Newport Resident Reports Attack by Pack of Dogs

The control of stray dogs was discussed by Newport commission-ers who met Tuesday night at the town hall. Harold Chartley, a town resident, appeared before the bpard. Mr. Chartley said that a few days earlier he had been at-tacked by a pack of dogs and bit-ten twice on the log. He showed ten twice on the leg. He showed ing meets specifications, then that's the simplest way of enforcing the code.

Police commissioner Raymond Edwards said that he had disposed Mr. Hill, before leaving the meetof four dogs recently. He said that the reason there are so many dogs running loose is that he has no facilities for catching the animals. The commissioner told mayor in line.

Swansboro Plans Summer, Sets Festival Date

At a recent meeting of the Swansboro Recreation commission in the community building, the summer recreation program and the 1962 Mullet Festival were planned.

Mrs. Jack Cardy, chairman, headed the discussion outlining the summer recreation program.

Saturday, Oct. 13, has been set for this year's Mullet Festival. Vernon Taylor will again serve as president of the festival associa-tion and Gene Taylor will act as parade marshal. Other committees are in the making. The recone having card tables, games or ing

Commissioner John Throw er, who is supervising construc-tion in behalf of the town, assured the fire chief that if the men showed up Saturday they would be put work. The mayor expressed the town's appreciation for the firemen's offer. Derwood Hill, an electrical con-tractor in Newport, appeared to register a protest of the town's method of enforcing the building code. The method was adopted last month. Under the system, a building must pass both electrical and plumbing inspection before electricity can be turned on. Mr. Hill said this is unfair to the

Mr. Hill cited as an example a building where all electrical work has been completed and has passed inspection. A plumber needs elec-tricity to complete his job and a temporary hook-up doesn't supply his needs. What can you do, Mr. Hill asked, when you can't finish the plumbing without power and you can't get power intil the plumbing is finished and inspected? The mayor told Mr. Hill that
