Obituaries

PRESTON L. MASON

The funeral service for Preston L. Mason, 43, Beaufort, will be conducted tomorrow in St. Paul's Episcopal church. Time of the funeral had not been set yesterday, pending arrival of relatives.
Mr. Mason was found by his brother, John, at 7 o'clock Sunday morning in his car on Marsh Street near Cole's Grocery. The car was headed north. Coroner David Munden said that Mr. Mason was evidently the victim of a heart attack.

The car had been pulled to the side of the road. Headlights and the ignition were on and the car was in gear. The coroner surmises that Mr. Mason became ill and managed to get the car to the side of the road. He was slumped on the seat slightly to the right of the steering wheel.

He made his home with his brother John, and Mrs. Mason in Highland Park. When he didn't come home Saturday night, Mr. John went out to look for him. Coroner Munden was called at 7:45 a.m.

Officiating at the funeral service will be the Rev. C. Edward Sharp, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church. Burial will be in Oceanview cemetery.

Surviving, in addition to his brother, John, are two other brothers, Marcus and Steve Mason, both of Beaufort; three sisters, Mrs. Ben Robinson and Mrs. Price Johnson of Beaufort and Mrs. Harry Willis of Morehead City.

W. H. HUTCHERSON

W. H. Hutcherson of Brunswick, Ga., died in Brunswick Saturday. He was the father of Mrs. Roger Slaughter of Morehead City. No details on funeral arrangements were available yesterday.
Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Slaughter and Mrs. John D. Smith of Brunswick, and two sons, W. H. Hutcherson Jr. of Manchester, Ga., and Thomas Hutcherson of Brunswick.

JAMES H. DICKINSON

James Henry Dickinson, 79, of Core Creek community died Thursday at his home. Funeral services were conducted Saturday at 2 p.m. at Core Creek Methodist church by the Rev. J. L. Smith, pastor. Burial was in Core Creek cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Bertie Dickinson; one son, Jim (Dick) Dickinson; four daughters, Mrs. Eulah Hardesty, Mrs. Marie Eubanks, all of Core Creek, Mrs. Ennis Ross of Clinton and Mrs. Margaret Lubinsky of Goldsboro; one brother, L. C. Dickinson of Beaufort; one sister, Mrs. Roy Mason of Harlowe; sixteen grandchildren, and ten great-grandchildren.
