Crop Residues Sometimes Block Soil Drainage

Plowed-under cover crops or crop residues sometimes hinder soil drainage in the spring or cause drought damage to crops in the summer. Studies by scientists of USDA and the Missouri Agricultural Experiment Station show that when crops are plowed under they may create a vegetative mat that blocks the capillary flow of water between surface soil and subsoil. Dr. Vernon C. Jamison of USDA's Agricultural Research Service says this restriction of water movement may cause some plants to drown in the spring from too much water and too little air in the soil. In the summer the same condition may cause trouble from drought, if the lack of capillary contact prevents an adequate amount of water from passing back from the subsoil to the root zone in the upper layer of soil, says Dr. Jamison. Further research is needed, the Mother dog assert "squatters' rights" Sunday, Sept. 11, and during hurricane Donna gave birth to five female and one male "sooner" puppies (just as soon be one kind as another). Healthy, active. Would like to find homes for them. Contact L. F. Giddens, PA6-5226. Persons who want to give pets away are invited to call THE NEWS-TIMES. Pet Corner notices are free.

Eagle's Nest Lynette McBride Wins Homecoming Crown

By MARY PHILLIPS
This past Friday night at the homecoming game we really picked up one dilly of a varsity queen. She goes by the name of Lynette McBride. We're as "proud as punch" to have her reign over us, and I'm sure the student body has made a wise choice. Congratulations, Lynette!
The homecoming dance Saturday night was a success and was enjoyed by all who attended.
Tuesday the freshmen and seniors took IQ tests to determine their ability to think. It lasted for only 30 minutes, but it really made us think!
We have something new in our school that we're very proud of. It is called the Eagle's Nest, the same as my column. It's a student lounge where students may go in at break and buy refreshments, etc.
Our student council has worked long and hard on it, and I personally wish to thank all who worked on it. They have done a wonderful job!
The Tri-Hi-Y is making plans for Twirp Week, which will be coming up soon. Boys, start saving your money, and make those girls work! These girls are really going to put their all into it, so it should be a great success.
Our Miss Senior this week is a sweet little lassie that goes by the name of Susan Elizabeth Dill. Her proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. George W. Dill Jr., whom she decided to join on June 20, 1943. She is 17 years old. Her home is at 1104 Arendell St. Susan is a very lovely miss with blonde hair and blue eyes. She is 5'6" tall, and weighs 128 lbs. Among her favorites are: subject, French II; teacher, likes them all; food, everything and anything; song, Mr. Custer; singer, Johnny Mathis.
As hobbies, she plays the piano, and enjoys making engagement rings from the foil in chewing gum wrappers. She is a member of the First Methodist church.
While in high school, Susan has been a member of the Beta club, FTA and chorus. Her pet peeve is for people to call her anything but Susan.
Her plans for the future are to go into nurses' training.
Mr. Senior is a fellow we all know. He is named Josiah William Bailey III or just "Joe". This character entered this life on Sept. 5, 1943, and is 17 years old. His lucky parents are Mr. and Mrs. Josiah W. Bailey; his home is at 1904 Shepard St.
Joe is a very good-looking boy with blonde hair and blue eyes. He stands 6'1" tall, and weighs in at 175 lbs. As his favorites, he lists: subject, conversational French; teacher, Mrs. Batly (no relation); food, chicken; song, Twelfth of Never; singer, Johnny Mathis.
His favorite pastime is being with Anne Marie, and his hobbies are sailing and playing golf. He is an active member of St. Andrew's Episcopal church.
While in high school, Joe has participated in band, chorus, Hi-Y, and baseball. His pet peeve is
