Among those attending the meeting were Mrs. M. L. Davis, Charles W. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Moore, Mrs. Edward Arrington.

Miss Amy Muse, Miss Annie Morton, Mrs. E. H. Potter, Mrs. C. R. Wheatly and Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Brown.

Later, C. R. Wheatly Jr., town attorney, offered $600 of his $900 annual salary to the library. The mayor and board accepted the offer, contingent upon finding the funds elsewhere to meet library expense.

The proposed 1959-60 budget was discussed. Dan Walker said that the auditor from Williams and Wall is expected to be here in several weeks. Several of the com-

Newport Mayor Names Officials For Current Term

Mayor Leon Mann Jr., Newport, made appointments for the coming two years at the town board meeting Tuesday night at the town hall.

Wilbur Garner was appointed mayor pro-tem and fire commissioner; Leslie Bercegeay was named sanitation supervisor (garbage, mosquito control), recreation officer and town representative in the community development association.

John Kelly was reappointed street commissioner; B. R. Garner, water commissioner and supervisor of equipment and purchases; Dick Lockey, administration commissioner and police commissioner; Miss Edith Lockey, town clerk and treasurer.

Junius Creech, water department administrator; George Ball, town attorney; and the following planning commissioners: Mr. Bercegeay, chairman; Mrs. Floy Garner, R. L. Pruitt, R. L. Fleming Jr., and Dalton B. Rhue.

The board authorized Josiah Bailey to do the town audit, providing it can be finished in less than six months. The street commissioner was asked to investigate a drainage problem at Roy T. Garner's and the board authorized purchase of marl for spreading on the east side of the railroad, preparatory to paving.

The board authorized payment of $5 to A. L. Wilson, for administering the oath of office to new town officials. The mayor said he believes that Eastover Court may be paved within the next several weeks, depending on when the state paving crew gets in town.

Miss Lockey reported a balance in the general fund July 1 of $1,003. After June bills were ordered paid the balance was approximately $200.

Three New Commissioners Vote in New Clerk, Attorney

After firing Dan Walker, town clerk, and Gene Smith, town attorney, Beaufort's town board Monday night decided to meet in special session to consider plans for incorporating areas adjacent to the town and to give final approval to the budget. The date for the special meeting has not yet been set.

Named as town clerk was Ronald Earl Mason, former Jaycee president and insurance agent. Mr. Mason said Wednesday that he will devote full time to the town clerk's job.

Mayor W. H. Potter later in the meeting expressed hope that each commissioner will operate his own department rather than have the departments operated from the town hall as has been done in the past.

C. R. Wheatly Jr. was named town attorney. Both Mr. Wheatly and Mr. Mason won their offices by a vote of 3 to 2. Voting in favor of them were three commissioners who were on one slate headed by J. O. Barbour Jr. in the May election: Bert Brooks, Billy Davis and Dr. David Farrow.

Voting in favor of Mr. Walker and Mr. Smith were the two re-elected commissioners, W. R. Hamilton and Math Chaplain. Mayor Potter had recommended that Mr. Walker and Mr. Smith be retained.

When Mr. Brooks nominated Mr. Mason as clerk, Mr. Hamilton moved that the matter be tabled. His motion did not carry. By the same 3-2 vote that defeated the tabling motion, Mr. Mason was named clerk.

After a parliamentary procedure hassle when nominations were requested for town attorney, Mr. Wheatly was named attorney.

Gerald Woolard, without debate, became building inspector and director of Civil Defense. Named to the zoning board were D. F. Merrill, chairman, Earl Mason, Holden Ballou, Gilbert Potter and James H. Davis.

Named to the planning board were Odell Merrill, chairman; H. D. Paul, O. S. Clawson, Vic Bellamah, Mrs. Carl Hattell and George Herbert.

On the harbor and planning commission are J. O. Barbour Jr., H. G. Simpson, Charles L. Davis, David Beveridge and George Brooks.

J. G. Hassell was named the town engineer and Mr. Brooks as mayor pro tem. Mayor Potter recommended commissioner Brooks for that position because, he said, he was "high man" on the ticket in the May election.

Three men from this area, F. C. Hoggard, Ocracoke, W. L. Midgett, Harkers Island, and Charles L. Freck, Morehead City, are members of the crew of the Unimak, Coast Guard training ship that will be here this weekend.

The 311-foot Unimak is a floating classroom for Coast Guard recruits. Its complement is 12 officers, 75 enlisted men and a hundred reserve trainees.

Commanding officer is Cdr. Bernhard R. Henry of Annapolis, Md. Rear Adm. P. V. Colmar will entertain members of the Board of Conservation and Development, the State Ports Authority and other dignitaries at luncheon aboard the Unimak at 12:30 p.m. Monday.

Temperature ranges since the first of the month, as recorded by Stacey Davis, Morehead City weather observer, were as follows:

	High	Low	Wind
