

Three Liquor Cases Go Before Judge Hamilton

Three cases concerning liquor highlighted the Tuesday session of county court. Court was held in the records room of the clerk of court's office due to the civil session of superior court this week.

In one case, Jim Hargis was charged costs for the possession of non-tax paid whiskey, despite his assertion that it was used only for mixing with camphor and applying as liniment.

Bessie Green and Peter Campbell were also charged with possession of non-tax paid whiskey and possession of tax paid whiskey, beer and wine for the purpose of sale. Bessie Green was found not guilty after the evidence was presented, while Peter Campbell failed to appear. He forfeited bond.

Horace (Honey Bee) Jones, tried for public drunkenness, was given a six months suspended sentence, provided he commit himself to the state hospital for treatment for alcoholism for a period of not less than 60 days. This was Jones' third offense within 12 months.

The costs were vacated in another case against Jones for the same offense, where he had received a 90-day term, suspended upon his payment of the costs in 30 days.

Speeders fined were Donald Eugene Lieseke, $10 and costs; Hugh Styron Jr., Atlantic, $15 and costs; Samuel Daniel Huddleston, $15 and costs. David Allen Bonecutter was fined $25 and costs for reckless driving and not having a driver's license.

Paying costs were Nancy Rose Wells, speeding; George Jones Jr., speeding; Cornelius J. Hoff, no driver's license; Eddie Lee Daniels, speeding; and the prosecuting witness against Henry Bell, who was charged with assault. Judge Luther Hamilton Jr. found the prosecution frivolous and malicious.

Paying one-half of the costs were Willie Moore Harkley, possession of non-tax paid whiskey; Ronald L. Rubin, improper muffler; and Clifton Rose, false pretense. Rose was also ordered to make restitution in the case.

Not prosecuted were the cases of Stevie Arthur Whitford, no operator's license; William Clifton Rose, no driver's license and improper registration; Walter Harman Pierce, improper registration; John Skober, no driver's license; Jimmy Alfonso Mills, improper muffler; Randall Lee Seigler, no driver's license, and William Thomas Stanton, speeding.

Robert Lingen Ward, charged with insufficient brakes, failed to appear and his bond was forfeited. Four previous defendants paid fines within the time limit set by the court. They were Wilbur Taylor, assault, six months on the roads suspended if he remain sober and be of good behavior for one year and pay the costs within one week; Sylvester Newkirk, assault, six months on roads suspended provided he remain of good behavior for three years and pay $25 and costs within 60 days; Sanford Earl Long, driving while license revoked, three months on roads suspended provided he pay $200 and costs within 60 days; and Roger William Lang, reckless driving, pay $100 and costs within 90 days.

The cases of five other defendants were delayed until the next term of court.

group of international doctors, nurses, pharmacists and technologists, treats 2,000 in-patients and 10,000 out-patients yearly.

The primary objective of the foreign fellowships is to provide students an opportunity to gain first-hand clinical experience with the diseases peculiar to varying cultures and peoples, while helping to bring modern American medical procedures to underdeveloped areas of the world.

ASC Office Reminds Farmers of Deadlines

B. J. May, ASC office manager, reminds cotton growers that at least 75 per cent of the cotton allotment on each farm must be planted or one tenth of an acre must be planted and the rest released to avoid a cancellation of allotment. The last date for release of acreage is next Friday, March 23.

Cotton may be released for two years without penalty, but the tenth acre or 75 per cent of the allotment must be planted the third year or the allotment will be lost.

Final date for the leasing of tobacco allotment is April 1, and planters are reminded of the provision that limits the lease to 5 acres. A difference of 10 per cent or more in the average yield of the leasing farm and the lessee farm will result in a reduction in acreage provided the leasing farm has a smaller average yield.

Farmers who plan to use lime for spring permanent pastures or on summer legumes should visit the ASC office well in advance of planting, Mr. May says. Also, farmers planning on tile and open ditch drainage should contact the office before beginning work.

Friday, March 30, is the deadline for sign-up for the 1962 feed grain program in respect to corn and grain sorghum. Participation in the program is voluntary, and provides for the diversion of not less than 20 per cent of the 1958-1960 adjusted average base acreage. Payments, including advance payments, are available through the program along with price supports to cooperators.

Mr. May warns, however, that Tuesday is the last day to establish base acreage in the 1962 feed grain program. This applies to farmers who did not establish this acreage last year.

Therefore, those who are participating in the program for the first time this year must report their 1959-60 production records to Mr. May no later than Tuesday.
