the poppies of France and Belgium 25 years ago. The money contributed for the flowers will be used for the welfare of victims and the families of both wars.
"Men are again being called upon to give their lives for America, as did our comrades in 1917 and 1918. Our own boys and our neighbors boys are among them."
"To show that we honor and remember the dead of both wars we have our poppies—you can't pay memorial poppy. By wearing this little flower on will aid disabled veterans Poppy Day we express our feelings we cannot put in words. We signify that we are carrying on in their spirit for the final triumph of the cause for which they laid down their lives."
"Poppies, made by disabled war veterans will be sold on the streets Saturday, May 29, by women of the American Legion Auxiliary."

Schools Open Drive To Buy 10,000 Jeeps

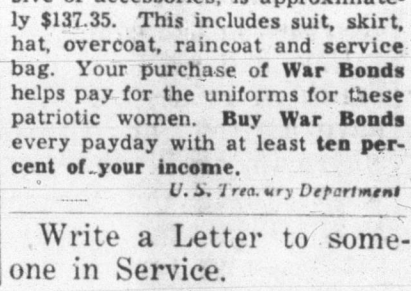

THE little jeep which is serving so nobly from Guadalcanal to Africa has become the symbol of the gigantic efforts of millions of American school children in their War Savings program.
Thousands of public, private and parochial schools soon will be displaying a certificate of honor from the Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., signifying that they have paid for at least one jeep by buying $900 in War Stamps and Bonds.
Countless others will be flying the Schools At War banner awarded to schools with 90 percent pupil participation in War Savings.
Ten thousand jeeps and a hundred bombers! This is the new goal of America's schools as 30,000,000 children continue their Schools At War program under the auspices of the Treasury Department and the U. S. Office of Education.
Results so far in the program reported by Dr. Homer W. Anderson, Associate Field Director in charge

CELEBRATES BIRTH-DAY SUNDAY

The second birthday of Barbara Ella Whittington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Whittington, Jr., was celebrated last Sunday with a family dinner. Her Dad shared honors, as his birthday was the following day.
Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Whittington, Sr., and family, Mr. and Mrs. Worley Blalock and family, and Miss Genevieve Blalock who recently returned from Florida, were guests.

The Women's Auxiliary Volunteer Emergency Service, more familiarly known as the WAVES, has been established as a part of our Navy. They are doing a great work and relieving many men from office to active service.

of the education section of the War Savings Staff, are:
More than 7,000,000 elementary and high school students from 30,000 schools have prepared special Schools At War scrapbooks for state and local exhibits.
War Stamp and War Bond purchases may reach a grand total of $300,000,000 for the school year.

More about — NAVY

and his hours will be from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m.
All quotas have been lifted for Navy enlistments and an unlimited number of 17-year-olds, WAVES, and Seabees may be enlisted immediately. Also, men between the ages of 38 and 50 may qualify for enlistment with any rating for which they are eligible.
Navy trade schools have been opened wide to the 17-year-old youngsters, in order that a large group of young potential petty officers will be available soon. Never before in the history of the Navy have opportunities for the younger men been so great, and a nationwide drive has been inaugurated to obtain thousands of youngsters for the training schools.
There are 55 different Navy trades from which the youngsters may choose, and they range from medical training to carpentry. An effort is being made to place the youngsters in the fields they prefer, on the theory that they will do better work in the type of trade they like best.
Hundreds of Tar Heel women already have been enlisted in the WAVES, and are now undergoing training at some college or university. A few weeks hence, they will be graduated, and will be eligible for petty officer ratings—ready for duty at some shore station within the continental limits of the United States.
Men who are registered with Selective Service now are eligible for enlistment in the Navy construction battalions, popularly known as the "Seabees." Recruiter K. E. Handy will have complete information on the correct procedure for entering that branch.
The 17-year-old men are advised not to wait until too near their 18th birthday to apply for the Navy, for once they have become 18, they must register for Selective Service, and therefore enter the service through their draft board.
