24 Great Smoky Peaks 6,000 Or More Feet High.

These 24 peaks that one can see 6,000 or more feet high in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park. Twenty-eight peaks and six gaps are more than a mile high, and 20 peaks and 11 gaps are more than 5,000 feet in elevation.

These figures explain why the Great Smoky Mountains are the greatest and most massive uplift in the East. Some of the outstanding peaks in the Great Smokies follow:

Mt. Amble, 6,100 feet; Big Cataloochee Mountain, 6,122; Balsam, 6,213; Mt. Buckey, 6,582; Mt. Chapman, 6,310; Chimney's Dome, 6,612; Mt. Collins, 6,188; Mt. Gayot, 6,621; Mt. Hardison, 6,148; Jump Off, 6,100; Mt. Keplart, 6,200; Mt. Leconte, 6,593; Mt. Love, 6,400; Mt. Mangus, 6,593; Mt. Sycamore, 6,000; Teahouse Knob, 6,100; Mt. Yonagosa, 6,183.

Anastasia Knob, 5,900; Andrews Bald, 5,860; Clingens Bunion, 5,400; Needle Rocks, 5,500; Inada Knob, 5,941; Soco Bald, 5,162; Mt. Sterling, 5,837; Thunderhead, 5,430. Mt. Mitchell, highest peak east of the Mississippi river, is in the Black Mountain range. It is 6,684 feet above sea level. Mt. Pisgah is 5,749 feet.

A Keen Observer's View of Roosevelt

Arthur Brisbane gave what is, in our observation, the most complete, just, true photograph of Roosevelt ever fashioned and presented in words. Mr. Brisbane had talked with the President and wrote:

"Each time you see Roosevelt you are more deeply grateful that in the times, under these conditions, there should be in the White House a man absolutely honest intellectually, as well as less important ways, and fearless, with no false front for the crowd that cloaked him, no back door entrance for the select few that usually think they own a president."

"There we have, in one paragraph, a clear, clean, correct picture of a great President, caught by the camera of a keen commentator."

A litter of ten Spotted Poland China pigs weighing 2,515 pounds was sold for $230 and netted T. J. Wilson, of Transylvania County, the sum of $100 above feed costs.

Strawberry "patches" on Rowan farms have brought in a good income to the owners this spring in addition to supplying farm tables with the tasty dish.

The farmer who grows lespedeza is entering the college of soil improvement and when he gets to alfalfa, he is a member of the senior class, says one observing agricultural worker.

Methodist Church Notes

(Contributed.)

The Sunday school attendance was 147 last Sunday, the highest number present on record at the Higgins Memorial Church.

Under the leadership of Mr. Fred Brammitt, the assistant teacher, the Mens' Bible Class has undertaken remodeling of their basement classroom. They have plastered the walls and have the ceiling painted and the floor polished.

Members of the class, under the supervision of Mr. W. W. Sorrells, have been doing the work.

The Bible Classes of the men and women tied last Sunday in the contest which has been going on for some time. The score is based on the number present in each class.

There were 37 present in both classes Sunday. The total score shows the ladies are still a little in the lead.

Birthday offerings were made last Sunday by Miss Gene Dennis and little Miss Mary Lou Sorrells.

The subject of the Epworth League program night Sunday is "Friendship." Miss Olive Briggs will preside over the program. Miss Dora Young and Miss Gene Dennis will make talks on "Friendships," and Miss Johnnie Marie Anglin will give a reading entitled "Americanization." A special song entitled "Friends," will be rendered by Miss Louise Blake and Miss Olive Briggs.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lee Ray, of Asheville, were afternoon callers at the home of Zora Hensley, Sunday.

Mrs. Nancy Allison, of Burnsville, visited Mr. and Mrs. Ben Banks through the week end.

Mr. Glen Gardner, who is in the CCC Camps at Burnsville, spent Saturday night at home.

Mr. Daniel Boone visited his family here Sunday.

Mr. Andy Banks, of Burnsville, spent Saturday night here with his daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Banks.

NEGROES ON JURIES

If I missed not, this line of negroes serving on juries started down in Alabama in the trial of the famous Scottsboro case where several negro boys have been tried and retried for criminal assault on a couple of white girls—hooboes. Demand was made that negroes should be included on juries hearing the case, and the Supreme court upheld that the colored man should not be excluded from jury duty.

Here, the time has arrived, while negroes do not have opportunity to vote, he is not barred from the jury box.

But that does not mean that the brother in black is soon going to sit with white men on juries. Many objections will be made, and sustained, to keep him out. In fact, few white men would be willing to serve for jury duty with black men.

Then, too, the time is coming when women will serve on juries the same as men here in North Carolina. The ladies have the right to vote and also have the right to serve on juries. But a holy row is in prospect when the women folks serve on juries with negroes. In murder trials often juries are kept together days on end. We have a real social problem confronting us that will be difficult to solve satisfactorily.

But when negroes are not "drawn" for jury duty, cases tried may be thrown out of court or new trials granted.—Eugene Ascherat in Monroe Enquirer.

Large Deposits of Cyanite Are Found In W. N. Carolina

Western North Carolina has an abundance of cyanite, the large deposits being of the massive cyanite. Crystallized cyanite also is found and has been mined commercially. The finest specimen of crystallized cyanite ever found is now in the Orlin collection in Biltmore Forest. It was mined in Buncombe county.

Especially notable are the massive cyanite deposits near Burnsville, in Yancey county. High up on Bolen's Pyramid, on the slope of Mt. Celc, near Burnsville, the Celc Mines, Inc., has been conducting during the past few years, a significant experiment in cyanite ore concentration. A semi-commercial mill, built on the mountain in 1931, has obtained gratifying results in developing a method of concentrating cyanite ore.

The experiments show there will be many uses for cyanite in the refractory and white ware industries. In the white ware trade, cyanite and products derived from it are useful in the manufacture of spark plugs, electrical porcelain, radiance gas heaters, and variety of other objects.—Asheville Citizen.

PENACOLA.

Miss Ethel Boone has gone to Boone, N. C., where she will attend summer school.

Miss Velma McCurry, of Burnsville, was the guest of Miss Opal Riddle this week.

Benjamin Wilson and Vernon Ray spent the week end at Swannanoa, Virginia, and Ned Wilson are recovering from a tonsil operation they underwent at an Asheville hospital.

A number of folks who reside at Lenoir, spent the week end here visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Robertson.

Miss Opal Riddle left Wednesday to attend summer school at the Asheville Normal.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Banks and Mr. and Mrs. Merritt McPeters of Fayetteville, were here to see Rev. D. J. Jamerson Sunday.

Mrs. Glenn Peak and children, of Swannanoa, are visiting Mrs. Peak's father, Robert Atkins at this place.

Spar Mines, Leased By Southern Feldspar Co.

The Southern Feldspar Company at Toxoco, has leased the Stagge-wood Feldspar mines at Hawk, from the Aaron Buchanan heirs. A good road has already been built to the mines. Electric machinery will be used in operating the mines. All equipment is said to be practically new. Operations are to begin soon, and a number of men will be employed. The ore will be trucked to the company mill at Toxoco, about seven miles.

The mine is one of the largest in the county and the ore is said to be of superior quality. Mr. J. D. Dennis has charge of the company's interests here.—Mitchell County Banner.

Waynick Ordered to Secure More Parkway Rights

Raleigh, June 10.—Capus M. Waynick, chairman of the state highway public works' commission, said today he had orders from the federal bureau of roads, to proceed with securing rights-of-way for that portion of national scenic parkway from Sparta to Mulberry Gap in Alleghany and Wilkes counties.

Rights-of-way have already been secured on the portion of the route from the Virginia line to Sparta, and tomorrow the federal roads bureau is due to open bids for construction on the link of a letting to be conducted at Roanoke, Va.

Waynick said the mountain parkway will probably receive state highway and public works commission Wednesday, but that he would proceed at once with securing additional rights-of-way.

The new theory is that intellectual power is in proportion to the size of the chest. That ought to make brain trusts out of Huey Long and Mae West.

The appointment of a postmaster at Bakersville is expected to be made within the next few days. The three eligibles for the post are: J. Frank Greene, J. E. Butt and Mrs. Fred Lambert.

BOLENS CREEK.

The farmers are very busy here this week.

Mr. Leu Ray from Johnson City, is visiting relatives here and at Penacola this week.

Misses Lucille and Willowrea Ray are visiting their sisters at Asheville and Black Mountain this week.

Quite a number of folks from this community visited the Mt. Mitchell Game Refuge last Sunday. The following persons made the trip: Mr. Bascom Hensley, Miss Nellie Miller, Mrs. Carl Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Ray, Mrs. Jerome Ray, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Silver, Misses Lucille and Willowrea Ray and Master Bennie Ray. The park is a lovely place, and those who have never been there are missing one of the great attractions of the mountains of Western North Carolina.

Mrs. Thelma King and two children Roy and Fay, of Jacks Creek, spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. Tom Hilemon.

Mrs. Sallie Robinson, who has been sick, is improving.

Mr. Ray Gibbs went to the Banner Elk hospital Sunday to see his wife, who has been sick for some time. She is said to be slowly improving.

Little Janette Robertson, of South Carolina, is spending a few days with her grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harris.

DANGEROUS

Two children were roller skating in a resident street. A motorist came driving along.

He saw one of the youngsters and swerved to avoid an accident; but he did not see the second child, who skated into the auto's path and was killed.

Common as grass, that tragic little story—and filled, likewise, with warning for all people who drive automobiles.

The warning is self-evident; when driving along a residential street, it is up to the motorist to use infinitely more care than he needs to use on an open road or even on a down-town street.

For children will play in the streets. They will dart out suddenly from behind parked cars or clumps of shrubbery. They will run right in front of approaching cars.

It's up to the motorist to govern himself accordingly.—Greenville Piedmont.
