

Two Defendants Object to Fines, Appeal Cases

Two defendants, John Hoadley Kendall and Charles Andrew Davis, entered appeals to $10 fines handed them by county recorder's court by Judge Lambert Morris Tuesday.

Kendall was found guilty of failing to yield the right of way and fined $10 and costs. Davis was convicted of careless and reckless driving and was fined the same. Both cases were transferred to the next term of superior court. Bond for the two defendants was set at $50 each.

Judge Morris ordered eight defendants, charged with having improper exhaust systems, to pay court costs. The eight were Steven Herbert Bige, Linda Dickinson Pollock, Marvin James Miller, Avon Darral Davis, Derrell John Forrest, Charles Frederick Crowell, Luther Thomas Salter and Paul Edward Brown. Brown was also charged with having no reflectors on his truck.

John Amos Lee Knight was sentenced to two years in jail for failing to comply with the terms of a suspended non-support sentence of May 10, 1960. On that date Knight was convicted of non-support by judge Morris and sentenced to two years in jail, suspended on payment of $15 a week to the welfare department for the use and benefit of his wife and children.

Testimony Tuesday showed that Knight had not been making weekly payments to the welfare department and judge Morris ordered the defendant to serve the two years called for in the original sentence.

Jerry L. Arnold was fined $127.57 plus court costs after he was found guilty of public drunkenness, disturbing the peace and damaging city property. The $127 was earmarked for the town of Atlantic Beach to cover damages to a patrol wagon.

Other defendants, their charges and the findings of the court were as follows: (Some of these cases are "old" cases, but have been entered in the court records now. Due to the system the court uses to keep up with defendants who are given time to pay fines or costs, the defendant's name and judgment are not put in court minutes until he meets conditions of the judgment.)

Everett Ingram Jr., attempted larceny, $25 and costs.

Carl Little, having no reflectors on truck, costs.

Fred Goodwin, violation of fishing laws, bond forfeited.

Sandra Willis Gillikin, having no operator's license, not prosecuted.

James Wilbur Salter, speeding, $50 and costs.

Peggy Ann Cannon, speeding, $50 and costs.

Elizabeth Stewart Barfield, careless and reckless driving and having no operator's license, $100 and costs.

Donnie Lewis, violation of fishing laws, bond forfeited.

Lowell Stewart Avery, speeding, costs.

Clayton Howard, assault, dismissed.

Richard Keith Fowler, having improper lights, bond forfeited.

Morehead Board Reaffirms Ban on Sunday Beer Sales

New Commissioner

Jerry J. Willis was sworn in as Morehead City town commissioner Thursday night at the Morehead City municipal building. The oath was administered by A. H. James, clerk of superior court.

Mr. Willis replaces Bud Dixon, who resigned recently from the board. Mr. Dixon is head of the county hospital board of trustees and said he was holding two offices, in violation of the law.

Mr. Willis was serving on the town zoning board at the time of his appointment to the town board. He was asked at the town board Thursday night to obtain his replacement on the zoning board.

CCC to Meet

Coastal Carteret Communicators, citizens band radio operators, will meet Friday night at 7:30 at the Beaufort fire station, according to Mrs. Wiley Taylor Jr., publicity chairman. All citizens band operators are invited.

By a 3 to 2 vote, Morehead City town commissioners reaffirmed Thursday night a town ordinance prohibiting beer retailers in town to sell beer for off-premises consumption Sundays.

Voting in favor of letting the beer retailers sell beer by the package or case between 12:30 p.m. and 11:45 p.m. were commissioners Russell Outlaw and Dom Femia. Voting against were commissioners S. C. Holloway, D. J. Hall and Jerry J. Willis.

Mr. Willis said he is not personally against selling people beer to take home or out on boats, but he said he feels the people are against it.

Mr. Holloway and Mr. Hall said that people had spoken to them and asked them to keep the lid on Sunday beer sales.

Commissioner Femia said it is not fair to make the in-town beer sellers pay a city, county and state beer tax and then keep them from selling beer on Sunday. He said people can go less than a mile outside town and buy beer from someone who doesn't pay a town tax.

Commissioner Holloway said the Sunday ban was voted in at the request of town beer dealers during the second world war when they couldn't get all the beer they wanted and they wanted a rest from beer selling on Sunday.

Fisherman Lands Octopus Friday

Duke Marine lab, Pivers Island, received a gift Friday—an octopus.

The octopus, which measures 18 inches across when spread out, was caught by Tim Eugene Creed, 18, Smyrna, Ga., who was fishing off the Aviation Fuel Terminals dock. He put a piece of hogfish on his hook. The octopus grabbed it with one of his tentacles and hung on. The catch was made at 8 a.m. Friday.

Geddy Bennett, superintendent at the terminals, called Duke lab and offered them the critter. Though caught occasionally in these waters, an octopus is seldom taken on hook and line.

The youth who caught the octopus is the son of the chief of inspections, Naval materials, who was here over the weekend to make an inspection at Aviation Fuel terminals, Radio island.

F. C. Salisbury Wins $50 Award

County historian F. C. Salisbury has been awarded a $50 prize by the Progressive Farmer magazine for his Civil War tale of Emeline Pigott, Carteret's Confederate spy.

His story will appear in True War Tales from the South by Clarence Poe, to be published by the University of North Carolina press in December. Mr. Poe is editor of the Progressive Farmer.

Mr. Salisbury, a resident of Morehead City, is president of the County Historical society, a regular contributor to THE NEWS-TIMES and has received numerous awards for his historical articles.

Dr. Rachel Davis To Talk to Club

Dr. Rachel Davis, Lenoir county's representative in the general assembly, will be the speaker at tonight's meeting of the Carteret Business and Professional Women's club.

The club will meet at 7 at the home of Miss Anne Pittman, Mitchell Village, Morehead City.

Dr. Davis is a practicing physician at Kinston. She has a home at Atlantic Beach.

Dr. Davis will be introduced by Mrs. James Smith, club legislative chairman. Mrs. Smith earnestly requests that every club member make an effort to be present. She remarked, "It's embarrassing to have an important out-of-town speaker and then have only a handful of people show up, as happened at the July meeting!"

Mrs. Frank Sample, club president, will preside at the business meeting.

Coast Guard Cooperates In Crab Derby Events

Two waterfront areas will be closed for several hours this weekend because of events in the crab derby.

The US Coast Guard announces that marine traffic will be prohibited from the Morehead City waterfront from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., and from 2 to 4 p.m. Saturday for the ski show and sailboat races.

On Sunday, power boat races will be held on Taylor's creek, Beaufort, from 2 to 4 p.m. The area closed to marine traffic will be from the postoffice dock to in front of the dock at Pivers Island.

Civilians Register

Three hundred Civilians convened at the Biltmore hotel, Morehead City, for a state-wide convention Saturday, hosted by the Morehead City Civitan club. Highlight of the convention was the presentation of a Century Citizenship award Saturday to Morehead City's Ma Taylor. The award was presented by Zeb C. Hopkins, lieutenant governor of Civitan zone 14.

Four Accidents Happen During Rainy Saturday

Mailboxes, Road Machine Struck

Suffering severe cuts about her face and head Saturday morning in an auto accident was Mrs. Marie Harrell, route 1 Morehead City. Also injured in the accident, at 2:30 a.m. was Terry Garner, route 2 Newport. Both were taken in the Bell-Munden ambulance to Morehead City hospital.

According to patrolman W. E. Pickard, who investigated, Mrs. Harrell was driving a 1960 Ford owned by Glenn Millis, route 2 Newport. Mrs. Harrell was leaving the Country Club road to enter highway 70 when she lost control of the car, the patrolman said.

It took down four or five mailboxes on the right on the Country Club road, crossed highway 70 and hit a motor grader that was parked on the new highway right-of-way.

Garner was treated at the hospital and discharged, but Mrs. Harrell was still hospitalized yesterday. Damage to the car was extensive. Charges against the driver are pending, the patrolman said.

Four highway accidents Saturday were investigated by state highway patrolman J. W. Sykes.

At 9:10 a.m. Saturday a 1952 Dodge, driven by Lynn Gilbertson, USN, Cherry Point, was struck in the rear of a 1960 Chrysler driven by William L. Pateat, Smithfield. The accident happened on highway 70 in front of the Rex restaurant, Morehead City.

Injured was Barbara Poteat, 12, sister of the driver of the Chrysler. She was taken to Morehead City hospital for treatment of an ankle. Also in the car was a brother, Bobby, 14.

According to the patrolman, Gilbertson, with two passengers in his car, had stopped to turn left into the restaurant. It was raining hard at the time, patrolman Sykes said. Both cars were headed west.

Poteat was charged with driving too fast for existing conditions. Owner of the Chrysler is the driver's father, Dr. Hubert M. Poteat Jr. Damage to the Chrysler was estimated at $700; to the Dodge $150.

Mrs. Ruth Frances Gillikin, route 2 Beaufort, was hospitalized after the 1956 Pontiac in which she was riding went into a ditch at 11:30 a.m. Saturday two miles east of Beaufort on highway 70.

The patrolman said that Nellie G. Cooley, route 2 Beaufort, daughter of the injured woman, was driving. She had passed a car and as she pulled back into her own lane of traffic, skidded. Mrs. Cooley was charged with driving too fast for existing conditions. Damage to the Pontiac was estimated at $200.

Joy C. Miller, 4, suffered a bruised arm at 1:45 p.m. Saturday when the 1957 Chevrolet her grandmother, Anna J. Reid, was driving, hit the rear of the 1960 Oldsmobile driven by Porter Dillon, Raleigh.

Dillon was on the Sportsman pier road at the beach, waiting to enter Fort Macon road. Mrs. Reid came up behind him, the patrolman said, and knocked him across the road.

Mrs. Reid, of route 4 New Bern, was charged with driving with insufficient brakes. Damage to the Olds was estimated at $450, to the Chevrolet $300.

A 1960 Chevrolet driven by George D. Simpson, route 2 Beaufort, turned bottom up in a canal at 4:45 p.m. Saturday, two miles west of Sea Level. Simpson, with a passenger, was headed east the patrolman said.

The Chevrolet had passed a car, then skidded into a canal. Damage to the car was estimated at $500. The car had a slick tire, the patrolman said. The driver was charged with driving too fast for existing conditions.

Breaks Arm

Jan Merrill, 11, of Morehead City was admitted to Morehead City hospital Sunday night with a broken arm. She broke her arm in a fall from a porch at the Ted Garner home, Morehead City. Jan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge Merrill.

Burlington Visitor Rescues Fisherman

Vacancies Exist

Numerous vacancies exist in the 9307th Air Force Reserve Recovery squadron, Wilmington. Those interested in becoming a member of the squadron may contact Julian Austin Jr., 1004 Bridges St., phone PA6487.

Elgin Johnson, 34-year-old Negro fisherman who slipped into the water Saturday noon at the LST ramp, Radio Island, was rescued by H. C. Flinchum, Burlington.

According to Flinchum, he and three friends, R. M. Bueschel, J. R. Edwards, and M. T. Hargis, were sitting in their car waiting for the rain to stop when they saw Johnson slip on slime on the ramp and go into the water.

Flinchum pulled off his clothes and went after Johnson, who was almost exhausted by the time his rescuer reached him. When Johnson was pulled ashore, the four men took turns giving him artificial respiration. They called an ambulance when Johnson was able to breathe on his own.

Johnson, who lives at 509 Cecil St., was discharged from the Morehead City hospital Sunday. Flinchum said that Johnson, though close to unconsciousness, was panicky and almost pulled both of them under. He was about 15 feet from shore when Flinchum got to him.

Flinchum, Edwards, Bueschel, and Hargis are employed by Western Electric, Burlington. They were here on a weekend fishing trip.
