BALD CREEK NEWS

The trickling waters of Bald Creek continued their usual and natural course during the recent severe cold wave and snow fall which visited this section, bringing with it zero weather for Saturday night and Sunday morning of January 10 and 11. Some places of the creek were frozen and provided skating for school boys and girls.

Wes Edwards, our genial acting postmaster since the retirement of Miss Emily Whittington, has settled down to the usual quietness of receiving and dispatching the community mail after a very busy Christmas and New Year rush of mail. Postmaster Edwards has been notified by the postoffice department at Washington that he is to sell the Federal Tax Stickers for automobiles, which go on sale January 27 throughout the United States. The amount of the Federal Tax is $2.09.

Mrs. W. H. Peterson, president of the Parent-Teacher association of the Bald Creek School, called off the January meeting of the association on account of the severe cold weather. No meeting will be held this month, but the regular February meeting is scheduled for the second Wednesday night.

The January meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian service of Bald Creek Methodist church was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Earl W. Wilson recently. Because of the extreme cold weather the attendance at the meeting was only about fifty percent of the membership. An interesting program was rendered, after which Mrs. Wilson was assisted in serving delicious refreshments by her daughter, Miss Beryl Wilson.

Miss Irene Edwards recently returned to Asheville where she is a third year student at the Asheville Teachers' Normal school after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Edwards.
