Study What They Like, Then Make Out Gift List

By VIVIAN BROWN

Give Santa Claus a change of pace — make up an interesting Christmas gift list.

Write down the names of your guys and dolls, and next to it list their hobby, desire, activity or loves and price range of the gifts to fit in your budget. Here are some reminders:

Anglers — Dry flies and other lures, "how to catch 'em" books, creel.

Bicyclist — An overnight hosting kit (if you can't find one assemble it yourself with thermos bottle, cups, coffee pot.)

Cook — Special herbs and vinegars, cruetts, French pans, cook books, ready mixes for party fare.

Design — There are books on this subject depending upon whether it is home interiors or fashion that captures her fancy. A fine new book on "Decoupage" by Dorothy Harrower gives how-to-do-it information.

Garden — Gloves, pruning shears, garden books (there are a great variety of books, including those for avid rose growers or cultivators of house plants such as African violets.)

Glamor — The girl who specializes in it will love anything that enhances her appearance. Consider important earrings, headache bands, special makeups, wide waist slimming belts, nail beautifiers, colored hosiery.

Hostess — If she likes to entertain give her a fancy apron, a hostess tray, a chafing dish, interesting drinking glasses.

Hair — Many girls make hair their hobby. In that case give her a home permanent wave, good bristled brush, spray set, shampoo, books on how to set the hair, curlers.

Hunter — Give him shotgun shells, decoys, insulated underwear, books on hunting.

Hi-Fi — Fans will love a Christmas album. Here are two new ones: "Christmas Sing Along with Mitch" — Mitch Miller and the Gang, including 10 copies of the song for carol singers, and "To Wish You a Merry Christmas," Harry Belafonte.

There are 18 familiar Christmas songs, including the hit "I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day."

Photography — Start with film and work from there. Photo albums, dark room supplies are other gifts for the dedicated types.

Skater — Leotards, skating cap, fancy mittens will suit ice skaters or roller derby enthusiasts.

Skier — Even a new ski wax will make a hit with skiing fans, as well as books on skiing techniques. Anything gay in hat, gloves, scarf, socks are surefire gifts. Ditto after-ski clothes — slipper socks, blouse, etc.

Sewer — If she makes her own clothes, give her a fancy sewing box, a set of antique buttons that she may transfer from dress to dress, special collection of threads.

Teen Topics — If they keep up with the latest going on of the younger set, and like advice books, there are a heap of them available.

Theater — If your friend is a drama enthusiast, opera lover or ballet fan, give her tickets or books that coincide with her yen for that entertainment.
