

Corn Combine at Work

Ernest Lee Willis of near Newport harvests corn, above, with his new combine. It harvests, shucks and shells corn as it moves through the corn field. This combine will also harvest all types of small grain, including soybeans.

Mr. Willis says that this machine, which retails for approximately $10,000, does a more thorough job and covers more acreage daily in harvesting blown-down corn than the conventional type corn-picker. The truck loaded with shelled corn moves either directly to the corn bin or on to market.

Combine Harvests Soybeans

On the L. D. Springle farm, RFD Beaufort, this new combine harvests the new Hood variety of soybeans. Mr. Springle says that he likes this variety because of its good yielding ability, the fact that it stands up well during storms, as compared with some of the older varieties, and Mr. Springle also likes the early maturity of this variety.

The Hill is another new early-maturing variety. Both the Hood and Hill are shatter resistant. The seed quality, oil content and protein of both varieties is good. They are resistant to bacterial blight and bacterial pustule. The Hood is also resistant to wildfire disease. The introduction of these two new varieties that have early maturity, good yields and quality, high oil and protein content, with disease resistance, is another example of some of the things that research specialists at State College, in cooperation with agricultural experiment stations, are doing to develop better crop varieties.

Parties in Suit Compromise; $2,999 Awarded

Marie Nelson was awarded $2,999 in the civil term of superior court last week in the case she filed against Logan A. Whitehurst and Pauline Whitehurst, guardians of Ray D. Whitehurst. The suit was the outgrowth of an auto accident at Ann and Turner streets, Beaufort, March 2, 1959.

Both parties agreed to compromise. The amount awarded is to be paid to the clerk of court who will in turn pay $155 of it to Dr. Theodore Salter and $500.60 to the Morehead City hospital. The Whitehursts were taxed with court costs.

In a separate case stemming from the same accident, David W. Nelson was awarded a settlement of $600 by the court. This too is to be paid to the clerk, with $490 of the amount going to Ray's Body and Paint shop. The defendant paid costs.

Dismissed were cases filed by C. T. Gillikin, administrator of the estate of Louie Elmer Gillikin, against Ohio Farmers Indemnity Co., United States Fidelity and Guaranty Co., Gene Bell and Leslie D. Springle separately. In each case the plaintiff appealed to supreme court.

The case of C. T. Gillikin, next of kin of Louie Elmer Gillikin, acting in behalf of himself and others, versus Leslie D. Springle was also dismissed. The plaintiff gave notice of appeal.

Ralph Styron and Roma Styron, trading as Styron Plumbing and Heating, recovered $6,551 plus interest from Aug. 3, 1957 from Bruce Goodwin and wife, Ethel Goodwin. The defendants paid costs.

In a case concerning custody of a minor child, Sherill Toler White by her next friend, Velma G. Toler, versus Charles W. White, the custody of Lynn White was granted the father, Charles White, until an investigation by the welfare department is completed. Provision was made for the child to visit her mother at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Toler.

Georgie Earl Dunn was granted a tract of land at Sound View Isles free and clear when the court ruled that the defendant, Stella Smith Christensen Dunn, had failed to comply with a written contract conveying the land. Dunn paid costs of the action.

In the case, Margaret K. Rhue versus Tommy Rose, the plaintiff was awarded $4,500, reduced to $3,750 by the judge.

In the case, Lewis-Price Inc. vs. Coolidge Merrill, the defendant appeared with new evidence and the case is now open for trial. Johnnie Morton, defendant in the suit, D. W. Freshwater, trading as Carteret Supply Co., appealed and bond was set at $100.

James E. Leonard and Marie J. Moore were given time to answer a complaint filed by Norwood Paul Lewis Sr. after certain items were stricken from the complaint. The suit was the result of an auto accident.

In superior court cases since the close of court, the disagreement between Junius C. Hardesty and T. T. (Tom) Potter was settled and the case dismissed.

In the suit, Tommie Lewis vs. Southern Oil Transportation Co., there was a compromise and the case was non-suited, with the defendant paying the costs.

Judge W. J. Bundy of the third judicial district signed an order granting Robert M. White, administrator of the estate of Ezra L. White, $4,500, to be paid by the B&M railroad, employers of Ezra White.

White drowned when he presumably fell from the B&M railroad trestle.

Registration Runs Heavy As Nov. 8 Draws Near

If registration in all precincts is running like it is in Beaufort, it will be double any registration in recent years, according to C. Z. Chappell, chairman of the county board of elections.

U. E. Swann, registrar, reports that 178 have registered in Beaufort precinct since the books opened Oct. 15. This Saturday will be the last day registrars will be at the polling place to accept new registrants.

Mr. Chappell said that the request for absentee ballots is tremendous. Saturday, Nov. 5, is the last day absentee ballots may be applied for.

Such ballots will be given for the sick and infirm but elections officials say reasonable proof must be offered that the person for whom the ballot is obtained is sick and cannot get to the polls.

The voting place for Morehead City precinct No. 1 will be changed, Mr. Chappell says. Ballots will not be cast in the municipal building as in the past.

He said an attempt is being made to get a polling place in the same vicinity and the announcement of the location will be made as soon as possible.

Anyone wanting any information on voting may contact Mr. Chappell or Mr. Swann in the elections office, first floor, courthouse annex, Beaufort, phone PA8-4867.

Three Youths Appear Tuesday In County Court

Three Newport youths, Wilbur Mann, Mickey Oglesby and Michael Bell, appeared in county recorder's court Tuesday charged with using loud, boisterous and profane language in public.

The warrant was amended to charge only Mann with the offense. The Oglesby and Bell cases were remanded to juvenile court. Mann was found guilty and fined $10 and costs. The defendant appealed and was bound over to superior court under bond of $50.

Judge Lambert R. Morris found probable cause in the case against Oscar Hill, charging him with assault. Hill was bound over to the next term of superior court. Bond for his appearance was set at $500.

Hill was charged with shooting Ray Garner, Newport youth who was allegedly stealing turkeys. Law enforcement officers swore out warrants for Garner and three other boys, after investigating circumstances connected with the shooting.

The court sentenced Charles William Chapman to three months in jail on a public drunkenness conviction.

Other defendants, their charges and findings of the court were as follows:

Willie Frederick Sweetin—Making an improper turn, costs.

John Jay Benton—Speeding, costs.

William Thompson Galliker II—Failing to stop for a stop sign, bond forfeited.

Linwood Reginald Hall—Speeding, costs.

Gray Dudley—Non-support. One year in jail suspended so long as defendant pay costs and $13.25 a week to the welfare department for the use and benefit of his minor children.

Harvey Hansley—Aiding and abetting in assault, dismissed.

John Reeves Linebarger—Abandonment and non-support. Six months in jail suspended so long as defendant pay costs and $20 a week to his wife for the use and benefit of his minor children.

Bobby Ray Story—Passing on a curve, costs.

Glendon Bumont Blevins—Speeding, costs.

Albert Sidney Caviness—Speeding, $5 and costs.

Frank Richard Marino—Speeding and having no operator's license. The defendant wasn't prosecuted on the second charge but for speeding was fined $10 and costs.

Thomas Ray Garner—Speeding, costs.

David Glenn Amos—Driving on the wrong side of the road, costs.

Robert Hilton Gaskill—Speeding, $25 and costs.

Official Issues Warning

Col. Harry Brown, director of the state water resources board, left, addressed the All Seashore Highway association at its recent meeting at Nags Head. He warned that each new storm reduces the outer banks which will not, for much longer, hold back the ocean from the mainland.

The Seashore Highway association adopted a resolution urging the state and Congress to act immediately on restoring all of the outer banks.

Mrs. Julia M. Herndon Heads Classroom Teachers

Mrs. Julia M. Herndon, Morehead City, was elected president of the eastern district Classroom Teachers' association Friday at Goldsboro.

Mrs. Lois Smith, Morehead City, was elected secretary. Mrs. Herndon, Mrs. Smith, five other teachers from Morehead City school and the principal attended the eastern district NCEA meeting at Goldsboro. The CTA meeting was held at the same time.

Present were Ralph Wade, Miss Hortense Boomer, Mrs. Octavia Nelson, Mrs. Margaret Day, Mrs. Sara Willis, and Lenwood Lee, principal. Substitute teachers were provided by the grade mothers, retired teachers and teacher organizations.

Speaker at the morning session was judge Harold C. Kessinger. He addressed a capacity audience on Tuning in on the Future.

The Classroom Teacher association luncheon was held in the junior high school cafeteria with about 300 attending. Dr. Dallas Herring, chairman of the State Board of Education, gave the address. He stressed scholarship.

He also stated that the public schools were not the orphan asylums of education, but rather the nursery schools of future leaders.

Commission to Meet

The County Planning commission will meet at 7:30 Tuesday night in the Carteret-Craven Electric office, Morehead City. Speaking to the commission will be Leigh Wilson, counsel for the North Carolina League of Municipalities.

People in This Area See Titan Monday Night

Mrs. Annie Dixon, Beaufort, was one of many persons who saw the Titan missile fired Monday night by the Air Force from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The missile was launched just after sunset and was seen in this county between 6:15 p.m. and 6:30. It was also seen by persons in the Raleigh, Rocky Mount and Goldsboro areas.

The glowing missile was spotted during the first part of its successful 6,100-mile journey to the South Atlantic. A reader comments on missile firing in the Readers Write column on page 3 section 2 of today's paper.

Medical Advancements Set Fast Pace in Modern World

(Note: This is the third in a series of articles on the proposed county hospital, presenting views of those in favor of the hospital. The views of a person opposed and others in favor of the project appear on today's editorial page.)

Medicine has advanced just as rapidly as have other sciences. Each day there are new discoveries that make yesterday's medical practices old-fashioned, that make hospitals built several years ago almost inadequate.

A hospital like the Morehead City hospital is an antique in the modern medical world. Most antiques are highly prized — carefully polished and viewed — but a hospital does not lend itself to classification as an antique. It is good only as it is being used. An antique in continual use soon falls apart. That is what is happening, trustees point out, to the Morehead City hospital.

What does the Medical Care commission recommend for inclusion in the modern hospital for which it has approved funds in Carteret county?

- Rooms that have oxygen piped in directly to the bed; sound-proof rooms and hallways
- Speaker system connecting the nurse's desk on the floor with the various rooms
- Modern emergency rooms with adjoining rooms for treatment of fractures and taking x-rays
- Enlarged x-ray department that would have facilities for giving x-ray treatments. At present, patients have to travel to Wilmington or Kinston for such treatment.

This alone would mean the saving of tens of thousands of dollars to patients who now have to travel back and forth and sometimes remain for weeks in those cities so that they can get the x-ray treatments necessary to combat cancer.

• An adequate laboratory that would allow lab technicians to work quickly and efficiently

- Modern kitchen and cafeteria for feeding not only patients but the hospital staff and employees plus means of getting food to the patients while it is hot
- A new obstetrical department with labor rooms, two delivery rooms and adequate nursery
- New surgical department, adjoining x-ray facilities, modern sterilizing equipment, cystoscopic room and storage space
- A recovery room where patients remain until they have recovered from the anesthesia administered for an operation
- Air conditioning and modern heating facilities
- Adequate drug and storage supply space
- Offices for the administrator, nursing supervisor, clerical help, medical library and record room.

At present, high tides flood the basement floor of Morehead City hospital. When heavy storms hit, the waterfront location of the Morehead City hospital creates dangers to which sick persons should not be subjected, hospital authorities point out.

Perhaps the greatest need supplied by a new hospital would be more beds. There are times patients have to be placed in the halls. There are so few private rooms that a person who requests a private room cannot always get it.

(Next: Where would the hospital be built, how would it be operated?)

Atlantic Wins Gavel at Club Achievement Program Friday

Atlantic Home Demonstration club won the gavel Friday night at the Home Demonstration club achievement program in Beaufort. The gavel is presented annually to the club that goes the farthest with the most members to attend the meeting.

Merrimon won the gavel for the three consecutive years prior to this one.

Mrs. W. G. Simpson gave the year's achievement report. Mrs. G. T. Spivey, who attended the national Home Demonstration council meeting this summer in Wisconsin, reported on her trip.

Miss Josie Pigott, Gloucester, who took the Home Demonstration tour to the UN in 1958 reported on her trip.

Mrs. Floy Garner, home, economics agent, present perfect attendance awards to the following:

One year: Mrs. Herman Taylor, Mrs. Lee Sawrey, Mrs. C. S. Rogers, Mrs. Thomas Oglesby, Mrs. Bobby Oglesby, Mrs. Myrtle Scott, Mrs. Monroe Willis, Mrs. Forrest McCabe, Mrs. Price Adams, Mrs.

Ray Hilbert, Mrs. Merle Hickox, Mrs. Harold Russell.

Two years: Mrs. R. P. Shrake, Mrs. W. K. Williams, Mrs. Milton Finer, Mrs. W. E. Guthrie, Mrs. Earl Dunn, Mrs. G. C. Dunn.

Three years: Mrs. Guy Carraway, Mrs. Rone Wallace.

Five years: Mrs. Richard Whitehurst.

Nine years: Miss Alice Laughon.

Eleven years: Mrs. Charles Stanley Jr.

Seventeen years: Mrs. Dyon Simpson.

Eighteen years: Mrs. Frank Simpson.

Mrs. Stanley, Home Demonstration County council president, presided. Mrs. Shrake gave the welcome. Music was provided by the Gloucester chorus.

R. M. Williams, county agricultural agent, announced that Mrs. Stanley was named Home Demonstration club woman of the year.

Site Donor Favors Hospital

M. T. Mills, Morehead City, donor of one of the sites offered for a county hospital, announced this week that he highly recommends a vote in favor of the county hospital.

Referring to the site he offered for a hospital, he said, "I have donated $4,500 to the project. I'm not saying the hospital should go on that land, but I do recommend that people get out and cast a vote for this hospital, and not let this thing slip by. It's an opportunity that comes once in a lifetime."

County commissioners have said that the hospital should go about three miles west of Morehead City on a tract of 100 to 500 acres.

Mr. Mills said he is confident that the land needed can be found there, probably on a part-purchase part-donated basis.

Children Will Make Collections for UNICEF

The Newport organization of UNICEF will go trick or treating throughout the community tonight. The Morehead City UNICEF collection will be made Monday night. Residents of both towns are invited to have pennies ready to give to costumed "Trick or Treaters" who are wearing UNICEF arm bands or have milk cartons with UNICEF seals on them.

Proceeds are turned over to the United Nations Children's fund to help needy children throughout the world.

10TH ANNIVERSARY TRICK OR TREAT FOR UNICEF

1960 A REALLY SPECIAL HALLOWEEN FOR THE WORLD'S CHILDREN

Malcolm Seawell, former state attorney general, will be the speaker at a Democratic rally at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Morehead City municipal building.

The rally has been planned by the Morehead City Democratic committee, which opened Wednesday afternoon a campaign headquarters on Arendell street.

The headquarters is between Robinson's Prescription shop and Bullock's shoe repair opposite the Colonial store.

Everyone is invited to the rally Tuesday night. The speaker is one of several who sought the Democratic nomination for governor in the May primary.

After the rally, refreshments will be served.

A. B. Cooper, chairman of the Morehead City Democratic committee, said the new headquarters will be open daily from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. A tv set has been installed and people are invited to drop in any time. They will be welcome Tuesday night, Nov. 8, to hear election returns.

At the organizational meeting of the Morehead City Democratic committee Monday night this slogan was adopted: "Let's give our state a surprise — Vote our size and be recognized — Vote Democratic straight on Nov. 8."

Morehead City, according to returns in recent elections, has not shown a large voting record.

The committee's aims are to get all the non-registered people registered, raise funds for the campaign, see that absentee and shut-in voters cast ballots and that voters vote the straight Democratic ticket.

Mr. Cooper announced yesterday that Democrats of Carteret, Craven and Onslow counties will sponsor Judge Luther Hamilton in a tv address at 7 p.m. tonight over channel 7, WITN.

Cars Damaged On 17th Street

Approximately $500 damage was done to two cars yesterday morning in a traffic accident investigated by the Morehead City police department.

Drivers involved were Carolyn Styron Salter, 1613 Arendell, Morehead City, and Margaret VanHorn Reams, 2006 Shepard.

According to police, Mrs. Salter was backing out of a driveway on 17th street when her car was hit by a 1955 Chevrolet driven by Mrs. Reams. Both drivers failed to see the other until the collision.

The Salter auto, a 1960 Chevrolet station wagon, received $200 damage and that to the Ream car was $300.

Police chief Herbert Griffin investigated the accident. No charges were filed.

VFW Post Hosts District Sunday

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, fourth district of North Carolina, held their quarterly district meeting in Beaufort Sunday. Hosts were members of Jones-Austin Post 2401 and Ladies Auxiliary. Post commander is Walter Hewitt of Beaufort and auxiliary president is Mrs. Ervin Lupton of Morehead City.

The auxiliary served a buffet luncheon to over 100 persons. Presiding district officers were C. B. Penny of Wallace, district commander; and Miss Elizabeth Kaleel of New Bern, district president. Department representatives were Dewey Beauchamps of Asheville, department senior vice-commander, and Miss Erlene Mayberry of Elkin, immediate past department president and currently department chief-of-staff. Also present was R. W. Fussell, veterans service officer of Pender county.

The next district meeting will be held in January at Burgaw.

Mrs. Vesta Hallfield Wounded by .22 Bullet

Mrs. Vesta Hallfield, North River, is in Morehead City hospital recovering from a bullet wound accidentally inflicted Saturday by her 12-year-old son, Wayne.

According to sheriff Hugh Salter, Wayne was loading a .22 rifle, preparatory to going squirrel hunting when it accidentally discharged. The bullet hit Mrs. Hallfield in the elbow and grazed the surface of her abdomen.
