

Eagles Coast to 19-0 Win Over Pamlico Hurricanes

McQueen Scores 3 TD's On Spectacular Runs

By SHIRLEY FREDERICK and CAROLLYN MEIGGS

The Morehead City Eagles, after starting out like Pittsburgh against the Redskins, bogged to a virtual standstill as they eased out a 19-0 win over the winless Hurricanes of Pamlico County high school.

The Eagles scored on the first play of the game when, after receiving the Pamlico kick, Jackie McQueen bolted over tackle and broke into the clear to race 57 yards to the goal line virtually untouched.

Knights Edge Monarchs 6-0 For First Win

After losing five straight games, the Queen Street Knights finally broke into the win column Saturday night as they downed their arch rivals, the Monarchs of W. S. King high school, 6-0 in a game played on the Morehead gridiron.

The Knights, behind the able quarterbacking of Toby Fenderson, rolled for a touchdown midway in the first quarter. The tally proved to be the only score of the night but the 6-0 lead was more than enough for the Knights as the Monarchs failed to pose a serious offensive threat.

Ernest Pasteur, Queen Street's freshman halfback cracked over the goal from 11 yards out after some fine passing by Fenderson had moved the ball deep into Monarch territory. Going for two points on the conversion, the Knights were stopped by the Monarch defense.

Throughout the remainder of the game the Knights were able to dominate most of the offensive play but each time they threatened, they were stopped by the Monarchs. As the final gun sounded the Knights had made their furthest penetration of the last half and had the ball on the six-yard line of Morehead City.

The workhorse of the Queen Street attack turned out to be Ernest Pasteur who carried the ball for an average of 15.6 yards per carry.

The Knights have two more games on their schedule before getting into basketball season. Both of the contests are home affairs and one of the tilts, the Nov. 13 contest with Washington Union high school, will be homecoming. In the other game the Knights will meet the Greene County training school of Snow Hill.

Carteret Unit Asks Your Vote for No. 2

The Carteret Association for Mentally Retarded Children asks that all persons pay particular attention to, and vote for, item No. 2 in the state bond election today.

Item No. 2, if carried, would provide $12,053,000 for more state mental institutions. At present, the Association for Mentally Retarded Children states that there are 1,100 children on the waiting list at the three state schools for the retarded.

The bond issue would provide improvements at present schools and provide for the building of a school in western North Carolina.

Seadogs Arrive as Grid Power

The football field at Beaufort high school was the only thing that was affected by the rain Friday as the pre-game downpour failed to put a damper on either the Homecoming festivities or the play of the league leading Seadogs.

Beaufort, in downing tough Robersonville 26-6, displayed probably more power Friday night than in any previous game this year. On a field that resembled a swamp more than a gridiron the Seadogs hit like lightning and kept on pounding and grinding to roll up four touchdowns on a team that was rated even with the Seadogs before the game.

Beaufort fullback Ernest (Power) House was magnificent in the win. His hard charges into the Ram line completely demoralized the Robersonville defense. When he hit the line and there was no hole open, he still managed four or five yards as he made his own holes. As the Robersonville coach was heard to comment after the game, "There's one boy who gets my vote as all-conference fullback."

While House was giving Robersonville fits on the ground Butch Hassell was drawing gasps of unbelief with one of the finest passing displays I have ever seen. The classy quarterback was simply great Friday night. Johnny Unitas couldn't have been any more help to the Seadogs than Butch was.

Completing the rout of the Rams was the play of the Beaufort forward wall. The best backfield in the world is helpless without blocking in front of them and Friday night the five players between Calvin and David Jones were providing that protection. In football, it is generally agreed that the team on the offense has a slight advantage over the defense but this was not true Friday when Robersonville had the ball. The Beaufort defense and particularly the Seadog line, played flawless football all evening.

Probably the outstanding play of the game by a lineman came in the fourth quarter when Denard Harris broke into the Ram backfield, took the ball away from the ball carrier and scampered some seventy yards for a touchdown.

While heaping laurels on the Beaufort football team, enough praise can't go to the coaching staff of Curt Lancaster, Jim Podrie and Tom Hewitt. Under the guidance of Lancaster, the Seadogs have come a long way from last year. This fact is evident not only in the play of the team but in the boundless spirit and enthusiasm of the entire squad. When the opening whistle blows Beaufort has eleven men on the field who came to play a ball game.

Fearless's New System Proves Goldmine

After coming up with ten winners Saturday in ten picks, it will take an act of Parliament to get Fearless to switch from his newfound winner-picking system (coin-flipping) which was used for the first time.

There were only two games which could have spoiled the day for Fearless but in each game, the Duke-NCS game and the North Carolina-Wake Forest game, his system happened to come up with the teams that eventually won, Duke and North Carolina.

The ten winners raised Fearless's batting average almost 100 points to a .727 percentage. His last week's record, which stood at 22 winners in 34 picks for an average of .647 was boosted to 32 winners in 44 picks for the .727.

That's 30 for now.

Beaufort, Morehead Frosh To Tangle Thursday Night

Lions Sponsor Midget Team

The Morehead City Lions Club became the second civic organization to sponsor a team in the newly formed midget football league recently when they presented a check for $100 to league officials.

A spokesman for the club said that the team sponsored by the Lions will be known as the Lions' Cubs. The other organization sponsoring a team is the Elks Club.

The 80 boys who are registered in the program were divided into four teams last Monday at the recreation center and with the arrival of the rest of the equipment, practice sessions will get into full swing and game schedules will be announced.

Nick Galantis of the Touchdown Club reports that the boys collected a total of $59.96 at their booth set up at the Wallace-Morehead game. According to Galantis, the league is still in need of two sponsors.

Carteret County football fans will get a preview of the annual Mullet Bucket game Thursday night when the Morehead City junior varsity team meets the Beaufort Jayvees at 8 o'clock in a grid contest on the Camp Glenn field.

Sparking the Eagle attack against the Beaufort freshmen will be varsity players David O'Neal and James Nolan. Both boys are freshmen and will be allowed to play in the game since Morehead City doesn't have enough freshmen out for football to field a team without using the pair.

Beaufort frosh coach Tom Hewitt will counter with a lineup that has led his charges to victory in all but one of their games this year. The Seapups' only loss came at the hands of the New Bern Jayvees and they have won handily over three other opponents.

Spearheading the Seapup offensive weapon are fullback Mahlon Williams and halfback Tommy

Frosh Nolan Converts

Harris Gallops 65 Yards For 4th Period Touchdown

By BILL KIRK

"We just got whipped and whipped good," said Robersonville coach Bob Lee after his Rams had been downed 26-6 Friday night by the Beaufort Seadogs in an important Seashore Conference tilt. The game, the annual homecoming contest for the Seadogs, was played on a mud-covered field, before a large throng.

"True, Beaufort got the breaks in the game but they didn't get any that they didn't make and that's the way you've got to play to win. Our boys did a lot of fumbling but this was caused by the tackles Beaufort was making," Scott said. Beaufort kicked off to the Rams to open the game and on the second series of plays by Robersonville John Nelson intercepted a pass to give the Seadogs possession on the 38-yard line of the Rams.

Ernest House ... Ram wrecker

From here the Seadogs were able to move for the first touchdown of the game when Seadog fullback sensation Ernest (Power) House slammed over for six points from 13 yards out. The try for extra point was not good but as the first quarter ended the fired-up Seadogs had a 6-0 lead.

Again the Rams were unable to make any yardage against the fierce Seadog defense and after losing the ball once on a fumble, the Rams were forced into a punting situation. A good runback of the kick by Beaufort quarterback Butch Hassell gave the Seadogs a first and ten on the Robersonville 31.

Here the trio of Beaufort backs, Taylor, House and Ray Hassell drove the ball to the Ram three-yard line. On the scoring play it was again House who quarterback Hassell called on for the six-pointer. The Rams again held on the conversion attempt and the Beaufort advantage was held to 12-0.

Late in the second quarter the Seadogs again put together a sustained drive toward the Ram goal but time ran out on them and as the halftime whistle sounded, the Seadogs had just moved to the five-yard line on a 35-yard pass play from Hassell to Calvin Jones.

After impressive halftime ceremonies which saw Harriet Hill crowned Miss Seadog for 1959, the Beaufort defense bogged momentarily and the Rams were quick to take advantage of the situation to score their only touchdown of the night. The payoff play came on a wide sweep around the right end of the Beaufort line and covered 12 yards.

The try for extra point was stopped, and Beaufort recovered from their momentary lapse on defense minutes later when some heads-up ball gave them their third touchdown. On the play, the Rams had the ball and were moving well on the ground but all this was Fabulous Fishing ...

By Bob Simpson

Speckled trout are making the big news for anglers in the sounds and rivers of Carteret County; favorite spots are near the bridges: Harker's Island, Newport River and Atlantic Beach.

Night fishing for gray trout is equally good around the bridges. Grays average better than one pound; speckled, over two pounds. Catches of 15 to 20 speckled are common; John Alford and party, Morehead City, reported 52 speckled, averaging two to two and a half pounds, caught near the Beach Bridge.

Spots are still the top species for the ocean pier fisherman, blues, pompano, black and puppy drum are also on the list, with some good runs of speckled trout reported. Bottom fishermen on the sound side reported outstanding catches of big fall spots and hogfish and a variety of other species, both from piers and boats.

Surf fishing is excellent: a trio of Raleigh anglers, fishing at Cape Lookout, caught 60 blues and puppy drum, the drum averaging three to four pounds. J. T. Smith, Burlington, had a total of 130 pounds (dressed) of spots and pompano, caught in the surf off Bogue Banks. Speckled trout up to four and a half pounds have been reported by surf fishermen.

Big fish: a 24-pound king by George M. Johnson, Shelby, from his own boat; gray trout at two pounds ten ounces, by J. D. Hill, Kinston, and 3 pounds and 3 ounces by C. W. Orr, Greenville; a 66 1/2-pound amberjack by C. A. Propst, Concord, aboard Sam 'n' Dan; and a record Spanish mackerel at seven pounds, by L. A. Creasy, Hollins, Va., aboard Mattie G.

Offshore, fresh winds have held back fishing; the big kings are hard to get, still a week or more behind schedule. Headboat fishing, kept almost at a standstill for a few days, has picked up again. Inshore fishing for blues is good and can be expected to improve.

Morehead Makes Marlin History This Season

By BOB SIMPSON

Anglers off the North Carolina coast have boated, during the 1959 season, 261 blue marlin, ranging in size from 73 pounds to 459 pounds. Morehead City leads with 95; Hatteras second, with 89; Oregon Inlet third, with 62.

Southport and Wrightsville tied, with six each, and Marshallberg boats accounted for three. Claims for releases ranged upward of 15, Hatteras leading the way with the largest number of releases.

Highlights of the season were the first recorded instances of three, four and five blue marlin from a single boat in a day.

Morehead City made marlin history when the boat Blue Water, first to make a triple-header, was topped by the boats Bunny, Bunny Too and Dolphin, each with a quartet of blue marlin. The numbers race ended with Dolphin bringing back five from a single trip.

Perhaps the finest marlin fishing ever done was during the week-end of June 5, when Morehead City boats landed 41 blue marlin, with a boat average of better than 2 1/2 marlin per trip.

During this same period Hatteras-based boats were proving that their fishing grounds were superior to Puerto Rico's: 11 boated and four releases claimed in the international competition.

Possibly the heaviest individual competition was between two Morehead City-based boats: Bunny Too, captained by Arthur Lewis; Dolphin, captained by George Bedsworth. Their neck-and-neck race wound up in a 27-27 tie at the end of the season, over half the Morehead City total.

Morehead City's first blue marlin was caught in September, 1957, in '58 28 were boated. Skippers, asked about the fabulous fishing for the marlin in '59, answer, "They've been there all the time; all we had to do was fish for them. And we're learning fast." Mid-May to mid-July has proved to be the best blue marlin fishing period.

The Morehead City Yacht Basin is making special provision for accommodating additional private and transient sportfishermen for the 1960 season.

Biggest Fish Gordy Eure, son of Dr. and Mrs. Darden Eure of Morehead City, caught two sailfish while vacationing in Acapulco, Mexico, last week. The fish, weighing 124 and 125 pounds, were the biggest caught on Acapulco boats that week.
