

Democratic Candidates Will Appear at Beaufort Rally

Terry Sanford, Everett Jordan and David Henderson will be the speakers at a Democratic rally at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 15, at the courthouse, Beaufort.

Mr. Sanford is the Democratic candidate for governor, Mr. Henderson the Democratic candidate for congressman from the third district, and Mr. Jordan is US senator seeking re-election.

Mayor W. H. Potter, Beaufort, chairman of the rally, invites all Democrats, Republicans and anyone else who would like to come. Precinct chairmen, he said, will be given seats of honor with the visiting candidates. Music will be furnished by a band.

On the rally committee, in addition to Mr. Potter, are Hugh Salter, Rufus Butler, Dr. John Gainey, Mrs. J. F. Duncan Jr., Mrs. William Roy Hamilton, Mrs. Garland Scruggs, and Mrs. Lela Chadwick.

Board Voices Dislike of Bridge 'Misinformation'

Directors of the Morehead City chamber of commerce, in session Monday night, discussed recent comments by the State Highway commission on location of the proposed bridge between Beaufort and Morehead City.

The directors termed the comments "misinformation" and voted to call the governor's attention to facts about the bridge and to testimony given at hearings.

J. Melville Broughton, chairman of the highway commission, in a recent release to a daily newspaper, said that the bridge location was endorsed "by the Carteret Board of Commissioners, the Town of Beaufort, 40 leading merchants of Morehead City and by other prominent citizens of the area."

The directors say that the county board did not endorse the location.

Rufus Butler, president, reported on chamber-sponsored trip to Shackleford, and erosion there due to Donna J. A. DuBois, manager, was asked to determine whether repair to chamber signs at Folk-

Movie Managers Attend Meeting in Morehead

D. J. Morrow, manager of the City and Morehead theatres, was host recently to theatre managers of the Stewart and Everett chain. Over 75 towns in North and South Carolina were represented at the annual convention held at the Biltmore hotel. (See photo page 2 section 3).

The meeting was called to order at the City theatre. There the managers were shown a film on sources of light that have been used from the beginning of motion pictures up to the present time. Today's method of projecting light from the projector to the screen is the most modern method to date, done by the use of arc carbons.

Mayor George Dill attended the luncheon and commented that the theatres in Morehead City were the most up to date in North Carolina, and how the local theatres show pictures even before larger

Library Puts Up Signs

Carteret County library boasts a new sign—two in fact—to inform the folks of the library's location, no matter from which direction they approach. It replaces a sign which was a casualty of a hurricane—not Donna, but a previous one.

The location of the library seemed well established and the circulation indicated that readers had no trouble in finding it, but two recent inquiries brought the library board up with a jerk: A newcomer, "Is there a library in town?" and another, "Is this the freight station?"

The board hopes the signs will not only be informative but will serve as an invitation to all those interested, who are not using the library, to come in and get acquainted.

Stop Light Fixer Finally Arrives in Morehead City

Jim Bowen, Apex, who might be called the "most wanted man" in Morehead City finally showed up Wednesday afternoon. John Lashley, town clerk, said he came to fix the stop lights.

After the lights are put back in condition, the town expects the state to take them over and maintain them, since Arendell street, on which they are located, is highway 70.

When told at the town board meeting Tuesday night that the repairman would be here "tomorrow," commissioners asked, "What tomorrow?" (Recent attempts to get the repairman met with failure.)

Mayor George Dill said that one time he was told the lights needed parts, the next time he was told Carolina Power and Light had to do something to them.

At one meeting this summer he said that for all the good the lights were doing, they could be melted down and used for sinkers on a crab line.

Jumpy pedestrians, irate motorists and some folks alarmed at the high speed of trucks through the business section prompted a NEWS-TIMES editorial last week on the situation.

When the street lights were first installed several years ago, many complained, saying they weren't needed. But the town board refused to order the lights taken down. Today, most people want them.

Mr. Lashley reported yesterday that parts costing $225 for the lights have been received. He said that all wiring is as it should be.

Commissioner Russell Outlaw asked Tuesday night if there were going to be a new light placed at 8th and Arendell street. The mayor said that such appears necessary unless the light there is to be put back together with bubble gum. Donna tore it up.

Commissioner Walter Morris said, "Let's not talk about it. I don't want to hear any more about it!"

Licenses Taken

The State ABC board has revoked the beer permit of P. J.'s station, Newport, and suspended the permit of Edna G. Mooney, Edna's Place, Newport, for 45 days.

Commissioner Announces Paving Plans; Recreation By-Laws Approved

E. W. (Bud) Dixon, street commissioner, informed the town board, in session Tuesday night at the municipal building, that streets by two schools would be paved and that other paving is scheduled for the near future.

The "school streets" are 16th to 17th on Fisher, in front of the W. S. King school, and Bridges to Fisher on the west side of the Morehead City school.

Also to be paved is 17th street from Arendell to Fisher. Mr. Dixon said that property owners participating in the paving are the First Presbyterian church, Morehead City Garment Co. and the schools.

The commissioner added that the Morehead City PTA has also requested a price on paving Bay street from 11th to 12th.

The board approved by-laws submitted by the recreation commission as to the recreation commission's method of organization and operation. Also approved were two new appointees to the commission, Mrs. Harry Salter and John Tillery Jr. Each will serve a three-year term beginning July 1, 1961.

E. L. Smith, commission member, appeared before the board and asked that the town look into identity of owners of land in the vicinity of W. S. King school.

The board requested that the recreation commission report to town commissioners quarterly on its activities and its financial status.

Commissioner Walter Morris said that he felt the board ought to get regular reports from all agencies or divisions of government using town funds, such as the hospital and recorder's court. Zoning commission (board of adjustment) was also mentioned.

Commissioner Morris said that citizens are donating time to the town and carrying on town business but neither the board nor the commissioners themselves know what is being done.

John Lashley, town clerk and clerk of court, said that the board could be furnished a monthly report on court operation.

Commissioner Morris said he is not only interested in fiscal affairs, but a general summary on what operations town agencies are carrying out.

He added that he would like to know about the airport operation through the town's recent appointee to the county airport commission, but he said the appointee, John Morrison, hasn't been able to get up with the chairman of the airport commission—Morrison doesn't know when meetings are held, if any, or anything about what his responsibilities are.

Mr. Morris, fire commissioner, said that only two out-of-town residents who received fire department service this year have paid the required $100 for a call. The board requested that insurance policies of the delinquents be checked to determine whether the company may not have paid the fee (providing a clause to that effect is included in the policy) and the owner failed to forward it to the town.

It was also suggested that those who have not paid, and refuse to pay, be denied service in the future.

Mayor George Dill announced that the town has received a temporary permit from the State Stream Sanitation committee to dump raw sewage into Calico creek and Bogue Sound until Jan. 1, 1964.

C. E. Bunch appeared to get the board's formal approval on location of his vending machine in the

Board Endorses New Hospital 4-1

Morehead City town commissioners, by a vote of 4 to 1, approved the proposed hospital bond issue at their meeting Tuesday night.

Voting against the proposal was commissioner Walter Morris, who said he could not favor the proposal because he did not know enough about it.

He said he felt that the 5-cent town levy for the hospital should be eliminated now.

Commissioners informed him that the town not only gives all its ABC revenue to the hospital, but the 5-cent levy as well.

Town Orders Registration Of Voters in '61

Morehead City commissioners ordered Tuesday night a new registration of town voters. The registration will take place after Jan. 1, 1961 for a period to be designated by the board.

John Lashley, city clerk, presented new books for registration, but the board felt that starting a town registration now would confuse voters, in view of the national election now confronting everyone.

There are two sets of registration books. One set retained by the county for county and national elections, and another set retained for the town and used only in town elections.

Warren Beck and Donald Davis, members of the Civitan club, appeared to offer the club's assistance in the new registration. The board accepted his offer and expressed its appreciation for the club's interest.

Commissioner Russell Outlaw suggested that the county be asked to have a new registration of county voters.

The board discussed the request to the county for a separate listing of town taxpayers rather than having them in the same book with Morehead township taxpayers.

The county decided that Morehead City could have such a listing if it bore the expense. The county auditor's office reports that no towns are separate from the township, in the list books. The only split in Morehead township is separation of all Bogue banks from the rest of the township. An exception to this is Emerald Isle (Bogue Banks), which is in White Oak township.

Commissioner Walter Morris reported that the county has turned the town's request for a county building inspector and fire marshal over to the county planning commission.

Attending the meeting, in addition to those mentioned, were commissioners Ted Garner, S. C. Holway, Bud Dixon, mayor George Dill, who presided, and George McNeill, town attorney.

Truck Backs into Police Car at Intersection

Approximately $40 damage was done to one of the Morehead City police cars last week in a traffic accident at 22nd and Arendell streets.

The police car was following a truck on 22nd Street and stopped behind the truck at the intersection of 22nd and Arendell. The truck driver, thinking he was too far out on Arendell, backed up and hit the police car. No charges were filed.

No accident report was filed and name of the truck driver was not available.

Members of the county board of education, in session Monday morning at the courthouse annex, heard a request from the Beaufort school committee for six more classrooms by August 1961.

The board took the request under consideration.

In response to a request for adult classes in garment sewing, the board authorized appointment of an advisory committee which will include officials of the two shirt factories located in the county, and other citizens.

The board went along with the state board of education in passing a resolution endorsing a "quality curriculum" and requirement of 18 units for graduation from high school.

School treasurers were appointed. They are Delores Rose, Atlantic; Mrs. Grace Fodrie, Beaufort; Mrs. Betty Sewell, Camp Glenn; Mrs. Vera M. Davis, Harkers Island.

Mrs. Gracie Garner, Morehead City; Mrs. Blanche Comer, Newport; Mrs. Louise Wiggins, Smyrna; Mrs. Betty Tillery, Queen Street, and Mrs. D. M. Carraway, W. S. King.

The board heard a report on the marine vocational training at Morehead City school. The report was made by a committee consisting of Dr. A. F. Chestnut, director of the Institute of Fisheries Research, Morehead City; Asa Cannon, boat builder, and Herbert O. Phillips III, attorney.

The report stated that 30 boys were enrolled in the course last year. The training was valuable to them and to the building trades, according to the committee. Subjects taught included safety, navigation, structural design, drafting and reading of blueprints.

The instructor is James Mitchell. Two boats in the 20 to 25-foot class were built.

The committee said that additional power equipment is needed and the course is being taught in a sub-standard building. It suggested that in the future, more time be devoted to course work and rigging of gear.

The board thanked the committee for the report, which will be forwarded to Washington, since the vocational course is partially financed by federal funds.

Morehead JC's Welcome Two

Morehead City Jaycees welcomed two new members at their meeting Monday night. They were Wayne Guthrie and Richard Roberts.

The club discussed their support program for the high school football team and chairman George Whittle pointed out that the project is not being backed to the fullest extent by the club. Committees for this week's game were appointed by Whittle.

Dates of three important Jaycee meetings were announced. A workshop will be held in Kinston Oct. 12 and the second quarterly board meeting will be Wednesday, Nov. 28, at New Bern. A state meeting is set for Nov. 4-6 at Hickory.

On Monday night the club will hold a stag social at Bruce Goodwin's camp, Beaufort. Horace Willis, chairman of the affair, announces that all Exhausted Roosters are invited.

Dick Spears reported that the recent facial tissue sale netted approximately $216, which represents a Jaycee profit of $73.

Historical Association To Meet Tuesday Night

The Beaufort Historical association will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the courthouse, Beaufort, to hear final reports on the town's birthday celebration last summer.

At a meeting in August, the association decided that Tuesday night's agenda would include discussion on renewing the association's charter, appointing three new members to the board of directors, and advisability of scheduling, next year, some of the events included in the birthday celebration.

Firemen Called

A tarring machine caught on fire about 2 p.m. yesterday at the town garage on Fisher street, Morehead City. Firemen had the blaze out in a few minutes and said that there was no damage except old tar that burned off the outside of the machine.

Board Requests Suggestions On Radio Set-Up

Dell Merrill, chairman of the county Red Cross chapter, and John Valentine, county Civil Defense chairman, were requested by county commissioners Monday to work on plans for an emergency communications system for the county.

Mr. Merrill told the commissioners that Donna proved how imperative the need is for radio communication throughout the county when other communications are knocked out.

Mr. Merrill said that there were ham operators in contact with Raleigh, but they were located at the beach and Morehead City. There were no communications from Morehead City east until after the storm had passed, and then due to misinformation, radio units that had been sent to Beaufort were told that they were not needed.

"We need a radio communications system and we need it now," Mr. Merrill said.

When asked by commissioner Skinner Chalk if the sheriff's radio set-up might have been used, Mr. Merrill said that messages being sent by Raleigh drowned out attempts to use police radio here; furthermore, some of the messages deemed important by the Red Cross were not considered so by law enforcement officers.

Mr. Merrill said that citizen band radios would be satisfactory if there were six or eight throughout the county. He said reliable owners of citizen band radios would be authorized to buy a special crystal which would put them all on the same band in case of disaster and messages could be relayed from all parts of the county.

Victim Moves To Serious List

Perry Jones Goodwin Jr., who was severely injured in an auto accident Sunday morning near Atlantic, is still in serious condition at Sea Level hospital, although he has been taken off the critical list.

Dr. Harold Peacock said yesterday that Goodwin's recovery was remarkable and that he was doing quite well. Goodwin suffered major skin injuries when the sport car convertible he was driving overturned and skidded 150 feet on its top.

Dr. Peacock reported that no paralysis is apparent and that if there is no infection, very little skin grafting is expected.

Board Also Endorses, 4-1, Hospital Bond Issue

Newport town commissioners passed a resolution Tuesday night at the town hall requesting that county commissioners bar all carnivals from the county.

The motion followed a discussion of the recent "county fair" at Beaufort and the fact that minors were admitted to strip-tease shows.

Mayor Leon Mann, in suggesting the motion, said, "While the fair is held in Beaufort each year and is sponsored by American Legion Post No. 99, it still remains a matter of vital importance to the people of Newport because our children attend the event.

"Because the event goes under the name of a 'county fair' instead of a local thing, blame for such incidents is placed on the entire county."

The resolution carried unanimously.

By a vote of 4 to 1, the board endorsed the forthcoming hospital bond issue. The motion was made by commissioner Wilbur Garner. Voting against it was commissioner C. H. (Dick) Lockey.

Mrs. Gordon Cutler, wife of the water department secretary, presented the monthly report. As of Oct. 1 there were 202 unit customers using water in Newport who were paying an average monthly fee of $3.16.

She also presented the board a list of customers who were delinquent in their water bills. The board authorized Dan Bell, police chief, to collect the past-due bills. He was authorized to cut off service to anyone whose bill wasn't settled.

Mayor Mann reported that road improvement work in Newport, that was originally estimated to cost nearly $1,800, has been completed at a cost of just over $1,500. He also reported that Newport's Powell bill check for $4,195.40 has been received.

The board heard a request from the Newport postoffice seeking permission to install a mail deposit box downtown. The postoffice said that the most likely location for the box would be between Hill's Hardware store and Hill's grocery. The board granted the request.

The mayor reported that two permanent tags for city trucks had been ordered and the board authorized police chief Bell to purchase eight police patches, two badges and a hat.

Mayor Mann requested and received permission for the town truck to be taken to the surplus warehouse in Raleigh to bring back an auxiliary generator for the fire department.

Present at the meeting, besides those mentioned, were commissioners Les Bercegeay, John Kelly and Bennie Garner; town attorney George Ball and town clerk Edith Lockey.

Republicans To Open Branch Office, Newport

The Republican party will open a branch office this weekend in Newport in the building formerly occupied by the ABC store.

At a meeting at 7:30 there tonight, Republicans will elect officers to spearhead the campaign for Nixon-Lodge-Gavin.

I. D. Gillikin, Beaufort, chairman of the Republican county committee, expressed the hope that a large crowd will meet Robert L. Gavin, candidate for governor, at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning at the race track west of Morehead City.

The motorcade will proceed to Beaufort where Mr. Gavin will make a talk at 11:30 a.m. at the courthouse.

Mr. Gavin will then leave the county and return by plane later in the day to make an address at the Morehead City school auditorium at 8 o'clock that night. Introducing him will be John A. Wilkinson, attorney of Washington, N. C.

Speaking at the meeting at Republican headquarters in Beaufort Saturday night were Mr. Gillikin, Elmer Dewey Willis and C. R. Wheatly Jr. Further plans were made on getting out voters for the Nixon-Lodge-Gavin ticket. Fifty persons attended.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 tomorrow night at the headquarters on Front street.

Marine Pilot Killed Tuesday

Cherry Point (AP)—A Marine pilot killed Tuesday in the crash of his jet fighter plane has been identified as First Lt. James C. Norton of Havelock.

Lieutenant Norton was flying with three other F4D1 Skyray all-weather fighter planes on a routine gunnery mission when he radioed the control tower at the Cherry Point Marine Air Station and received clearance for landing. He was then about five miles from the tower and reported no trouble.

When no further word was received from the plane, a search-rescue helicopter was sent out and spotted the plane's wreckage in the woods in the vicinity of Ray and Earl's service station near Newport. Norton's body was found in the wreckage.

Lieutenant Norton was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack C. Norton of Houston, Tex. He is also survived by his wife, Maudine Eloise, and two sons, Robert C. 2, and Michael Scott Norton, 1.

Rotary Sees Movie on Pools

Woody Stanley and Larry Spivey, Greensboro, representatives of a swimming pool firm, Monday night showed a movie on different types of swimming pools to the Newport Rotary club.

Mr. Stanley and Mr. Spivey were in Newport at the request of a veterans housing committee that is investigating the possibility of building a swimming pool in Newport.

Members of the housing committee, who also attended the meeting are Junius Creech, Bill Hopkins, Joe Cox and Les Bercegeay.

Guests included the Rev. Graham Bowers of Newport and the three Marines who acted as color guards at the dedication ceremonies of the Newport postoffice. The Marines were Sergeant Bowers, Corporal Savory and Private Hollis.

Visitors were Bill Cordova, Luther Hamilton Jr., Dr. A. F. Chestnut, Bill Clark and Bud Dixon.

Dr. John Morris Talks To Beaufort Rotarians

Dr. John Morris was the guest speaker Tuesday night at the Beaufort Rotary club meeting. He spoke on the forthcoming bond referendum on a county hospital.

Visitors included Charles McNeill, Garland Scruggs and Tommy Noe, Morehead City Rotarians.

Mayor George Dill, Morehead City, asked Tuesday if THE NEWS-TIMES photographer got any pictures at all Saturday night at the "county fair." The answer is no. He was finally allowed to take the camera in, but no pictures were permitted. The space above would have contained one of the pictures.

Newport Principal Seeks Information on Courses

Classes for adults will be offered at Newport school if there is sufficient interest, announces E. B. Comer, principal.

Mr. Comer said that several persons have expressed the hope that classes could be taught in English, algebra, typing, bookkeeping, mechanical drawing and US history.

"Anyone interested is asked to send a postcard to Newport school listing the type of course he is interested in. It may be a course listed above, or other courses.

Mr. Comer said the cards should be in his office no later than Friday, Oct. 21.

Classes would be taught at night or on the weekends by a qualified person who may or may not be a member of the Newport faculty. The courses would not offer any credit toward a high school or college diploma, but would be taught only for the individual's own enlightenment, Mr. Comer remarked.
