

Bowl Queen Appears in Parade

Miss Fay Sanderson, Blue Marlin bowl queen, rides on a float with her court during the parade Saturday morning in Morehead City. In the bowl game Saturday night the South Dayton, Ohio, Phantoms defeated the Morehead City team. Miss Sanderson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Sanderson. The float was sponsored by Fabulous Fishermen and decorated by Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy Mizelle and Mrs. Raymond Duke.

Library Group Hopes to Paint Part of Interior

A committee to look into the possibility of painting the main part of the county library was appointed Saturday afternoon at a meeting of Friends of the Library.

The group met at the library, Broad and Pollock streets, Beaufort. The committee is John Reintjes, chairman; Mrs. George Rees, Mrs. William R. Nicholson, Thomas Respass and Dr. John Vernberg.

A nominating committee, which will report at the spring meeting, was appointed by Mrs. John Costlow, president of Friends of the Library. Mrs. Holden Ballou is chairman. Members are Mrs. J. C. Harvell and Mrs. G. B. Talbot.

Miss Amy Muse, member of the library board, reported that the town of Beaufort is proceeding with installation of a new heating system for the library.

During the business session it was pointed out that a proposed bond issue would provide a new state library and department of archives and history building. Friends of the Library were asked to support the bond issue.

Mrs. Ballou and Mrs. Jack Ward reported that the summer story hour was a success and plans were made to continue it next summer with special emphasis on stories for the older children who can go to the library by themselves.

The library group has provided a bulletin board and three of the members, Mrs. Clarence Guthrie, Mrs. Costlow and Mrs. Donald Hoss arranged the display on coastal Carolina and books now in the Duncan real estate agency window on Front street.

Miss Muse poured tea. Refreshments were served as members arrived. Thirty attended.

Fire Strikes Cabin Cruiser At Yacht Basin Saturday

Flames Gut Main Cabin; Loss Insured

The cabin cruiser, Playmate II, was seriously damaged by fire at 1:40 p.m. Saturday in the shed at the Morehead City Yacht basin. Owner of the cruiser is Carson Stout, High Point furniture manufacturer. No one was aboard at the time of the blaze.

The damage, estimated at between $5,000 and $6,000 is covered by insurance. The boat was taken yesterday to a boatworks west of Morehead City for repairs.

The main cabin is gutted and the forward portion badly smoked. The fire was discovered at 1:35 p.m. by people at the yacht basin. Sgt. Bill Condie, Morehead City police officer, noticed the blaze and radioed for help and the fire department was also phoned by Mrs. Bob Simpson.

Working on a boat nearby was Joe Fulcher, former Morehead City fire chief, who fought the fire until firemen arrived. Bob Simpson, who lives aboard the cruiser, Silver Spray, at the yacht basin, shuttled fire extinguishers to Mr. Fulcher.

Mr. Simpson also removed a 50-foot boat tied in the slip next to the Playmate. The fire is believed to have started in the bedding in the main cabin, where a cigarette was probably dropped.

The boat had been out fishing in the morning. Upon returning to dock, it had been refueled. Guests who were aboard left and the boat was put in the shed.

Thirty minutes later, the fire blazed up, the flames leaping to the roof of the shed. Captain of the Playmate is Manly Styron.

Coast Guard Aids Six Boats During Weekend

Six boats, all with engine failure and ranging in size from a 16-foot outboard to 54-foot yacht, were objects of Coast Guard assists over the weekend.

On Friday afternoon Fort Macon dispatched the 30-footer to assist the fishing vessel, the Evelyn D. Smith that was disabled near Wainwright slough, Core Sound. The boat was towed to Atlantic. T. B. Smith of Davis is the boat's owner.

Two assists were made Saturday afternoon. A 16-foot outboard, owned by George W. Lewis, Alta Vista, Va., developed engine failure near Morehead City channel buoy number 17 and was taken in tow by the 30-footer to the Morehead City marina.

Also on Saturday, the fishing vessel, Vagabond, was disabled five miles southeast of the Beaufort bar. The Fort Macon 40-footer towed the boat to Morehead City. Harry Hall, Morehead City, is the boat's owner.

A trio of yachts, the Skindiver, the William T. and the Sandbar, got assists Sunday. The Skindiver, owned by Harry D. Belock, Kingspoint, L. I., was towed to Hobucken after developing engine failure near buoy number 15, Goose creek.

The William T. was towed from Bay river waters to Oriental by Coast Guardsmen aboard the 40-footer. Owner of the yacht was William Siegelbaum, Yonkers, N.Y.

Sunday's assist was made to the yacht Sandbar which was disabled in South River. Crewmen aboard the Fort Macon 30-footer made the assist and towed the Sandbar to Oriental. The craft was owned by Sidney H. Telman, Riverton, N. J.

Fort Macon crewmen on the assists were Woodard, BM-2; Brannon, EN-3; Austin, EM-1; Johnson, BM-1; and Hosley, SN.

Bookmobile Will Stop at Beach

For the first time, the bookmobile from the county library has begun making regular stops at Atlantic Beach. Today the bookmobile will be at the home of Mrs. Frances Wrightenberry at 3:30 p.m.

Residents of the beach may find this a convenience when there is not time to make a trip to the library, Mrs. Minnie Simpson, librarian, said. The bookmobile usually carries the same books found on the library shelves. Books not available will be picked up at the library by the bookmobile librarian upon request.

Here is a list of current best-sellers which may be had from either the bookmobile or the county library:

Fiction: The Agony and The Ecstasy, Stone; Fanny and Zooey, Salinger; To Kill a Mockingbird, Lee; Milla 18, Uris; The Winter of Our Discontent, Steinbeck; Clock Without Hands, McCullers; The Edge of Sadness, O'Connor; The White Rajah, Monsarrat; The House at Old Vine, Lefts; Chairman of the Bored, Streeter.

Non-Fiction: The Making of the President 1960, White; The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich, Shirer; The New English Bible: New Testament; Citizen Hearst, Swanberg; Ring of Bright Water, Maxwell; Kidnap: The Story of the Lindbergh Case, Waller; The Age of Reason Begins, Durant; Russia and the West Under Lenin and Stalin, Kennan.

Marine Vocational Boys Win First Prize at Fair

The marine vocational class of Morehead City high school won a blue ribbon at the state fair, Raleigh, for the second consecutive year this year.

In the industrial education category, the class won first prize for drawings and boat models. Displayed were 50-foot cabin cruiser models built to scale.

The class is taught by Capt. Jim Mitchell. Thirty-eight boys are enrolled. The fair was held this month at Raleigh.

Passenger Ship to Sail From Morehead in May

Party Proceeds Will Go Toward Cancer Crusade

Proceeds from the card benefit at 8 Thursday night in the Legion hut, Beaufort, will go to the cancer society.

Mrs. C. L. Beam, chairman, announced yesterday that persons who do not want to play cards may buy tickets at the door if they would like to see the fashion show and have refreshments.

Refreshments will be served upon arrival of the guests. Tickets are a dollar each and may be bought now from Mrs. Beam, or Mrs. J. R. Morrill, Morehead City.

Walter McClain Charged With Assault with Gun

Recovering in the Morehead City hospital from a bullet wound in the hip is John Simmons Sr., 314 Queen St., Beaufort.

Charged with shooting Simmons is Walter McClain, who was released from the county jail yesterday under $250 bond. The shooting occurred at the Casino, Pine and Queen streets, Saturday night, according to chief of police Guy Springle.

McClain, a Beaufort resident, denies shooting Simmons.

The cruise liner Victoria, 20,000-ton luxury ship of the Caribbean Cruise Lines, Washington, D. C., will make a six-day cruise from Morehead City to Bermuda in May, announces S. A. Chalk Jr., president of the greater Morehead City chamber of commerce.

President Chalk, a past president of the Carolinas Association of Mutual Insurance Agents, said the association has chartered the Victoria's May cruise for its 28th annual meeting. He added the tentative sailing date is May 18, with May 11 designated as the alternate date.

Comparing Morehead City with the Port of Wilmington for Bermuda cruises, Mr. Chalk said by sailing from here the Victoria will save more than five hours traveling to and from deep water, and thus will provide an extra half-day's stay in Bermuda. This was a strong selling point to his association, he said.

President Chalk also stated the May cruise clearly indicates the port of Morehead City can now generate passenger traffic as well as freighter cargo. He pointed to the numerous motel and restaurant facilities added here since the MS Stockholm sailed from Morehead City to Bermuda Oct. 16, 1954, and said Morehead City can now provide pre-cruise accommodations in all such instances.

The Stockholm was the first and last passenger liner to sail from Morehead City.

J. J. Ewell Hurt in Wreck

Jesse James Ewell, route 2 Newport, remained in Sea Level hospital yesterday with internal injuries suffered in an auto accident Friday.

Patrolman R. H. Brown, who investigated the accident, said it occurred at 1:40 p.m. at the intersection of the Masontown road and highway 70, one mile west of Newport.

The patrolman said Dorothy Blackwell Poston, 1901 Arendell St., Morehead City, was driving a 1960 Plymouth west on highway 70 and had stopped to wait for traffic to clear before turning left. Ewell, in a 1951 Chevrolet, came up behind her and struck the rear of the Plymouth.

Damage to the Plymouth was estimated at $600 and to the Chevrolet at $200. Ewell was charged with failing to yield the right of way.

Break-In Investigated

The sheriff's department yesterday was investigating a break-in at Atlantic. Details, other than that a small amount of cash was taken, were not available by press time.

4-Year-Old Boy Injured in Crash

Lewis Carl Johnson, 4, a passenger in a car which hit a utility pole in Beaufort Saturday morning, was discharged from the Morehead City hospital shortly after noon yesterday.

The boy was in a car driven by his brother, Richard Wayne Johnson, 16, Beaufort-Morehead causeway. Richard suffered a bruise under his right eye and his little brother a gash on his right forehead.

Chief of police Guy Springle said that the car was headed east on Cedar in the 300 block. The driver wanted to pull to the right, the wheels locked, and he hit the pole, the officer said. No charges were filed.

The injured were taken to Morehead City hospital in the Brooks and Mason ambulance. The car was demolished. The accident happened at 9:05 a.m.

No East Carolina Matters Discussed By Highway Men

State highway commissioner D. G. Bell, who attended a highway commission meeting at Asheville Friday, said nothing was transacted at the meeting relative to highways or bridges in eastern Carolina.

He remarked that an upstate newspaper took note of the fact that he and two other highway commissioners were flown to the meeting in the highway department's plane.

He said the plane's pilot is on the payroll and the plane must be kept in shape for its primary purpose of mapping land and highways from the air. When it is not used, the expense of the plane continues just the same, therefore, ferrying commissioners to highway meetings means no additional expense to taxpayers.

Admiral Comes to Town

Sailors and officers of the USS Little Rock, a guided missile cruiser, spent a weekend liberty in Morehead City after participating last week in a major Naval exercise. The exercise included aircraft carrier strikes against simulated targets in southeastern United States.

The Little Rock was flagship of the Second Fleet Task Force made up of two attack aircraft carriers and 22 other ships. The Little Rock is based at Norfolk.

Providing submarine opposition to the fleet during the war game was the nuclear-powered submarine Skate and the submarine Jallao, both based at New London, Conn.

The maneuvers ended Friday. Personnel from the Little Rock, which is armed with the surface-to-air missile Talos, were ferried to Morehead City by liberty boats. The Little Rock lay northeast of Beaufort bar, about a mile and a half from Morehead City.

Chamber Speaker's Figure On Jobless Questioned

Response to the chamber president's plea Thursday night for more funds was slight.

S. A. Chalk, president, asked that individual chamber members put up $50 as a guarantee that they will try to collect $50 from backsliders by Dec. 10. If so, their $50 will be returned to them.

Mr. Chalk said that the new board of directors will be faced with eliminating the county's displays at the Charlotte and Cincinnati sportsmen's shows in the future, if financial support of the chamber is not strengthened.

He told the 162 at the dinner, "Other people in the county are benefiting from sacrifices you've made. They're not helping to finance chamber work."

The president cited improvements in the economic picture during the past year: retail sales and overall sales are up; transfers of real estate are up, land values are holding steady, construction trades

Promotions Announced In Police Department

Chief Herbert Griffin, Morehead City police department, announces promotions in the department, which became effective Sunday.

Lt. Joe Smith has been promoted to captain, Sgt. Bill Condie to lieutenant and patrolman E. D. O'Neal to sergeant.

Lt. Carl Blomberg was offered a promotion to captain, but declined. He will continue to service parking meters. As captain, he would have worked at night.

Other men on the force are patrolmen Gerald Korcey, Buck Newsome and George Smith.

To be filled is a vacancy for patrolman. The promotions resulted when Capt. Carl Bunch joined the county sheriff's department Saturday as deputy.

Engineers Seek Bids From Small Concerns

Wilmington — Col. R. P. Davidson, district engineer, Corps of Engineers has announced that bids are scheduled to be opened in the Wilmington District office Nov. 21 for maintenance dredging in the Atlantic intracoastal waterway between Alligator River, N. C., and Little River, S. C.

The estimated amount of material involved in this shoal removal is 600,000 cubic yards. Bids for this work are solicited from small business concerns only.

The county's Home Demonstration clubwomen will have their annual achievement program Thursday night. The woman of the year will be named, awards will be presented and exhibits shown. The program will be held at the N. F. Eure building of Ann Street Methodist church, Beaufort.

Exhibits of all phases of Home Demonstration work, showing what has been done this year, will be open to the public from 2 to 4 p.m. County projects leaders are asked to be at the Eure building at 10 a.m. to help set up the exhibits.

The program will begin at 7:30 p.m. All 1962-63 club and county council officers will be installed and awards presented.
