

Pastor Announces Music Plans for Easter Service

The music committee of the Carteret County Ministerial association, the Rev. Corbin Cooper, chairman, announces partial plans for music at the Easter Sunrise Service at Fort Macon.

There will be two choirs. One choir being designated Morehead West. This choir will be under the direction of Mrs. Austin Williams, choir director, First Methodist church, Morehead City.

The second choir will be known as Beaufort East. This choir will be directed by Mrs. William M. Murray, the former Miss Ruth Durham, minister of music, First Baptist church, Beaufort.

The churches of the county will be sent a letter asking if they have any choir members who wish to participate. The choir directors of all churches, or persons so designated, are asked to respond very soon to the letter, Mr. Cooper says. Music will play a very important part in the service and each choir will sing several selections, he added.

It is hoped that the men will respond in large numbers so as to make a good choral balance possible. The bands of the county will be asked to contribute a portion of their bandsmen toward making a composite band that will play at the service. This massed band will be under the direction and supervision of Ralph Wade, Mr. Cooper concluded.

Toastmasters Will Meet Tomorrow

The Carteret County Toastmasters club will meet at the civic center at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Speakers will be Harold Chartley, Maynard Owens, Kenneth Fischler and Leslie Davis. The panel of critics will be E. G. Phillips, Robert Hanes, L. B. Ambrose and Dr. Russell Outlaw. William Motes will act as master critic and J. P. Baptist will be grammarian.

Toastmaster will be Cecil Smith and Dr. W. L. Woodard will be topic master. James McLain will give the invocation.

Ground Broken for Home

Cubs Observe Anniversary With Banquet at Scout Hut

Pack 367 of the Cub Scouts of America, Beaufort, celebrated the 51st anniversary of Scouting with their Blue and Gold banquet Thursday, Feb. 16 at the Scout hut in Beaufort.

Approximately 100 people were present at the covered dish dinner, served buffet style. These included the Cubs, their parents and family and friends of the Scouting movement. The blessing was asked by Mr. Gerald Talbot.

The meeting was opened by the flag ceremony. The pledge of allegiance was led by Scout Ricky Johnson, who is chief of Den 1. The flag bearers were Craig Talbot and David Springle, who in presenting the flags completed their last requirements of the tenderfoot.

Appreciation was expressed to the Adair Funeral Home for the use of their chairs and to the Do Nut House for the cake, which was decorated in the blue and gold colors and showed the steps of Cubbing up to the goal of the Cub Scout. These steps were illustrated by the badges of rank on stair steps. To carry out the theme of this second half-century of Scouting there was a rocket soaring above.

The tables were decorated with blue cloths and the placemats were of yellow shelf paper and blue crepe paper. Cub Scout napkin holders and small rockets were also made by the boys and were used on the tables. Two large rockets were made by Mrs. Louise Arrington's den and were placed at either end of the tables.

The following boys were presented awards by the assistant Cubmaster, John Moore: David Springle, lion, webelos and two service stars; Kenneth Lewis, wolf; Frank Krusz, bear, gold and silver arrow and two service stars; Craig Talbot, lion, webelos, gold and silver arrow points and service star.

Mark Adams, gold arrow and service star; Jerry Cox, wolf; Billy Warren, wolf; Robert Austin, wolf; Walter Hewitt, wolf and gold arrow; Cecil Willis, wolf and gold arrow; Sammy Sewell, wolf; Mike

Major Speaks Thursday Night to Rotary Club

Maj. Bruce W. Larke, USMC, was the principal speaker at the Thursday night meeting of the Morehead City Rotary club. Major Larke, speaking on the Caribbean situation, said that the military status of the Caribbean has declined with the coming of ICBM and atomic submarines. He added that relations between this country and the Caribbean must be improved to insure a long-range peace program.

The club also heard a report on the activities of the orthopedic clinic sponsored by the Rotary club. A total of 506 patients were seen at the clinic during the year ending Dec. 31. This included 198 new patients and 308 return patients.

to take the responsibility, J. M. Davis is to hire a person to care for Mrs. Nelson until her death.

After her death the trustee was instructed to pay all debts incurred in her behalf and deduct an allowance for himself that he feels justified in deducting. The balance of the estate is to be divided as follows:

To his sisters, Mrs. Sallie Willis, Mrs. Joe Fulcher, and Mrs. Davis, a one-ninth interest each; to his niece, Mrs. Bowers, and Alma Boyce, Bennie Boyce, Gordon Boyce, and Matt Barham, a one-ninth interest each; to Glenda and Sara Jane Barham, a combined one-ninth interest.

Extensive provisions for care of a daughter were made by Mrs. Mamie D. Wade in her will. She drew the will Sept. 12, 1955 and had it witnessed by C. R. Wheatly Jr., and Evelyn A. Rice. It was filed Feb. 13.

Mrs. Wade left to her daughter, Agnes W. Leffers, the family homeplace for as long as she provides a home, including food, clothing, medical care and other things, for another daughter, Louise Wade.

Should she fail to provide for Louise, the right of re-entry is reserved for all the children on a share and share alike basis. If, however, on the death of Louise, she has been properly cared for, then the homeplace becomes Mrs. Leffers'.

Should Mrs. Leffers precede Louise Wade in death, then the homeplace becomes part of the residuary estate. All money, stocks and bonds are to be equally divided among all the children, as well as all other property.

Eileen Yeomans, a daughter, received the family car and was named executrix.

Thomas Tolson, Bessie Tolson and Annie T. Smith were beneficiaries of the will of their brother, E. L. Tolson. They were willed equal shares in the land in Morehead township, to be passed to their survivors at their death, as well as equal shares in all personal property.

At the death of the last survivor of his brother and sisters, Mr. Tolson directed that his land become the property of his nephew, T. J. Tolson, Goldsboro. Bessie Tolson and T. J. Tolson were named executrix and executor of the estate.

Home to Open This Weekend

To be open this Saturday and Sunday at Village Heights is a model of the new Lafayette series of homes being built by Carl W. Johnson, developer of Village Heights, Newport, and Oaksmith Acres, Morehead City.

The new model home was open for the first time this past weekend. The response was so gratifying that the home will be open again this weekend, Mr. Johnson announces.

He said, "We feel that we have a group of new designs and plans to meet a wide demand, with many new materials in line with our policy of building with the home owner in mind. Home purchasers have shown they want a home that is comfortable and in which house-keeping chores and maintenance costs are kept at a minimum. All of our homes are designed and built with this in mind."

The new series of homes range in price from $9,800 up. The builder has complete FHA and VA financing established with no down payment to veterans and 3 per cent down payment under FHA. Monthly payments, which include taxes and insurance, start at $65 per month.

Village Heights was started last March at which time three model homes were shown and some 40 houses sold over two weekends.

Many People Give Eyes To Help Others' Sight

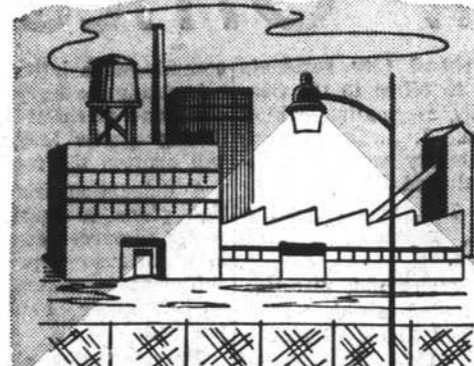

Winston-Salem, N. C. (AP)—The North Carolina Eye Bank for Restoring Sight Inc., has received more than 2,000 pledges of eyes to be used in corneal transplants. More than 7,500 wills are on file with the eye bank. Seventy-one eyes passed through the bank in 1959-60. Forty-two of these were used in transplants and 29 in research.
