

Fabulous Fishing ...

By Bob Simpson

Bro marlin caused most of the excitement on the Carteret coast during the weekend.

Dr. H. M. Peacock, Sea Level, boated one aboard Bunny Too at 184 pounds; Elgin Meyers, Alta Vista, Va., caught a 264 1/2-pounder aboard Bunny; W. E. Lynch, Raleigh, bagged another at 330 pounds aboard Southwind; Herman Aldridge, Durham, caught a 246-pounder aboard Miss Belle, sailing out of Marshallberg; and Mrs. M. L. Daugherty, Charlotte, caught a 250-pounder aboard Lois Nancy II.

Also aboard Lois Nancy, Mrs. John A. Tart of Dunn landed a 6-foot 9-inch sail, a season's record to date here. That makes a total of 11 billfish so far.

Elsewhere offshore, fishing was best for king mackerel, with a steady increase in dolphin, plenty of amberjack, false albacore and a few bonito. Most of the kings are being caught in the area of the 10-fathom curve right now.

Down East, boats from Anglers Motel, Harkers Island, reported up to 16 kings and 10 dolphin per boat; Bert Davis' boat The Kids had 20 kings, 3 false albacore, by Bobbie Mize of Roanoke; and Jimmy Harker's Shell Point, 28 kings, by a party from Burlington.

From small boats, Mrs. D. K. Pierce, Raleigh, reported eight kings from her own boat.

Ocean pier fishing as a whole was "just fishin'," but a few good reports came in: night fishing for spots, brief runs of blues, big sea mullet hitting bloodworms, two kings in the 9-pound class by Doc Hamilton and H. C. Carlee of Raleigh, from Thompson's Pier; a 3-pound 3-ounce flounder by Billy Wilhete of Teococa, Ga., from Morehead Pier, and a 20 1/2-pound black drum by J. Noel of Kinston.

The first small pompano are appearing, and it looks like the beginning of the summer run of these choice fish.

On the sound side, 7 cobia were reported at B. J. White's Camp during the weekend, one a 38-pounder by R. B. Gurley of Goldsboro. The first good catch of flounder was also reported, 15 of them up to 3 pounds, by Mr. and Mrs. Tommy O'Neal of Durham.

At Mom and Pop's, Tommy Vigilon, Kinston, reported 7 sheepshead, 2- to 4-pounders; Joe Collins, Morehead City, had two cobia, 18 to 20 pounds; and James Williams, Goldsboro, two cobia at 18 and 24 pounds.

Hogfish, spots and other bottom fish were biting from the pier. At Fleming's, Mr. Dewes of Alta Vista, Va., caught 5 flounder, and Emmett Jenkins, New Bern, a total of 150 hogfish. Bunch's Pier had hogfish and a few flounder.

New records came in on the waterfront: E. G. Cramer, Vinton, Va., a 34 1/2-pound amberjack aboard Mattie G.; W. W. Conder, Matthews, a 5 1/2-pound gray trout aboard Gulf Breeze; W. K. Land, Raleigh, a 16 1/2-pound false albacore aboard Mattie G.; Dan L. Meyers, Alta Vista, Va.; a 39-pound dolphin aboard Bunny; and S. R. Clark, Atlanta, a 13-pound cuda aboard Dolphin III.

The marlin tournament begins today at 8 a.m., and, weather permitting, will end Thursday at 2 p.m. with festivities and awards Friday evening at Capt. Bill's.

With the kings farther offshore, it's been slow going for inshore boats, with no blues yet to replace them. Inshore and ocean pier fishermen alike are looking hopefully for a real run of blues.

On the Morehead City waterfront, top catch of the Dolphin fleet was 32 kings; tops elsewhere was Mattie G's 32 kings; Gannet led the list for amberjack, with 14; and Sam 'n' Dan had 8 big dolphin.

Echoes of the Past

Society of Friends — Their Days in Carteret County

(This is the second part of a two-part article on the Quakers in North Carolina. It is one of a series of articles being published as background information for Beaufort's forthcoming 251st anniversary celebration.)

By ANNIE L. MORTON

An abstract of the minutes of the minutes of the Core Sound Monthly Meeting shows that the meeting was organized 1st day, 8th month, 1733. A monthly meeting to be held every first third day in the month for "time to come" and that the first day before the monthly meeting shall be a representative meeting to be kept at the home of Henry Stanton until the meeting orders it otherwise.

This continued until the first month, 1737, when the meetings were to be held in the Meeting House.

In 1737, four years after the Core Sound Meeting was organized, Henry Stanton gave to the Quakers two acres for a pasture south of the Meeting House, and adjoining the land upon which the Core Sound Meeting House stood.

This land had been given to the Quakers by Nicholas Bryant. The original House stood slightly north of the location of this building and faced the south.

Henry Stanton's son, Benjamin, was born in Carteret county in 1746 and died 12th month, 1798. He lived and died in the house in which he was born. The house was on Ware Creek.

David Stanton, one of the sons of Benjamin and Abigail Macy Stanton, was born in Carteret county in 1788. In 1800, two years after the death of his father, he, with his mother and other members of his family, moved to Jefferson county, Ohio. In Ohio, David married Lucy Norman. They were the parents of Edwin Meesters Stanton, Civil War Secretary in Lincoln's Cabinet.

William Borden was born in Rhode Island 10th month, 15th day, 1689, moved to North Carolina in 1732, and settled on Newport River, naming the river and later the town Newport, for his old home in Newport, R. I. It was in William Borden's home the first Quaker meeting in Carteret county was organized, 1st day, 8th month, 1733.

Prior to coming to Carteret county, William Borden was one of the foremost ship builders of the North. In Carteret county he found the virgin forests yielding the finest quality of live oak, cedar, and pine, enabling him to continue here the shipbuilding industry. He had customers from Boston to Florida, and was widely known both north and south as "William Borden, the ship builder."

It is also of note that this shipbuilder took an interest in public affairs, having represented Carteret county in the General Assembly which met in New Bern in 1746-47.

He died in 1748. His son, William Borden the second, a plantation owner near Beaufort, continued the shipbuilding industry, adding to his father's reputation as a ship builder. He also served as Carteret county's delegate to the State Constitutional Convention in 1776, and also the "Ratification Convention" in 1788.

These Borden were ancestors of Gail Borden, founder of the Borden Milk Co.

Robert Williams was born in Ruthin, Wales, 4th month, 29th day, 1723. He went from Wales to England and sailed in his own ship from England to the Carolinas.

He bought more than 300 acres on the north side of Newport River, later purchasing land amounting to 4,000 acres in the vicinity of Newport. He later established two trading stores, one in New Bern and one in Beaufort.

He also erected a sawmill and a grist mill using the same dam to furnish power for both. These mills were on the old farm of 1,100 acres in what is now known as the Carteret Lodge section near Newport.

Besides his stores and mills, he built some salt works about one mile east of Beaufort. Early history states he was the first person to extract salt from sea water. He also built the first brick house in Carteret county. The brick he brought from England in his own ship.

Robert Williams died on 4th day, 2nd month, 1790, and is buried not far from the place where his old grist mill was located. His grave has been fenced and marked by his great-grandson. His family joined the general exodus of Quakers from Carolina to Ohio in 1800, leaving as they came, by boat.

Before the Core Sound Monthly Meeting was disbanded or, to use their term, "laid down," in 1841, there were recorded in the minutes of births, marriages and deaths, the names of ninety-five families belonging to the Core Sound group.

The records do not state whether this number of families was confined to the Carteret settlement or not, for the Core Sound Monthly Meeting extended over a wide area, including Clubfoot's Creek Meeting in Craven County, Mattamuskeet Meeting in Hyde county and Upper and Lower Trent in Jones county.

Some of the families in the Core Sound Meeting whose names are familiar to most of us are Bell, Borden, Chadwick, Davis, Eubanks, Foreman, Harris, Haskett, Hellen, Hill, Jones, Mace, Moore, Rumley, Russell, Small, Smith, Stanton, Thomas, Wade, Williams and Wright.

These names appear repeatedly where land sales are recorded, so we know many of them were large land owners, who made their contribution to the settlement in various ways. Their names also appear in the abstract of minutes of the Core Sound Monthly Meeting, serving in many capacities and closely associated with the three families about whom I have given brief sketches.

The growth of Quakerism continued until the outbreak of the revolution, when Quaker immigration practically stopped and when their opposition to war caused the Friends to go through a period of great suffering and decline in membership.

About 1787 members of the Society of Friends in North Carolina followed the example of Friends in more northern states and liberated their slaves. They used every effort in their power to bring about abolition of slavery.

Feeling ran high against the Quakers and many of them left North Carolina for free territory in Indiana and Ohio, where at one time it was said four out of every five families living there had come from North Carolina. As late as 1840 there were many requests for transfer of membership to Ohio and Indiana.

A committee appointed to visit the Core Sound Monthly Meeting in 1841 reported: "The number of meetings has become so small and not well attended, that the meeting has not been well kept up in credit to the society, it would be best it should be laid down and the members attached to the Contentnea Monthly Meeting, of which this Meeting approves, and the clerk directed to furnish Core Sound Meeting a copy of the report and they are directed to render their records to the Quarterly Meeting."

So the Core Sound Monthly Meeting was laid down 10th month, 30th day, 1841, having been active in this community for more than 100 years.

It is interesting to note that the deed to this property given to the Quakers on Sept. 23, 1737, was not recorded until nearly 100 years later, on Jan. 21, 1831.

In 1898 the yearly meeting of Friends at Guilford College, N. C. ceded the Core Sound Meeting House, now known as Tuttle's Grove church, to Ann Street Methodist church of Beaufort, reserving the right to hold Quaker services at any time not conflicting with the regular church program. This Meeting House is the only one of the Quaker denomination standing in Core Sound district.

In the rear of this ancient meeting house is a graveyard, known as the "Quaker burying ground." Originally, wooden slabs, many of which have decayed, marked the graves. A few of the graves have stone markers, placed there in recent years by descendants of those early Quakers—relatives who felt that these were names and deeds that must not pass away.

When we think of the courageous men and women, who during the years have been trying to build a world of Brotherhood, a verse from the Psalms reminds us of how good it is to be a part of this line of strong, courageous people.

With the Psalmist, we can say, "The lines have fallen unto me in pleasant places, yea, I have a goodly heritage."
