The Adventures of a Brownie

(Summary: The children dislike Bill, who has been hired to care for their Shetland pony, because he is ill-natured, lazy and cross.)

Part 15

"I wish the Brownie would punish you," said one of the boys, "you'd behave better then."

"The Brownie!" cried Bill contemptuously. "If I caught him I'd kick him up in the air, like this!"

And he kicked up his cap—his only cap, it was—which, strange to relate, flew right up, ever so high, and lodged at the very top of a tree which overhung the stable, where it dangled for weeks and weeks, during which time poor Bill had to go bareheaded.

He was very much vexed, and revenged himself by vexing the children in all sorts of ways. They would have told their mother, and asked her to send Bill away, only she had a great many anxieties just then, for their dear old grandmother was very ill, and they did not like to make a fuss about anything that would trouble her.

So Bill stayed on, and nobody found out what a bad, ill-natured, lazy boy he was.

But one day the mother was sent for suddenly to go to her mother, not knowing when she should be able to come home again. She was very sad, and so were the children, for they loved their grandmother—and as the carriage drove off they all stood crying round the front door for ever so long. The servants even cried too—all but Bill.

Club Welcomes New Member

The birthday club welcomes Pamela Sabiston of Morehead City as a new member this week. Pamela celebrated her second birthday Oct. 20.

Why don't you and your friends join the birthday club? It's fun to belong. Each year on your birthday you will receive a birthday card and your name will appear in the birthday column. Send along a picture if you like. Any good snapshot will do.

Just mail the membership blank or write a letter to the NEWS-TIMES giving your name, address, present age and date of birth. That's all there is to it. There's no cost and anyone under 12 may join.

Happy Birthday

Thursday: Phyllis Marie Lawrence, Harpers Island, will be 11 years old.

Saturday: William H. Olsen, Kinston, will be 4 years old.

Stephen Neil Styron, Sea Level, will be 10 years old.

Larry Sheldon Nelson, Atlantic, will be 11 years old.

Dora Lee Goodwin, Atlantic, will be 11 years old.

Monday: Marvin Edward Garner, Morehead City, will be 4 years old.

"It's an ill wind that blows nobody good," said he. "What a jolly time I shall have! I'll do nothing all day long. Those troublesome children shan't have Jess to ride; I'll keep her in the stable and then she won't get dirty, and I shall have no trouble in cleaning her. Hurrah! What fun!"

He put his hands in his pockets, and sat whistling the best part of the afternoon.

The children had been so unhappy, that for that day they quite forgot Jess; but next morning after lessons were over, they came, begging for a ride.

"You can't get one. The stable-door's locked, and I've lost the key." (He had it in his pocket all the time.)

"How is poor Jess to get her dinner?" cried a thoughtful little girl. "Oh, how hungry she will be!"

And the child was quite in distress, as were the two other girls. But the boys were more angry than sorry.

"It was very stupid of you, Bill, to lose the key. Look about and find it, or else break down the door."

"I won't," said Bill. "I dare say the key will turn up before night, and if it doesn't—who cares? You get riding enough and too much. I'll not bother myself about it, or Jess either."

And Bill sauntered away. He was a big fellow, and the little lads were rather afraid of him. But as he walked, he could not keep his hand out of his trousers pockets, where the key felt growing heavier and heavier, till he expected it every minute to tumble through, and come out at his boots—convicting him before all the children of having told a lie.

Nobody was in the habit of telling lies to them, so they never suspected him, but went innocently searching about for the key—Bill all the while clutching it fast. But every time he touched it he felt his fingers pinched, as if there were a cockroach in his pocket—or a little lobster—or something anyhow, that had claws.

At last, fairly frightened, he made an excuse to go into the cowshed, took the key out of his pocket and looked at it, and finally hid it in a corner of the manger, among the hay.

As he did so, he heard a most extraordinary laugh, which was certainly not from Dolly the cow, and, as he went out of the shed, he felt the same sort of pinch at his ankles, which made him so angry that he kept striking with his whip in all directions, but hit nobody, for nobody was there.

Girl Scouts, Brownies Report Recent Activities

Officers were recently elected by Girl Scout troop 97, Morehead City. Sharon Conway is president; Mary Alice Morris, secretary; Lelia Southard, vice-president.

The troop is selling mixed salted nuts, Christmas cards and Christmas wrapping paper to raise money to attend camp next summer.

Brownie troop 153 met recently at the home of Mrs. C. P. Rose, Beaufort. We learned a round. We cut out pictures of babies to use next week.

We played two games. Betty Lou Willis served refreshments. We closed with our friendship circle. —Lyn Talbot, Scribe pro tem

Bill McCabe Heads Pioneer Fellowship At Wildwood

Bill McCabe was elected president of the Wildwood Presbyterian church Pioneer youth fellowship Tuesday night at the church.

Other officers are Judy McCabe, vice-president; Cheryl Murdoch, secretary; Phyllis McCabe, treasurer, and David Murdoch, reporter.

The election followed a talk by Thomas Bell, adult advisor, on Why We Have Officers and Their Duties.

Programs for the year were planned, including a party for the third Tuesday in November. Janet Ross was a visitor from the Camp Glenn Methodist Church.

The meeting ended with prayer and the friendship circle.

Leaves Hospital

David Warrick, assistant county agent, was discharged from the hospital Saturday. He left yesterday for a short visit at his home in Jackson, for further recuperation from his illness.

Pet Corner

Would like to find a home for a three-month-old black puppy. She is a very nice dog and would make an ideal pet. See Mrs. Robert Marshall, 2504 Evans St., or phone PA6-4344.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conway have five kittens they would like to find homes for. The kittens may be seen at the Conway home, 2010 Fisher St., Morehead City.

Persons who would like to give pets away or acquire them at no cost are invited to use the Pet Corner free of charge. Phone THE NEWS-TIMES PA 6-4175.
