Two Morehead City Men Serve Aboard Plane Carrier

Pacific Fleet—Thomas E. Clark, hospital corpsman third class, SNU, son of Mrs. Ann Sykes of 208 N. 19th St., Morehead City, and Jonathan R. Miller, air controlman airman, USN, of 300 Florida Ave., Morehead City, are serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Oriskany, undergoing a "shake-down cruise" (initial training cruise) off the coast of southern California.

The Oriskany, operating out of San Diego, Calif., recently completed a two-year overhaul period at the San Francisco Navy Shipyard. Converting to an "angled deck" and the safer and more efficient "steam" catapults which replace the hydraulic type, the carrier has now taken on the appearance of the Navy's new super attack carriers.

Edward Earl Corbett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leamon Corbett, route 1 Newport, was recently enlisted in the United States Air Force.

According to Sgt. Frank F. Fern-ley, local Air Force recruiter, Airman Corbett qualified for training and was enlisted in the General Field which covers training in photography, food service, air police, printing or aircrew protection.

Sergeant Fernley explained that basic airmen are assigned to headquarters Lackland Military Training Center, Lackland Air Force Base, Texas. Airman Corbett is presently assigned to the Texas base and will remain there for approximately four (4) weeks and then will be reassigned to another base where he will receive additional training along with technical subjects in the General Field.

Airman Corbett is a 1959 graduate of Newport High School.

Clerk of Court Probates, Files Seven Wills

Seven wills were probated and filed recently in the office of the clerk of superior court, Beaufort.

Ruth Noe Sullivan, Beaufort, bequeathed to her sister, Mabel Noe Bectona, her personal property (except money). Money she left was to be divided, a fourth going to her daughter, Daisy Dean Keenan, and the remainder to be divided equally among Mabel Becton, Ann Street Church, Earl M. Noe, William P. Noe and Kate Pierce Atkins.

Mary Martin Dixon, Morehead City, left all her property to her husband, Roy Clifton Dixon, who was also named executor of the estate. The will was drawn in 1956 and witnessed by Virginia W. Sample and James R. Sanders. Helen Gibble Delamar, Beaufort, left to her husband, William T. Delamar, all her personal and real property. He was also named executor. Should he die within 90 days after the death of his wife, the property is to go to their three daughters.

The will was drawn Oct. 17, 1949 and witnessed by Ruth Musser, Marshallberg; Virginia Davis, Straits, and James H. Davis, Beaufort.

Alonzo F. Thomas, Beaufort, left to Betty D. Davis life-time use of his home on Front Street, after her death the home is to go to

John G. Jones, Beaufort, who was named executor of the estate. To Jones was left the deceased's three-fourths interest in lots 34 and 230 in Beaufort; all the remainder of the estate was left to Jones. The will was drawn Feb. 16, 1959 and witnessed by W. H. Taylor and George F. Woolard.

Clyde E. Mason, Morehead City, left $50 each to his sisters, Melissa Mason Brinson and Jennie Mason Jackson. All his property was bequeathed to Raymond P. Hyatt, who was named executor of the estate. The will was drawn April 27, 1952 and witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Stanley and C. H. Freeman.

Eunice E. Paul, Sea Level, left her property to her husband, Norwood, who was named executor. The will was drawn Feb. 17, 1958 and witnessed by T. A. Taylor, H. C. Taylor and Garris W. Gaskill. Harry S. Bell, Beaufort, left his property to his sisters "or their heirs." On his will, written on the front and back of a Spartanburg, S. C. bank check, he noted that he has several inventions which they can have if they are willing and capable of marketing them.

"Otherwise," the will reads, "I believe it best that Ann Rockefeller, Louise Morgan and Princess Margaret Rose develop and market the several inventions . . . they being of potential value above one billion dollars."

Any profit they can spare is to go toward building the Kingdom of which I am the legal heir of the House of David . . ."

The writer of the will then stated how he was descended from Abraham and cited scripture. The will ends as follows: "There is no death for me, only the shedding of my body as an ornament and tool for earthly use. Greetings and love to my dear ones and to my friends for I have seen none that I didn't love."

William Roy Hamilton, chairman of the committee planning an organization for celebrating Beaufort's 250th anniversary, announced yesterday that the meeting set for tomorrow night has been postponed.

A date for the meeting has not yet been set.

Company Fails to Pay After Two-Man Jail Riot

Lexington, Ky. (AP) — Fayette County Fiscal Court got a bill for $157.50 for repairs to the jail after two federal prisoners damaged it.

Purchasing Agent Virgil Kennedy explained to the court he submitted the bill to an insurance company which wrote riot insurance on the jail, but was turned down. "The insurance company said it took three or more to make a riot," Kennedy said.

Camp Cancelled

The encampment planned next week at Camp Swannanoa for Carteret County 4-H members has been postponed on the recommendation of the county health officer, according to county agent, R. M. Williams. The reason for the postponement is the epidemic of polio in Onslow County and other nearby areas.

Two Harry Browns

The Harry Brown, charged with drunkenness in county court last week, was a resident of Beaufort, and not the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Noah Brown of Morehead City.
