Delegates Write of Work Done by United Nations

By FLOY G. GARNER
Home Agent

Mrs. E. C. McLawhorn and Mrs. John Ives of Harlowe club, were Carteret's delegates on the Home Demonstration-sponsored tour to the United Nations in October. Mrs. Ives and Mrs. McLawhorn have briefly written of some of the outstanding work being done through the UN. Their report follows:

"The United Nations celebrated its 15th birthday on October 24, therefore this week was known as United Nations Week.

Of all the sessions in the past years, this fifteenth assembly has been most outstanding. It has been called the greatest show on earth, because more heads of governments were gathered at the United Nations than ever before. There have been 15 new countries to enter the United Nations, recently, Nigeria being the last, making a total of ninety-nine member nations. The Congo will become a member as soon as they establish a permanent government.

At this time, bitter debates are going on between the east and west on the question of disarmament, with the Russians threatening to walk out and take their satellite countries with them, if the other nations do not agree with Russia's proposal on disarmament.

There is much being done under the Technical Assistance Program. This is a program sponsored by the United Nations, whereby the rich give to the poor. Billions of dollars have been given to undeveloped countries of Africa and Asia in the last 10 years. This is not given to these countries in actual money, but it goes to pay technicians to go to these countries and teach their people modern methods of farming; irrigation, soil conservation; construction work, etc.

These technicians come from all over the world. It has also been agreed at the UN that if these undeveloped countries are not helped and their standard of living raised, they will rebel, and there will be war.

UNICEF is also of great importance in the United Nations. This is the United Nations Children's Fund. The function of this organization is to help the hungry and sick children in Africa and Asia. Through this fund, children are given food, clothing, and medical attention. In many parts of America, children, during their trick or treat rounds on Halloween, ask for money for UNICEF. In many communities, parties are given and the proceeds go to this fund, which is a most worthy cause.

The question, "Was anything good accomplished by having Mr. Khrushchev at the United Nations Assembly?" is being asked now at the UN, and the answer is yes, because it drew attention to the United Nations, and the people the world over became more aware of the United Nations and its functions.

A pledge is being circulated for

Pennies' Worth of Trouble
Toledo, Ohio (AP)—A batch of thin pennies bought plenty of trouble for three Toledo men. Secret Service agents said Robert D. Miller, 21; his brother, Charles, 23, and Stanley Smith, 22, admitted using a grinding machine to file down pennies, which were used in dime-operated vending machines.

people in the United States to sign:

"UN, WE BELIEVE
"On this, the Fifteenth Anniversary of the United Nations,
"I pledge my Support
"I Reaffirm My Faith
"I Rededicate My Efforts
"Toward helping the United Nations to build a lasting peace and to promote the welfare of all mankind."

These signed pledge sheets will be presented in a bound volume to the United Nations, as evidence of the United States citizens' support for the UN.

At the UN, the representatives of all member nations, gather on an equal basis to plan collective action toward achieving the goals of the United Nations Charter: Peace, the rule of law, human rights for all, progress for non-self-governing peoples, and "better standards of life in larger freedom." This must be accomplished if we are ever to achieve lasting peace, so give the United Nations your lasting support in the hope of a better tomorrow.

Troop Scoop Scouts, Brownies Meet, Elect Troop Officers

Brownie troop 180 met Oct. 31. Renee Lewis called meeting to order. Our Brownie promise was said and Brownie song sung. After our business meeting, refreshments were served by Cheryl Fogerty. We bobbed for apples and were dismissed.

—Dana Brown

Girl Scout troop 97 held its first meeting at the civic center Nov. 1. We had our election of officers. They are president, Betty Jo Gray; vice-president, Mary Francis Hyman; secretary-treasurer, Diane Roberts; reporter, Sharon Conway. Our program chairman is also Mary Francis Hyman.

We plan to meet every first and third Tuesday of every month. Every fourth meeting we hope to have a covered dish supper and each girl will bring a different dish.

We discussed the senior-explorer excursion to the DuPont plant in Kinston in January.

Our program for the next meeting will be reading the blue book, which contains the rules and regulations of the Girl Scouts.

—Sharon Conway

Girl Scout troop 93 of Beaufort met with Mrs. Charles Merrill. Our president, Annette Chappell, called the meeting to order. We had a very interesting talk on Mexico by Mrs. Charles Rathmayer.

Marsha Hunt served refreshments. We were dismissed after our friendship circle.

—Ketra Sutherland, scribe

Brownie troop 153 of Beaufort met at the home of Mrs. John Vernberg. We named our patrols the Seahorse and the Starfish. Our patrol leaders are Sandra Piner and Lynn Talbot.

We learned trail signs. Then we went outside to look for our marked trails, which had been marked ahead of time. Sandra Piner served refreshments before we were dismissed with a friendship circle.

—Lynn Talbot

Girl Scout troop 264 met at Camp Glenn school. We discussed plans for a hike. We also discussed the cookie sale and the day camp which we would like to have in this area.

Kathy McKinley served refreshments. The meeting was adjourned.

—Kathy Howard

Emma Jean Lawrence, state 4-H winner in food preparation, helps Lida Mae Pigott, junior 4-H member and county cornmeal muffin champion, with record keeping.

NORTH CAROLINA MEANS BETTER LIVING

North Carolina has more people living on farms (nearly one-third of the total population) than any other state, and is second only to Texas in the number of farms. But, like all states, North Carolina is experiencing a trend toward fewer and larger farms. As this trend increases, the remaining farms will be even more specialized, more productive and more efficient. The future is bright indeed for progressive North Carolina farmers.

Another trend noticeable in North Carolina is that towards widespread approval of the system of "legal control" for the sale of beer and ale.
