Number of Marlin Exceeds 30 in Fabulous Tournament

Submarine Makes Return Visit

Cdr. Jay Ky Beam, USN, commanding officer of the USS Harder, is bringing his TANG class submarine into port this weekend in conjunction with the Marlin Festival and celebration in Beaufort. Mayor George Dill, Morehead City, right, and W. H. Potter, former mayor of Beaufort, left, greeted commander Beam last August when the Harder was in port. So many people swarmed to see the sub then that many had to be turned away. Also in port this weekend will be the LST Graham County. Both vessels will be open to the public from 8:30 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Visitors Banned From H. Hill Hospital Room

Howard Hill, Beaufort police officer who was seriously injured early Sunday morning on the Beaufort-Morehead City causeway, is still in Morehead City hospital and is not permitted to have visitors.

Hill was injured when a 7½-ton truck, reportedly driven by John G. Simpson, Beaufort, struck him. Simpson is charged with assault with attempt to kill. The report in Tuesday's paper, that the truck Simpson was driving was a pickup, was in error.

The truck belonged to Beaufort Fisheries and was taken by Simpson after he was unable to get his father's car operating, according to the sheriff's department.

Simpson is employed at Beaufort Fisheries. He was released from the county jail under a thousand dollars' bond Monday morning.

Exactly what happened in Sunday morning's incident, causing the officer's injury, probably can't be determined until Mr. Hill can be questioned. His right leg is broken close to the hip.

Hill pursued the truck from Beaufort after it had gone through a stop light in Beaufort. A motorist saw the Beaufort police car parked at an angle across the left front of the truck on the causeway shortly after 4 a.m. Sunday.

It is presumed that Simpson, who was driving, then backed up to get around the police car. He reportedly tried more than once to run Hill down and in one attack struck a boat in front of Sonny Lane's marina. The boat traveled in a semi-circle and ended up smashing into a window and the door of Lane's.

After Hill was knocked down, he got Simpson to call for help on his radio. Simpson did so and other officers rushed to the scene.

Deputy Sheriff Carl Bunch said that at the time of the incident, Simpson's father was looking for him, "because he knew he was drunk."

Simpson is charged with driving while drunk, running a red light, resisting arrest, and maliciously damaging property owned by the town of Beaufort (police car), Beaufort Fisheries, and Lane's.

Someone Borrows Car, Returns It to Owner

Erwin Adkisson of the Country club section reported to the sheriff's department yesterday that someone borrowed his 1962 Chevy II for joy-riding Wednesday night and then returned it.

Mr. Adkisson told deputy Carl Bunch that his car was at his house at 11:15 p.m. when he went out to get in it at 6 a.m. yesterday morning, he discovered it had been driven.

Migrant Ministry Work Begins; Child Day Care Center Opens

The child day care center, a new phase of the county's migrant ministry program, opened Monday at Queen Street school, Beaufort. Twenty-three children ranging in age from 2 to 8 were present.

Purpose of the center is to care for young children of the laborers who are brought here to harvest crops.

The Rev. J. P. Mansfield, chairman of the migrant ministry program, estimates that 500 men, women and children are here now. More are expected this week.

The migrant program, sponsored by the County Ministerial association, ministers to an estimated 18 camps, some located in Onslow county.

Children are transported to the day care center in a station wagon provided for the program by church women through the North Carolina Council of Churches. Mr. Mansfield said that the station wagon isn't big enough to handle all the children and volunteers are needed to help carry them to the center from the camps.

Anyone who could help is asked to contact Mr. Mansfield, the Rev. Charles Kirby, or Mrs. Randolph Johnson.

In charge of the center are Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Annie Parker, Beaufort. Their services are paid for with child welfare funds.

The day care center will operate for five more weeks.

Mr. Mansfield happily reported this week that the migrant program has received a $7,600 federal grant to carry on its medical program. In the past two years, the program has operated on a shoestring, but this year a new trailer had been bought.

After the purchase, word came through that the federal grant can be spent. It cannot be used for paying hospital bills, for example. Therefore, obtaining of the grant does not mean that the migrant ministry program, financially, is in clover.

"We desperately need funds for other phases of the program," he said. Checks should be mailed to the Rev. Corbin Cooper, Morehead City. The medical trailer visits migrant labor camps to treat the workers and their families who otherwise would not be able to get to a doctor or buy medical care. County doctors accompany the trailer. On Monday night, Dr. S. W. Thompson is with the trailer; Tuesday, Dr. L. J. Norris, Wednesday, Dr. Herbert Webb, and Thursday, Dr. M. T. Lewis.

By BOB SIMPSON

Father Neptune smiled on the Morehead City Marlin tournament this week. By 8 a.m. yesterday, 30 marlin had been boated, the largest number in any tournament to date.

By press time, Bob Kennedy, Raleigh, was credited with catching the largest number, three, from the outboard boat, Sea Hag, owned by Dr. Leroy Allen, Raleigh. Dr. Allen was the skipper.

Although the largest caught was 407 pounds by Milton Adler, Adler disqualified himself because he is listed as skipper of the boat, The Dirty Shame III, from which the big fellow was caught.

That puts William Griffith, Trenton, N. J., on the top, as of early yesterday, with a 325-pounder he landed Tuesday.

The tournament officially started Tuesday rather than Monday as planned. The weekend's tropical-like storm threw the monkey wrench in things. After a report from the Wilmington weather bureau Sunday night, captains voted to cancel Monday as a contest day. This means the tournament will run through Saturday.

They regretted it on Monday though. Six marlin were caught, one by Kennedy, two by the Dolphin with the J. C. Ellis party from Shelby, one from the Dolphin I by Dr. J. W. Hipple, Trenton, N. J., (See TOURNAMENT, Pg. 3)

Education Board Accepts Offer Of 15-Acre Site

- Developer Gives Land on Highway 24
- Site Would be Used For White Oak School

The county board of education accepted Monday an offer of 15 acres of land for the proposed White Oak elementary school from W. B. McLean, developer of Cape Carteret, Bayshore Park and Emerald Isle.

The land is located on highway 24 and on one side bounds the old White Oak school site, according to H. L. Joslyn, clerk to the board. Mr. McLean requested that if a school is not built on the property in five years it be returned to him.

He also gave an option for an additional five acres in five years, if more land is needed.

Floyd Chadwick Jr. and T. C. Hyman Jr., Morehead City, appeared to request permission to use the former Wheaton property, which had been purchased by the county for a Morehead City school site. After Newport and Morehead City agreed to consolidate, the site was not needed.

Mr. Chadwick and Mr. Hyman said the property would be used for Little league baseball activities. The program has grown so that present playing fields are too few.

The board said the property could be used until it is needed for school purposes.

The board requested that the Newport and Morehead City school committees each select one member to work with S. H. Helton, incoming school superintendent, on the West Carteret school.

The Atlantic school committee, headed by Clayton Fulcher Jr., appeared before the board to discuss consolidation with the Beaufort-Smyrna school. No conclusions were reached, but the board of education favors the consolidation, should Atlantic wish to make the move.

Three applications for assigning pupils in the Wildwood section to Morehead City school from Newport school were approved.

Gordon Becton, chairman of the Beaufort school committee, and Roland Salter, chairman of the Smyrna school committee, appeared to explain the desire for a road from highway 70 to highway 101 through the East Carteret school property.

The men were authorized to consult with the board's attorney, Luther Hamilton, relative to obtaining the right-of-way.

Hugh C. Willis, who gave his residence as Davis, requested that the board hear grievances from a group of Smyrna citizens. The board said they would hear the delegation at 11:30 a.m. Monday, July 1.

The board fixed the pay date for teachers for the next school year as the 20th of each month, with the exception of the first and last months.

Attending the meeting were Dr. A. F. Chestnut, chairman; John Bell, Grayden Paul, Joseph C. Davis Jr., James Hux, Dr. Herbert Webb, W. B. Allen, board members; Mr. Helton and Mr. Joslyn.

Man with Whale Of Problem Seeks Gov't Aid

George Spell, Red Springs, property owner at Emerald Isle, appeared before county commissioners Monday morning to request $400.

Mr. Spell said that's how much he spent to get rid of a smell. The smell was a dead whale on the beach about a mile from his business place.

He explained that he had to bring old tires here from miles away, burn as much of the whale as he could, then push the bones and other refuse under the dunes.

Mr. Spell said the whale lay on the beach for three weeks and was getting so malodorous that he was afraid people would be driven away from Emerald Isle.

Appeals to the county health department and the Coast Guard help got him nowhere, he said.

The commissioners were sympathetic but felt they could not legitimately reimburse Mr. Spell for his whale work.

Mayor John Costlow and John Jones Jr., town clerk, appeared to request the county's help on a drainage problem by the railroad tracks east of Mulberry on Live Oak street. J. L. Humphrey, county road superintendent, suggested that the town remove tile it put down, which was too small, he said, and see if that will alleviate the problem.

Drainage problems at Davis were discussed. A complaint was relayed to the board from Howard Mason, Core Creek, who is having drainage trouble. Mr. Humphrey said that the state corrected the problem once, then Mason changed his driveway and the trouble started again.

Beauties, Buccaneers, Battles To Highlight Big Day Tomorrow

By T. V. WOOLARD

Tomorrow, the town of Beaufort will be the place to be for fun, entertainment, and excitement. At 2 p.m., the magnificent parade of beauties will begin at Front and Orange streets. Proceeding through the business district, the parade will turn from Front street on to Pollock street.

The beauties, and there will be many of them, will disembark in front of the reviewing stand beside the museum ship, Alphonso.

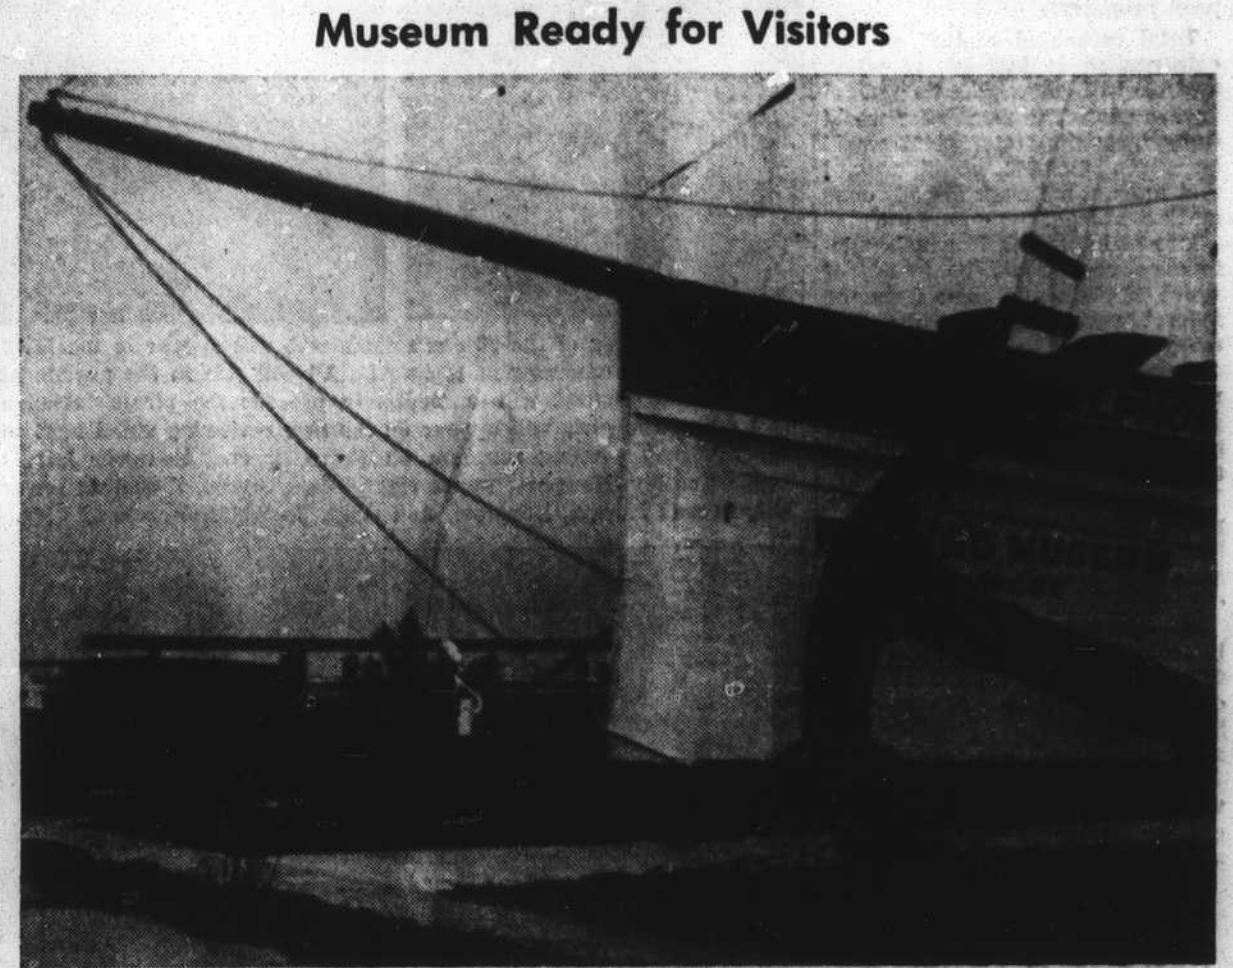

Immediately after the parade, the Miss Pirate of 1963 Beauty contest will begin. This will be an open air, free-to-the-public, bathing suit beauty contest, with some of the prettiest girls of eastern Carolina competing for the crown on beauty, poise and carriage alone.

For the connoisseur of beauty, this will be an innovation, going back to the beauty of the person, instead of what and how much talent she has acquired.

The judges for the beauty contest will be Graham Johnson, commander of the North Carolina Association of Rescue Squads, Elkin; Dr. R. T. Hood, noted specialist in the field of allergies, Kinston; Charles Cravep, sage of the Raleigh News and Observer, Raleigh, and Mrs. Elizabeth McDonnell.

Museum Ready for Visitors

This is the bow of the whaling museum, Alphonso, located on the Beaufort waterfront. Pirates will rush ashore at this point at 4 p.m. tomorrow. In the foreground is an old anchor. At left center is a whale try pot, a pair of millstones and other relics. The museum is open from 9 to 6 a.m. daily and 2 to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Congressman Will Present Marlin Festival Awards at Hotel Saturday

Dog 'Reports' Place Afire

A dog saved his master from probable death Wednesday night in Morehead City when he wakened John Scott in a smoke-filled room. Scott, 70½ Fisher St. had gone to sleep after ironing some clothes. He had pulled the plug from the iron but apparently sparks from a frayed cord leaped up and caught ironed clothing on a wood chair afire.

Scott went to bed, not realizing the clothing was smoldering. He was wakened only when his dog leaped on him in bed. The dog was agitated because he apparently was having trouble breathing!

Firemen were called and had to wear smoke masks to go into the apartment. Both Mr. Scott and the dog escaped. Mrs. Scott is in the hospital at Cherry Point. Her husband is in the Marine Corps.

The firemen got the call at 10:40 p.m. Damage to the apartment, owned by Mrs. Ed Jones, was estimated at $100.

Congressman David N. Henderson will present awards to winners in the Marlin Festival tomorrow night at 7:30 at the Biltmore hotel. The occasion will be the Fabulous Fishing club's banquet and ball.

Winners in Saturday's Marlin parade were first place, Fabulous Fisherettes, for a decorated boat pulling a hooked marlin; second, Piggly Wiggly, hospitality float; and third, Micro Machine Shop, miniature garden scene.

Special recognition was given George Hall, who appeared as Boo-Boo, the clown.

The Fisherettes will receive a check for $15, Piggly Wiggly will receive $10 and Micro Machine Co. will receive $5. Winners of the marlin tournament will also receive trophies and cash.

Charles Walton, parade chairman, expresses his thanks to everyone who contributed to making the parade a success.

Firemen Called
Morehead City firemen were called at 2:35 p.m. Monday to 1702 Bridges St., where a washing machine had caught fire. They stayed a few moments and then returned to the station. The machine is believed to have had motor trouble.

Three Men Plead Guilty In City Court

Three Morehead City men pleaded guilty in city's recorder's court Monday to charges of passing worthless checks totaling $65 at the Colonial store, Morehead City.

Presiding judge Herbert O. Phillips III ordered that the men honor the checks and pay court costs. The three were Andrew Guthrie, a $35 check; Edward Kemp Guthrie, a $10 check; and John Cox, a $20 check.

Other cases tried in city recorder's court:

Pearly Spell, Beaufort, case dating back to Oct. 31, 1960, was dismissed, since all fines and costs have been paid.

John Robert Stocks, Morehead City, failure to wear corrective glasses while driving and turning from a direct line of traffic without regard for safety, $25 fine and costs.

David Robert Wingate, Morehead City, "scratching off" in a car, one-half of the court costs.

Billy Pittman, Morehead City, "scratching off" and careless and reckless driving. Judgment for the first charge was one-half the court costs, and $15 fine and costs for the second charge. An additional charge of having no driver's license was not prosecuted after the license was presented in court.

Willie Moore Hartley, Morehead City, simple assault on Eddie Martin Jr. by striking him with his fists; case was dismissed when evidence showed the assault was provoked.

John Bartholmew Styron, Morehead City, failure to yield right of way, court costs.

James Murrell Register, Newport, speeding 55 in a 35 zone, $15 fine and court costs.

Bill Introduced
Introduced in the legislature this week was a bill by county Rep. Thomas S. Bennett, removing Beaufort from the law which makes taxes prior to 1953 uncollectible after July 1, 1963. The new bill permits Beaufort to collect all personal and real taxes back as far as 1927, according to John Jones Jr., town clerk.

This float, entered by the Fabulous Fisherettes and depicting deep sea fishing, won first prize in Saturday's Marlin Festival parade. Riding in the boat, facing the camera, were Miss Lillian Frances Giddens, Mrs. Corky Turnage and Corky Turnage. The lady in the sailor hat is not identified. The sailfish, tagging behind the boat, was guided via a rod and reel held by Mrs. Duffy Guthrie.
