

Theatre Elects 1960 Officers

Mrs. Tressa Vickers was elected president of the Carteret Community Theatre at the meeting Wednesday night at the recreation building, Morehead City.

Other officers are C. A. Stone, vice-president; Miss Patsy Holt, secretary; Mrs. Earl Holt, treasurer; Miss Ruth Peeling, business manager; and Wayne King, assistant business manager.

Their term of office will begin March 1 and continue one year.

Jimmy Wheatley, chairman of trophies for the award banquet, reported that trophies had been ordered for the best actor, best actress and best director. A plaque has been ordered for the theatre member who has contributed the most to the theatre during the past year.

A vote was taken on the latter, the service award. The winner of that and the other trophies will be announced at the annual theatre dinner March 9. In charge of the dinner are Mrs. Vickers and Mrs. Holt.

The club requested the secretary, Patsy Holt, to write a letter to Mrs. Grayden Paul, Beaufort, offering the theatre's cooperation in staging the drama, 'Unknown Seas,' in July.

Miss Hortense Boomer, director of the forthcoming play, 'A Man Called Peter,' reported on the play's progress. The play will be given Tuesday night, March 1, at the recreation building.

The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Larry Barnette. Balance in the treasury is $234.50.

Lions' Ladies Sponsor Party

Thursday was Ladies Night at the Morehead City Lions club meeting. Members enjoyed a Valentine party. Mrs. O. J. Morrow, Mrs. J. B. Eubanks and Mrs. Joe Collins were in charge of the evening's program.

Lions were presented with red carnations as they arrived and a dinner of barbecued chicken preceded the program.

Highlights included the singing of the Lion's song in opera fashion by Jim McLean and a ballet dance by Grayson Bullock. A leap year specialty was a proposal from Mrs. A. N. Willis to Joe Collins in Romeo and Juliet style.

Games played included stop the music and a chin orange race. The door prize was won by John T. Willis and prizes of candy in Valentine boxes were awarded winners of the games.

Attending the meeting as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Collins were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Duke.

Two Weekend Accidents Occur

Charges of failing to stop for a stop sign, causing an accident, were filed Friday against the driver of a five-ton truck who went through a stop sign at 9th and Evans and collided with an automobile being driven by Sonny Cunningham of Salter Path.

Police said that the driver of the truck, Donald Bland Dail, said he failed to see the stop sign. The truck Dail was driving is owned by Eastern Distributors Inc., Cunningham was driving a 1952 Ford.

No damage other than a minor scratch was done to the truck while police estimated damage to Cunningham's vehicle at $85. Sgt. William Condie investigated.

Two 1960 Buicks were damaged in another accident that occurred at 1:50 Saturday afternoon at the intersection of 9th and Arendell.

Police reported that Viollette Johnson Bailey of Beaufort was going east on Arendell Street. Clarence Mae Willis was the driver of a car that was behind her in the right lane of traffic.

Blue Devils Seek Win In County Tournament

By FRANCES PINER
Hi! Smyrna is all astir with excitement over the county tournament, which began Monday night in Newport. All of us were looking forward to it. I surely hope our teams make a good showing.

Lost of luck, Blue Devils! We are looking forward, boys to your redeeming yourselves after that defeat by Beaufort last Friday night!

Poor Linda! I wonder that she doesn't have a brain concussion! Linda Willis, in French class Tuesday, knocked over the movie screen and fell under it, giving herself quite a bump on the head.

She really caused an uproar in the class. French was forgotten while everyone had a really good laugh—that is, after we were sure that she was not hurt.

Last week I forgot to include in the list of exam exemptions the typing students. They are Judy Thompson, Jean Willis, Charles Styron, Wayne Davis, and Nancy Pake. Please accept my apologies.

Tuesday Dr. Herbert Webb met with the science club. He made a very interesting talk on the trials, tribulations, and satisfactions to be found on the long road to becoming a medical doctor.

Last Thursday students in junior English were subject to a horror show. Mrs. Salter read 'The Tale Heart' by Edgar Allan Poe. It was certainly frightening, especially with Mrs. Salter reading it. She made us lay our heads on our desk and close our eyes to get into the proper mood.

Shackleford

needed: the high wall of sand to protect vegetation now, and the groins and jetties to protect the man-made dune and build up the land seaward.

Still others say that the banks are eroding from the sound side. That is probably true to some extent. But on the sound side vegetation is growing close to the water's edge and is helping to hold the land in place.

Those who doubt that the wind and salt spray are the biggest culprits in this fight to save the banks might think back to Hazel. The winds were high in that hurricane, salt spray was carried so far inland that shrubs around homes turned brown. The tops of pine trees took on a dead look. It took a couple years for them to come back.

Chief Moore reported that he is giving two hours of instruction weekly to Civil Defense auxiliary police and prospective police officers. He said he is stressing courteous relations with the public.

Mr. Coyle said that Carteret Plumbing Co. had not yet put in the shellbox drain authorized to correct a drainage problem on W. Boardwalk.

The board discussed need of a municipal parking lot to take care of increasing traffic.

Board

Cost of that work is expected to run slightly over $2,000. Available now to meet that expense, Mr. Coyle says, is $1,700. The board agreed that if additional street work can be done and the total cost met by Sept. 1, the work will be contracted.

S. A. Horton, supplier of water in town, offered a proposal whereby the town might be able to get a standpipe and fire hydrants. Mr. Horton suggests that the water meter be doubled until the system paid.

A. B. Cooper, mayor, who explained the proposal to the board, said that the resultant reduction in fire insurance rates would probably pay for the increased water rent. After the standpipe and hydrants are paid, he said, the water rent would revert to its present rate.

The board agreed that the matter was worth investigating and asked Mr. Horton to consult with a fire insurance underwriter to get illustrative figures on how the fire insurance rates might be affected.

Hubert J. Baysden, garbage contractor, was told that in the future garbage will be dumped on the Morehead City dump, since no new location can be found on Bogue banks for the dumping. The town will pay Morehead City for permission to use the dump.

The board ordered barricading of the present road into the beach dump. The town states that others who have been dumping there will have to find a new place.

Mr. Baysden was asked to place a heavy canvas over the truck when he leaves the beach to dump trash in Morehead City.

The board is continuing its search for property where the trash might be dumped on Bogue banks.

The clerk read a letter from W. F. Babcock, director of highways, relative to widening the road between the beach and the bridge. Mr. Babcock said the State Highway commission advance planning department will check on the matter and confer with the division engineer.

Beaufort police chief Guy Springle investigated two traffic mishaps Saturday afternoon in Beaufort.

The first occurred at 12:20 p.m. and involved a Newport and a Beaufort driver. Police said that Ruth Morris Abbott of Beaufort was going north on Orange Street when her car was struck by a 1957 Chevrolet driven by Claud Foy, Newport. Foy was crossing Orange Street at its intersection with Broad. Mrs. Abbott was driving a 1955 Plymouth.

Foy was charged with failing to yield the right-of-way, causing an accident. Police estimated the damage to Foy's vehicle at $25 while that to Mrs. Abbott's auto was set at $200.
