

Belk's Sale Will Honor Generous Belk Founders

Swansboro

April 18—A rash of social events highlights the closing weeks of school at Swansboro high.

A dance, sponsored by the sophomores, took place Saturday night, April 9. The walls of the building were decorated with musical notes, and a booth was set up for the "disc jockeys" and the records. Randy Cochran and Frank Ledford did the honors at the microphone.

Donald White and Kathy Brunelle won a dance contest, and were properly rewarded with records. Runners-up were Clyde Keagy and Carolyn Parker.

On the dance committee were Billy Middlet, Gene Riggs, Randy Cochran, Ellen Ingram, Barbara Weeks, Margaret Cole and Frank Ledford. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Cochran chaperoned the gala group.

This was followed on Thursday night, April 14, with an Easter sock hop sponsored by the student council. The dance lasted from 8 until late in the school gym, and in addition to the regular and novelty dances there was a cake walk.

On the agenda for Friday, April 22, is a spring concert by the glee club and the junior and senior bands. This is an annual event, and will take place in the elementary school auditorium.

The junior band will present two numbers and the senior band four, with a trombone solo by Bobby Shuller. The glee club will present six selections and the choir one.

The juniors have gone all out to make the junior-senior prom, April 29, a glamor-studded affair. They will simulate a night club, decorations and all, with refreshments buffet style.

Entertainment will include a precision chorus line of eighth graders from Mrs. Tyndall's room, and a double trio from the glee club. The prom will end at midnight.

The Rev. James D. Marrs, Episcopal chaplain of Camp Lejeune, held the first Holy Communion services Sunday for the recently formed St. Peter's by the Sea Church. The group meets in the American Legion hall at the present, and plans for a church building are underway.

A. D. Ennett will be among those attending the Historical Society meeting at the Old Quaker church, Beaufort, Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Virginia Taylor, teacher in the elementary school, spent the Easter vacation with her son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor in Williamsburg, Va. Mrs. Taylor was accompanied on the trip by her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Becton of Kinston.

Mrs. Jack Brown has been visiting her parents in New Jersey for the past two weeks.

Harry Bayley, junior at East Carolina College, was in the group that participated in the Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Robert L. Carney has returned home from the James Walker hospital. Visiting her Wednesday was Mrs. Pauline Sanders of Hubert.

Effron Smith spent three days in Sea Level hospital last week for a checkup. He is feeling much better.

Mr. Bennie Jarman of Annapolis, Md., spent a few days last week with his family.

Mrs. E. S. Carter called on friends in Morehead City last Sunday.

Mrs. Lena Hancock is visiting her daughter, Mrs. R. Mobley, in Winnebago for a few days.

Shirt Attracts Singer, Wedding Follows Shortly

San Diego (AP)—A red shirt worn by Jack Bradford, 40, fascinated Ella Mae Morse of "cow-cow boogie" singing fame, in a night club where she was performing.

Introductions followed and they were married 13 days later — at Tijuana, Mexico, March 13. Bradford is a carpenter.

Pet Corner

Mrs. L. L. Glancy has puppies of both sexes to give away. They are part collie. Call PA6-4964 or see Mrs. Glancy at her home between Mansfield and Dr. C. E. Paden's office.

Mrs. Jape Garner has five little puppies, all with different markings, that she would like to find homes for. The puppies have floppy ears, she says, and would make ideal pets. Interested persons may call PA6-5819 for directions to her home.

Persons who want to give pets away are invited to call THE NEWS-TIMES. Pet Corner notices are free.

Beaufort Lions Entertain Ladies Thursday Night

Members of the Beaufort Lions Club entertained their wives at a ladies' night meeting and dinner Thursday night at the scout building.

The guest speaker for the evening was W. C. Carlton, Morehead City manager of the Carteret-Craven Electric Membership Corp. Mr. Carlton spoke on electricity, from its discovery through present day uses. He also gave a brief history of REA.

A report on the horse show to be sponsored by the Lions this summer was made by J. P. Harris, horseman and consultant for the show.

It was announced that there would be a nominating committee meeting Monday night at 7 p.m. at Eastern Rulane. The committee will make nominations for the election of club officers to be held in the near future.

Attending the meeting as a guest was Tom Hewitt.

Elkhart, Ind. (AP)—Gerald Line wonders if a $2 parakeet is really worth a $9 vacuum cleaner hose. Line's 12-year-old daughter, Patricia, was cleaning a rug when the family parakeet, Baby, was sucked through the nozzle. Firemen cut the hose and rescued one shaky—but clean—bird.

Dr. John M. Belk honored by brother hold where Christian tenets were strictly upheld, where John Calvin and John Knox were heroes along with Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson. From the very start of his church membership, young Belk took a hand in the promotion of its work. A devout member of the Presbyterian church, he also aided many churches of other denominations.

Through John M. Belk Memorial Fund he assisted more than 350 churches and manses in their building programs. He was also interested in foreign missions and he and Dr. Belk established a hospital at Tai-Chow, China, known as the "Sarah Walkup Belk Memorial Hospital" in honor of his mother. This remarkable woman, the source of much wise counsel and advice, lived to be 96, her death occurring in 1932.

Today, Belk Chapel, a handsome building on the campus of Queens College, North Carolina, and the W. H. Belk dormitory at Davidson, North Carolina, are performing useful services in the memory of this outstanding merchant. They and the W. H. Belk Presbyterian church in Anderson, S. C., were built as permanent memorials in honor of Mr. Belk by gifts from his business associates.

In honor of the philanthropist, Belk's in Morehead City is staging a tremendous Founder's Days sale, an event annually looked forward to by all Carteret county shoppers.
