sugar. They must register at the same local Board which they registered for sugar, and can only show the same establishments shown at that time. Special form for this purpose will be sent to Boards. Wholesalers and retailers do not register at this time. Further information as to how they will receive coffee inventories will be announced later. Sugar Certificate Form R-306 will be issued institutional users for the present. These will be changed to read "coffee" where the word "sugar" appears. Consumers who have not been issued a ration book because of excess sugar on hand may be issued a book in this way. Tear out all stamps to and including stamp No. 16. (The first 16 stamps in ration books will be used for sugar only.) Stamp No. 17 to and including No. 28, will be used for coffee or other rationing. Remember: Stamp No. 27 is the first to be used for coffee. It is good from November 29 through January 3, 1943. Stamp No. 28 will be next in order. Stamp No. 25 will be the third, and Stamp No. 26 will be the fourth.

BURNSVILLE— "So They Say"

About town: Congratulations to the schools winning county prizes in the scrap contest! Locust Creek was first with 288 pounds per student. Harvard second with 237 and Busick third with 210.5. Grand work on the part of students and teachers and we think they deserve much credit for this fine expression of patriotism. Congratulations, too, to Jennie Proffitt who is first in county to be accepted by the WAAC's for training. . . . and we hear that 1st Lieut. Lucille Chase is now head of hospital in Texas. . . . New arrivals: the Garret Anglins down in Forest City have a son— and the Dean Dobsons who are still in India also have son. . . . Picture in paper today: Ernest Banner who is on the Brevard College foot ball team. . . . Aiden Honeycutt has been transferred from Sanford to Raleigh, we hear. . . . Kenneth Robertson here for short leave and to try his luck at deer hunting (note: no luck). . . . Proud man in town last Thursday, Troy Ray who killed a fine buck—then Molt Hensley and son-in-law Hevner both got deer in Mt. Mitchell Game Refuge hunt! . . . Next week is "Women at War" Week and the committees are planning now for very successful observance. Sale of war bonds and stamps will be stressed and the girls of the Victory club will make and sell Victory stamp courses. . . You may be all dressed very patriotically. . . also, those old silk and nylon hose that you've guarded anxiously and worn to the last run. The war industry can use them (see page 2) so bring them to designated places.

MUST REGISTER TRUCKS AND BUSES

The urgency of immediate action by owners of all rubber-tired vehicles except private passenger cars who have not yet applied for Certificates of War Necessity was emphasized by Robert G. Carter, District Manager of the Office of Defense Transportation's motor transport division, who announced that the local office will handle all last-minute applications. "Every truck, bus, taxi, ambulance, pick-up truck and other commercial vehicle in the nation must have a Certificate of War Necessity by Nov. 15. Without one, no repair parts, tires or gasoline can be obtained for it," he declared. "Farm trucks, too, are affected by the order, ODT No. 21, which requires the certificates. The aims of the order are to prolong the life of the nation's rubber-borne transportation." Application forms are available at the district office, he continued, urging owners to obtain them here, fill them out and receive their certificates from this office. "Those who already have application forms should fill them out and send them to this district office, instead of mailing them to Detroit, as was done previously," he said. "A lag in the schedule of issuing the certificates from Detroit resulted when some owners of commercial equipment received the wrong type of application form, and some others received none at all. "Forms differ for single-unit operators and fleet operators," he explained. "Owners having one or two vehicles must apply for their certificates separately for each unit. Those who have their applications on a single form for all. In a few cases an owner who has two kinds of vehicles, such as trucks and buses, must use both forms. Tank truck owners must fill out different forms, too." Mr. Carter commended truck owners who have already completed their application forms and sent them to Detroit. "These should be the first to receive their certificates," he declared. "There may be a slight delay, however, so all those who were late sending in their applications should send them to this office."

BANGS The following North Carolina counties have been reaccredited as free from Bangs disease: Bladen, Cabarrus, Clay, Durham, Forsyth, Macon, Rowan, and Wayne. HIGHER Fruit growers, in general, will receive higher prices for their crops in 1943 than they received this year, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. TOBACCO Henry Tilley of Bullock, a Granville County 4-H Club boy, produced 1240 pounds of tobacco on one acre of land, selling his crop for $580.40, reports Assistant Farm Agent W. B. Jones.

ACHIEVEMENT During the past week, the Nation's 1,500,000 4-H Club members checked on their contributions to the war effort and made plans for even greater service in 1943.
