Wed in Tuesday Ceremony

Mrs. Charles Cooper Smith

Miss Andrea Jill Williams and Charles Cooper Smith were united in marriage Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock at Ann Street Methodist church. The Rev. John M. Cline, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Arrangements and twin baskets of white gladiolus with greenery were used to decorate the church. Nuptial music was presented by Mr. Kenneth Wetherington, organist, and Mrs. Jarvis Herring and Mr. Tucker Littleton of Swansboro, soloists.

Mrs. Herring sang Because and Mr. Littleton sang The Lord's Prayer. Traditional wedding marches were used.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white chantilly lace and peau de soie. The empire bodice was designed with a scalloped portrait neckline embroidered with pearls, and long fitted sleeves ending in calla points over the hands.

Her voluminous skirt featured unpressed pleats and a bow at the back waistline. The skirt extended into a chapel train.

She wore a fingertip veil of illusion which fell from a tiara encrusted with seed pearls and sequins and entwined with illusion. She carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses on a white fan.

Miss Helen Ann Lupton attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a tea length gown of pink chiffon over pink satin. The draped bodice was sleeveless and featured a scoop neckline. The gown was designed with a bouffant skirt.

She wore a pink picture hat and dyed-to-match shoes and carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

Miss Kaye Temple of Beaufort and Miss Peggy Steele of Williston were bridesmaids. They wore tea length gowns of green chiffon over green satin, fashioned like that of the honor attendant.

They wore green picture hats and matching shoes and carried nosegays of pink carnations.

Little Miss Robin Adair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Braxton Adair, was flower girl.

She wore a street length dress of pink organza accented with white band of pink roses with face veil. She carried an heirloom basket of rose petals.

Lance M. Smith, father of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Ronald Smith, brother of the bridegroom, Mahlon Williams, brother of the bride, L. C. Beveridge and Jack Stewart.

Master Gordon Daniels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Daniels Jr., cousin of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Williams wore a yellow brocade sheath with satin cummerbund. She wore matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The bridegroom's mother wore a light blue embroidered satin sheath with matching accessories. She also wore a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the N. F. Eure building. Miss John Cline greeted the guests. Miss Patricia Hogan was in charge of the bride's book.

Mrs. Robert Davis, aunt of the bridegroom, poured punch and Mrs. J. P. Harris served the wedding cake.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon P. Williams. She graduated this month from Beaufort high school and plans to take a commercial course in Morehead City.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lance M. Smith. He is a graduate of Beaufort high school and is a student at the New York Institute of Photography. He is employed at the Snap Shop in Havelock.

The couple left for a wedding trip to New York City. Upon their return they will make their home at 120 More St., Beaufort.

Laura Lewis Hostess At Party Thursday

Miss Laura F. Lewis entertained members of her wedding party after rehearsal at her home in Marshallberg Thursday night.

Arrangements of summer flowers were used in the living room and dining room with magnolias in front of the fireplace.

An heirloom cutwork cloth was used on the dining table, which was centered with a bridal arrangement and imported crystal candleholders. Gardenias and magnolia leaves were placed around the punch bowl.

Refreshments of block cake, nuts and mints were served. Mrs. Leon D. Lewis, aunt of the bride, served punch, after which Miss Lewis presented her wedding attendants with gifts.
