

Nation's Conservationists Honored with New Stamp

By M. H. OWENS

Soil conservation stamps went on sale at the local postoffice yesterday. They honor the nation's farmers, agricultural leaders and soil conservation districts.

What were some of the accomplishments of Carteret County farmers and the Lower Neuse Soil Conservation District last year?

County supervisors of the district assisted 17 farmers in developing complete conservation farm plans. These plans included such practices as grass-based rotations, planting bi-color lespedeza for bird food, building firelanes in woodlands, installing tile drains and open ditch construction.

M. H. Owens

Approximately 870 acres of croplands were planted in a crop rotation designed to conserve and improve the soil. There were about 100 acres seeded in tall fescue for a tobacco rotation. Forty acres were seeded in fescue for the first time last year.

A fescue-tobacco rotation will improve the structure or condition of the soil as well as help control nematodes. Seeded in permanent pasture were 150 acres taken out of cropland. About 12 acres were put in coastal bermuda grass, a productive summer pasture crop.

To help prevent and control forest fires, 2,900 feet of paths and firebreaks were built through and around woodland property.

Twenty-five acres of marshland or cropland were improved or planted in food for wildlife. Annual crops such as peas, beans and lespedeza as well as perennials such as bi-color lespedeza were seeded or planted for wildlife food and cover.

Farmers installed 23,442 feet of tile drains, and constructed 16 miles of open ditches. About 800 acres were drained by the tile and ditches and two farm ponds were dug.

Although much has been accomplished by the county farmers, there is still much conservation work to be done.

The county farmers can feel that they, as well as the rest of the nation's conservation farmers, are being honored by the issuance of the world's first conservation stamp. These are four-cent stamps of the commemorative series.

Will you buy some of these stamps for your personal use, showing your appreciation of the nation's farmers for their efforts to conserve the nation's soil?

Demonstration Club Plans Program on Age Problems

By FLOY G. GARNER
Home Economics Agent

Are you 35 years old or 70 years young? There is a difference! Age, we think is not a matter of birthdays. In 1900 the average person in the United States lived to celebrate 45 birthdays. Today, the average person lives to be 69 years old.

During September Home Demonstration Club meetings, we are going to discuss the subject Young at Any Age. I sincerely believe that our program planning committee made a very wise choice in having this program at this particular season so I'm looking forward to having all members present at our regular September club meetings.

And as always, we invite anyone interested to attend the meeting of their choice. Schedules of weekly meetings may be checked in the News Times.

The summer has been a very busy one for club members. In addition to growing, conserving, marketing and other regular summer activities, many of our folks have been attending special out-of-county activities and programs. These out-of-county training programs, as they are incorporated into our county program, will help us to have a program in our county that will be beneficial to all people.

During the past week leaders from our county attended the fourth annual crafts workshop in Manteo. The purpose of this workshop is to train leaders who will return to their counties and teach others. Mrs. E. C. McLawhorn and Mrs. John Ives, our county craft leaders, attended this workshop and have already begun making plans for a similar workshop for our county.

Mrs. C. R. Wheatly taught a class in Italian hemstitching at our Manteo crafts school this year. This class was very popular, and we were very happy to have one from another county doing such a good job in learning quality workmanship.

Mrs. Herman Taylor, Pelletier Club; Mrs. Al Hubbard and Mrs. Emmett Piper, Gloucester Club; Mrs. Joyce Shrake, Harlowe Club; Miss Nina Garner, Newport Club; and Mrs. Ben Jones, Russells Creek Club attended last week's workshop. Each took a different craft and we feel that we have a good group of trained leaders to help provide an opportunity for you to learn a craft of your choice.

Jenny Lynn Garner, one of our 4-H Club members, taught a "quackie" craft.

Mrs. Shrake took a class in making feather hats. She has been asked to teach this for Onslow County in the near future and is making plans to do so (Onslow women did not attend the workshop due to polio).

I would like to urge all our club women to see Mrs. Owen Dail's silhouettes of the sea at the Edgewater Lodge. And, of course, Mr. and Mrs. Piper's sea shell collection. Mrs. Dail is a very interesting person and I feel that each of you would greatly appreciate her enthusiasm and ability to create such interesting stories from materials picked up from our beaches.

And, if you'd like to know the name of any sea shell you find the chances are that Mrs. Piper can tell you. She and Mr. Piper have a most interesting collection on display. I feel sure you will be surprised to know that we have such a variety about.

One hundred and ten people have been through the cancer detection center since we started the appointments June 16. The schedule is full through Sept. 29. We can extend the time, so if you would like to go, it is not too late. Why not get a carload (five to the car) for a trip down in October?

News from ATLANTIC

Aug. 26 — Elaine Saunders returned home Friday from visiting relatives in Norfolk, Va. Her cousin, Sandra Saunders, is visiting with her for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Riels and children left Sunday for their home in Biloxi, Miss., after a long visit here.

Mrs. Gladys Lupton is visiting with her son, Calvin, and his family in Louisiana.

Mrs. Wiley Mason and Mrs. Maxwell D. Simpson gave Mrs. Roland Lupton at her home a house-warming on Aug. 15. Garden flowers were arranged throughout the house.

Games were directed by Mrs. Alvin Beacham. Mrs. Lupton was showered with many lovely gifts.

Refreshments of cake squares and lime ice were served. Friday night at 7:30, the young adult class of Atlantic Methodist Church entertained the MYF. Mr. Charles Caudell read the scriptures.

Games were directed by Joe DeWalt, Mrs. Charles Caudell, Mrs. Carolyn Gaskill and Mrs. Joe DeWalt. Joe Mason Jr. won in the telegram contest.

Mrs. Roderick Hill and Mrs. Caudell presided over the punch bowl of lime sherbet. Peanuts and colorful cup cakes were served.

Mr. Thomas A. Price III and children visited over the weekend with the Donza Lee Morris's. We are happy to know Mrs. Clyde Mason is home from the hospital and doing nicely.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Salter on their new baby.

Pauls Valley, Okla. (AP) — Back in 1913 six girls attending Central State College at Edmond started a circulating letter and have kept it going regularly since that time. Four now live in Oklahoma, one in Oregon, one in Arizona.
