Board of Elections Canvasses Vote, Will Meet Again at Noon Monday

The county board of elections canvassed votes Wednesday noon at the elections office in the courthouse annex, then recessed until noon Monday.

If any candidate calls for a second primary, the request will have to be made by noon Monday, according to Charles Willis, chairman of the county board of elections.

Only 38 votes separated sheriff Robert L. Bell from the combined vote of his two opponents, Ralph Thomas and Edgar Hibbs.

Mr. Thomas said Wednesday that he did not know whether he or anyone else would call for a second primary. But last Monday supporters of his said there would be a second primary.

Mr. Thomas said Tuesday that he hadn't "made up his mind." Qualified to call a second primary, besides Mr. Thomas, are county commissioner candidates, Gaston Smith and Tommie Lewis, according to the county board of elections.

Mr. Smith and Mr. Lewis, now on the county board, ran fifth and sixth respectively.

Candidates who wish to have a run-off must file their request in writing, with the board of elections. All those who voted Saturday are qualified to vote in the second primary. If there is one, it will be on Saturday, June 23. Anyone who has qualified to vote since the registration books closed May 12, will also be eligible to vote, according to the board of elections.

Frank Sample, Morehead City, who notified the board of elections, by letter, that he witnessed changing of a registration of a voter Saturday at the polls, said that the change was protested by Jimmy Howland, a Republican judge.

The change that he claims was made was that of a Democrat who changed his registration to Republican. Such changes were to be made prior to the closing of the registration books May 12.

Official returns on all local offices appear below.

Congressman David Henderson polled 3,273 votes in the county to S. A. Chalk Jr.'s 2,497. Mr. Chalk carried seven precincts, Morehead No. 1 and 2, Broad Creek, Harlowe, Salter Path, Smyrna and Stacy.

Institute Begins Survey On Fisheries Problems

Under the direction of Dr. William Fahy, member of the staff of the Institute of Fisheries Research, Morehead City, a study of sports and commercial fishing is being made.

The study is being financed by a $14,000 appropriation by the 1961 legislature. Doing survey work are Bob Simpson, Morehead City, and Ray Davis, a member of the fisheries institute staff.

The men are making an "inventory" of what kind of fish are available to the sportsmen, how the fish is caught, and how many people are using sportfishing facilities. An inventory is also being taken of commercial fishing facilities.

It is hoped that the survey will come up with some answers to the big argument in fisheries, which is the more valuable, sports or commercial fishing, and who has "the more justifiable right" to the waters, the sports or commercial fisherman?

Mr. Simpson is gathering data from partyboats and Mr. Davis from the fishing piers. Some UNC graduate students will assist in the work this summer.

The institute has also started investigation on another field of long-standing controversy, hoping to get some answers to the question, "Does trash fishing damage fish resources?"

Morehead City Officer Nabs Gunman Wanted for Shooting

A wanted man, already with one shooting to his credit, was apprehended Wednesday afternoon in Morehead City after a hitchhiker, held captive by the fugitive, managed to call a service station manager of his predicament.

James Floyd Sprinkle, 41, Winston-Salem, was apprehended by Morehead City police officer Bill Condie on Arendell street at about 5:45 p.m. Sprinkle had a loaded sawed off shotgun and a box of shells in his possession when captured.

According to officer Condie, Sprinkle shot a former employer, Huntley Spencer, manager of the Winston Steam Laundry, Winston-Salem, after Spencer had fired him. Spencer was shot twice, and is reported in fair condition in a Winston-Salem hospital.

Sprinkle was reportedly fired Monday, and became enraged when Spencer refused to sign an application for unemployment insurance. Sprinkle then retrieved his shotgun from a pawn shop, sawed off the stock and barrels and sought out Spencer at the laundry.

Spencer was shot at about 9 a.m. Wednesday, after which Sprinkle drove to Greensboro and picked up Edgar Phifer Tallent, route 1 Newton, who was hitchhiking to Morehead City to find work.

Tallent told the officer that in talking to Sprinkle about work, Sprinkle told him that he too was going in that direction. After passing Raleigh, Sprinkle pulled off the road and asked Tallent to drive. Tallent told Sprinkle that he did not have a driver's license and did not want to take the wheel. Sprinkle then told Tallent that he had shot a man and had meant to kill him, and that Tallent had better drive or he would kill him also. After being confronted with the shotgun, Tallent drove.

Tallent said that Sprinkle threatened his life a number of times during the ride and said that he would not be taken alive. Tallent also told officer Condie that Sprinkle seemed to think that Tallent was a law officer, and opened the shotgun to show him that it was loaded after Tallent had expressed See GUNMAN Page 2

The Beaufort VFW will sponsor sale of buddy poppies in Beaufort, Morehead City and at Atlantic Beach tomorrow.

Distributing the poppies in Morehead City and at the beach will be Bonnie Ward, LaVonne Huntley, Elizabeth Potter, Patricia Potter and Elaine Hatsell.

Members of Cub Scout pack No. 28 will distribute them in Beaufort. William McKay, commander of the VFW post, said proceeds will be used to aid needy and disabled veterans and their dependents, widows or orphans, to maintain the VFW national home and other charitable work.

"In each VFW community," commander McKay said, "more than one-half of the total buddy poppy receipts are used for local veteran welfare work. We are primarily an organization dedicated to serving our disabled and needy comrades, no matter in what war they may have fought or whether or not they be VFW members.

S. A. Chalk Jr., candidate for Congress who was defeated by David N. Henderson in Saturday's primary, commented Tuesday, "It is going to require a tremendous effort to reverse the socialistic trend.

"I am sure some good will come from the efforts of all of us concerned with better government and we will see an improvement . . .

"The county did not get in its present condition in a few years, and I hope in the next election someone will run on the same principles we have supported who will be able to make a better showing than mine.

"It is my intention to vote for and support my opponent in November and during his term of office, with the hope that his voting record will improve for the benefit of all of us."

Mr. Chalk expressed his appreciation to all who supported him.
