tion, meeting at New Bern Wednesday night, reaffirmed its stand against location of the proposed bridge at Morehead City, citing that the obstruction to navigation it will create will be detrimental to development of the Morehead City port. This view will be put before the Corps of Engineers hear ing this morning at the Morchead City municipal building.

In the report on Morehead City by the president, W. B. Chalk, it was stated that the Morehead City Garment Co. would move into its new building this week.

Mr. Chalk commended Charles McCullers, secretary of the association, for his efficient work. After going on the industry-hunting tour to Chicago, he wrote 300 Chicago firms, making follow-up contact from the Neuse Valley area.

Deputy sheriff Bruce Edwards said Williams and an Indian spent the night at the camp. Carter and James B. Lee came in about dawn and Carter and Williams started arguing

Williams claimed Carter cut him on the right arm and cut a finger on his left hand. Then he said he got his knife and hit Carter one time in the neck. The wound killed him

The sheriff's department was notified of the cutting by the Campens. Sheriff Hugh Salter and deputy Edwards found a pocket knife under Carter's body. Williams, who disappeared from the scene but later gave himself up at the sheriff's office, said he lost the knife he had.

Carter's body was removed to Barrow's funeral home, Morehead City.
