What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Booby Trap Detector

In the snow, in the sand, on the beaches, on the roads, in the woods, everywhere the Axis soldiers hide "booby traps," to slow the movement of oncoming fighting men of the United Nations. The detector does the same work on land as the mine sweeper does at sea.

Like buying War Bonds, the soldier operating the detectors will never know just how much they have aided in the success of their campaign, but he knows his work is necessary and must be accomplished. If more Americans on the home front will come to realize this, the success of our War Bond campaigns will be assured. U. S. Treasury Department

NO IDLE ACRES WANTED THIS WINTER

No idle acres on North Carolina farms this winter is the goal of Agronomy specialists at State College who are concerned over the present shortage of feed. Land which is not planted to small grain should be seeded to winter legumes such as Austrian winter peas, crimson clover or vetch.

Winter legumes serve a number of purposes, the agronomists say. They decrease leaching and the loss of soluble fertilizer nutrients; they prevent erosion; assimilate nitrogen from the air; and, store it in the roots of the plant for use by the following crop. They also help to maintain the supply of organic matter in the soil when turned under and add some nitrogen to the soil.

Crimson clover is a good grazing crop, and where feed shortages exist, this crop will supplement the existing supply. Common vetch may be used for grazing on sandy soils, but hairy vetch is unpalatable to cows. Livestock usually must cultivate a taste for Austrian peas.

Crimson clover is satisfactory for hay if harvested before the seed heads form. Austrian peas are also satisfactory for hay, but are not used so extensively. Vetch is suitable for hay when seeded with oats or the other small grains.

Most failures with winter legumes have been due to selecting a crop not adapted to the soil or climate, inadequate liming and fertilization, late seeding, and poor planting.

Those who are interested in learning more about these winter legumes should write to the Agricultural Editor at State College for a free copy of War Series Bulletin No. 24, "Austrian Winter Peas, Crimson Clover and Vetch."

FEED MEAL

The CCC has recently negotiated the purchase of 40,000 tons of cotton-seed meal for importation from Brazil. Some of this meal has already arrived in this country.

Save and store every ounce of feed possible this year in the form of hay, silage, root crops, grain, and meals, suggest livestock specialists at State College, who believe the feed situation will get worse before it gets better.

BONDS FOR VICTORY

BURNSVILLE - "So They Say"

Sound of the week: An occasional shot from the squirrel hunters... the date for season opening was changed back to September 15... Lack of shells will cut down on the hunting but our ammunition is going for bigger game!... Regret very greatly to have Bill and Hilda Wray leave us for war work in Florida. The town won't seem the same without 'em!... But a few folks return all the while—Peg Jones and two daughters back again. Dr. J. in New Mexico... Zula Bailey very happy to be home again... New F. S. A. home supervisor, Mrs. Ruth D. Patton, and new partner for Safford company, Edwin O. Fitch of Asheville... Margaret Rice will be greatly missed in Bank. She's with Cyanite Co. now... Letter from Mary Covey. Writes she's married to Lawrence Sparks of Johnson City and lives in J. C., and that Will is working in Brooklyn... New arrivals: The Hershel Holcombe's new daughter, Myra, and the Ernest Wilson's at Micaville have new daughter... Good to see so many "uniforms" in town this week—among them Bill Anglin, Josef Wilson, Ernest Banner and Harold Butner. James Ray expected this week end... Ashby & Edaline Johnson Manson home for first visit since their marriage in Newport News... Note: the "Mr. and Mrs. Rush Wray" here for visit were Uncle Rush and Aunt Gusie from Charlotte and not Rush Tracy. We are often asked!... Uncle Levi Buckner here to spend several months with the Jake Buckners... Add to our list of college students: Louise Jamerson to Mars Hill, Helen Threadgill to Carolina and Louise Profit to Berea.

Of interest: The announcement of the engagement of Annah Gray Hoover of Greensboro, Ky. to Francis Hennessee... Her picture was especially lovely! She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. I. J. Hoover and Francis is aviation student at Texas A & M. The wedding will take place in the fall. About the "Victory Windows" Pictures continue to come in and Bruce is arranging them as rapidly as possible. He may have to have inside gallery! It always puzzles us how any one has time to think up such things as the following! It was printed in the Danville, Va. paper recently, and we thought the school children would like to have a copy. Waitress: "Hawaii, gentlemen, you must be Hungary." Customer: "Yes, Siam, and we can't Rumania long either. Venice lunch ready?" Waitress: "I'll Russia a table. What'll you Havre?" Customer: "Anything at all, but can't Jamaica little speed." Waitress: "I don't think we can Fiji that fast, but Alaska." Customer: "Never mind asking anyone, and just put a Cuba sugar in our Java." Waitress: "Sweden it yourself. I'm only here to Servia." Customer: "Denmark our

(More About)

Capt. Ray Hilliard gotten a lot more supplies and men into that sector now and the boys don't face the heart breaking odds they faced when he reported for duty there.

When asked about his preference of war theaters in which to operate if he were given a preference, he replied, "I can't answer that, but I am proud to have served under General Douglas MacArthur."

Captain Hilliard grew up at Micaville and attended school there. He then enrolled at Brevard college and took private flying lessons while attending college. Immediately upon graduation, he entered the air corps and received his wings in December, 1941.

He was stationed at Morris field, Palm Beach, Fla., a short time before being ordered to the west coast from where he went to Australia by boat.

The young officer is unassigned at the present time, but expects orders in the near future which will assign him to some post in the United States at least for the time being.

NOTICE

There will be no reunion of the Olson Briggs' family this year, due to their patriotic feeling toward the war effort.

Six of the grandsons are now in service: Sgt. Glen Ray English, Sgt. Frank Ben Briggs, Sgt. Garvel Williams, Pvt. Troy English, Pvt. Arthur Taylor, Pvt. Harvey Rose.

bill and call the Bosphorus. I don't Bolivia you know who I am."

Waitress: "No, and I don't Caribbean."

Boss: "Samoa your wisecracks? What's got India? Do you think this arguing Alps-business?"

Customer: "Canada noise Spain in the neck. Abyssinia."

VEGETABLE SEED

A recent survey shows that the stock of vegetable seed on hand as of June 30 was 32 percent above the amount held at this same time last year, but the supply was below the average generally available at that date.

There are no marketing quotas on cotton this fall but the wise farmer will keep an accurate record of his ginnings and sales so as to have a history of his crop if some new Government program should be adopted in the future, caution agronomy specialists at State College.
